MAN IS BUT THE SUM OF HIS ANCESTORS - Emerson

Good Speed - 25.00
The growing stream of inquiries coming to the author from the descendants of Joshua Salisbury suggested the need for a current record which would provide basic genealogical information about the family and information as to just where each individual fits into the family tree. This interest in tracing forefathers seems to have increased in recent years as individuals have felt the need of information for compiling an acceptable family record.

It is hoped that this book will assist and stimulate even greater future activity among descendants of Joshua Salisbury and related families in keeping current, complete records and histories of their own families. It is also hoped that this will promote an increased desire in the heart of each to trace the genealogy of their ancestors and pool his or her efforts through the family organization.

This compilation is divided into three main sections as follows:

Biographical sketches of Joshua Salisbury, his wives and many of their descendants.

Pedigree charts of Joshua Salisbury, many of his descendants and related families.

Family group records of Joshua Salisbury, many of his descendants and related families, and as many of his ancestors as are available at this time.

All Personal Biographies or life sketches, except those of Joshua Salisbury and his wives which appear in Part One of the book, are arranged alphabetically under the name of the individual to whom the biography relates, in a manner similar to the arrangement followed in filing the family group records as outlined below.

Pedigree Charts are arranged in alphabetical order using the person shown as number 1 on each pedigree chart as the basis.

PREFACE

The arrangement of the Family Group Records is in alphabetical order, using the name of the husband on each record as a basis. They can be referred to easily by the natural cross-reference permitted by each family group record; i. e., on each page or record, reference is made to the preceding and the succeeding generation of both the husband and the wife listed on the form. Where the names of husbands on two or more sheets are the same, the records are arranged chronologically by date of birth, the earliest one appearing first. Where a man marries more than once, the group records are arranged in order of marriage, the record showing the first marriage appearing first in the book. Data relative to the woman's other marriage, if any, will be found on the family group records filed under the names of the respective husbands.

In addition to the foregoing, a complete index appears following page 822.

Now a word about the title of this book. Books of Remembrance are not new, they were compiled in the early part of the world's history and should be written to inspire and benefit yourself, your family and your posterity. One of the great contemporary genealogical scientists makes this observation: ¹

"In the beginning the Lord commanded the faithful to keep a book of remembrance, in a pure and perfect language. He himself gave them the pattern. As many as called upon God were divinely directed to write by the spirit of inspiration."

And a book of remembrance was kept, in the which was recorded, in the language of Adam, for it was given unto as many as called upon God to write by the spirit of inspiration; And by them their children were taught to read and write, having a language which was pure and undefiled.²

"Some generations later, during his powerful ministry, Enoch, (great grandfather of Noah), testified that they knew of the creation of man, and of their fathers during the intervening generations from Adam, and this knowledge was as a tower of strength to them, overthrowing any false teachings which had arisen by his day. Said he:

And death hath come upon our fathers; nevertheless we know them and cannot deny, and even the first of all we know, even Adam. *For a book of remembrance we have written among us, according to the pattern given by the finger of God; and it is given in our own language.*³

"From these statements we may conclude that we should write our Books of Remembrance in our own language, using our own words and our own natural style, but surely in the best language we can command, simple, graphic and convincing.... In them should be recorded not only things about ourselves but about our fathers and mothers of past generations, so that we may come to know them."

This the author has endeavored to do in "The Joshua Salisbury Family Book of Remembrance."

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The compiler is indebted to the many individuals who have submitted their family photos, records, and data used in this book. John E. Salisbury has been particularly helpful as has Orin F. Salisbury with their encouragement and cooperation.

The various publications authored by Elder Archibald F. Bennett and copyrighted by President Joseph Fielding Smith and the Genealogical Society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints were valuable aids in planning and developing this volume. Grateful appreciation is extended them for permission to use quotations from these writings and re-produce the copyrighted Family Group Record and Pedigree Chart forms used in this book.

Everett Thorpe, artist, who sketched the bust of Joshua Salisbury on the front cover and frontpiece, and Grant M. Hulet, artist and designer, who embellished the book with his drawings and lines, have my sincere appreciation.

My heartfelt thanks goes to my wife Grace Carn Leatham, Mrs. Rhoda Britt Leatham and Mrs. Janet Leatham Penman, all of whom did yeoman service in proof reading and typing the photocopy and my sister Edythe L. Duncan who helped in preparing the index, a most important part of a book of this kind.

Special mention should be made of the helpful suggestions of my Aunt Matilda (Tillie) Jane Gibbs Salisbury who many years ago, before her death, planted the desire and furnished the nucleus of information which inspired the ultimate compilation of this book.

To all who have assisted in any way, the author extends sincere appreciation.

BIOGRAPHIES OF JOSHUA SALISBURY
AND HIS WIVES

Joshua Salisbury

THE LIFE OF Joshua Salisbury

JOSHUA SALISBURY, one of the early pioneer settlers of Wellsville, Cache County, Utah and one of the pioneers of dry farming in Utah and the West, was born June 3, 1827 at Llanasa, Flintshire, North Wales.

This sturdy boy had a rich heritage from both his parents, Thomas and Sarah (Jones) Salisbury, and from his native land.

Cymru--Land of Brothers--is the name inhabitants of that country gave their land. Wales--Land of Strangers--is the name given by others to the country.

This land of rugged mountains, high moors and relatively few rich valleys is only a little more than 150 miles from north to south, but it is full of rich tradition. Love for independence, for music, for poetry and a desire for peace and good will, stand out prominently on the pages of its history. Romanticism, chivalry and nobles traditions of national unity are said to have inspired the Welsh to create the great legends of King Arthur and his Round Table. When the English finally subdued Wales in 1284, they obtained the supposed crown of Arthur.

Wales of that time was a land of hardy, song-loving, God-fearing people. It had long been a country which knew no beggars. Writes one historian: "Wales" by Owen M. Edwards, fellow, Lincoln College, Oxford, G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York. Page 123.

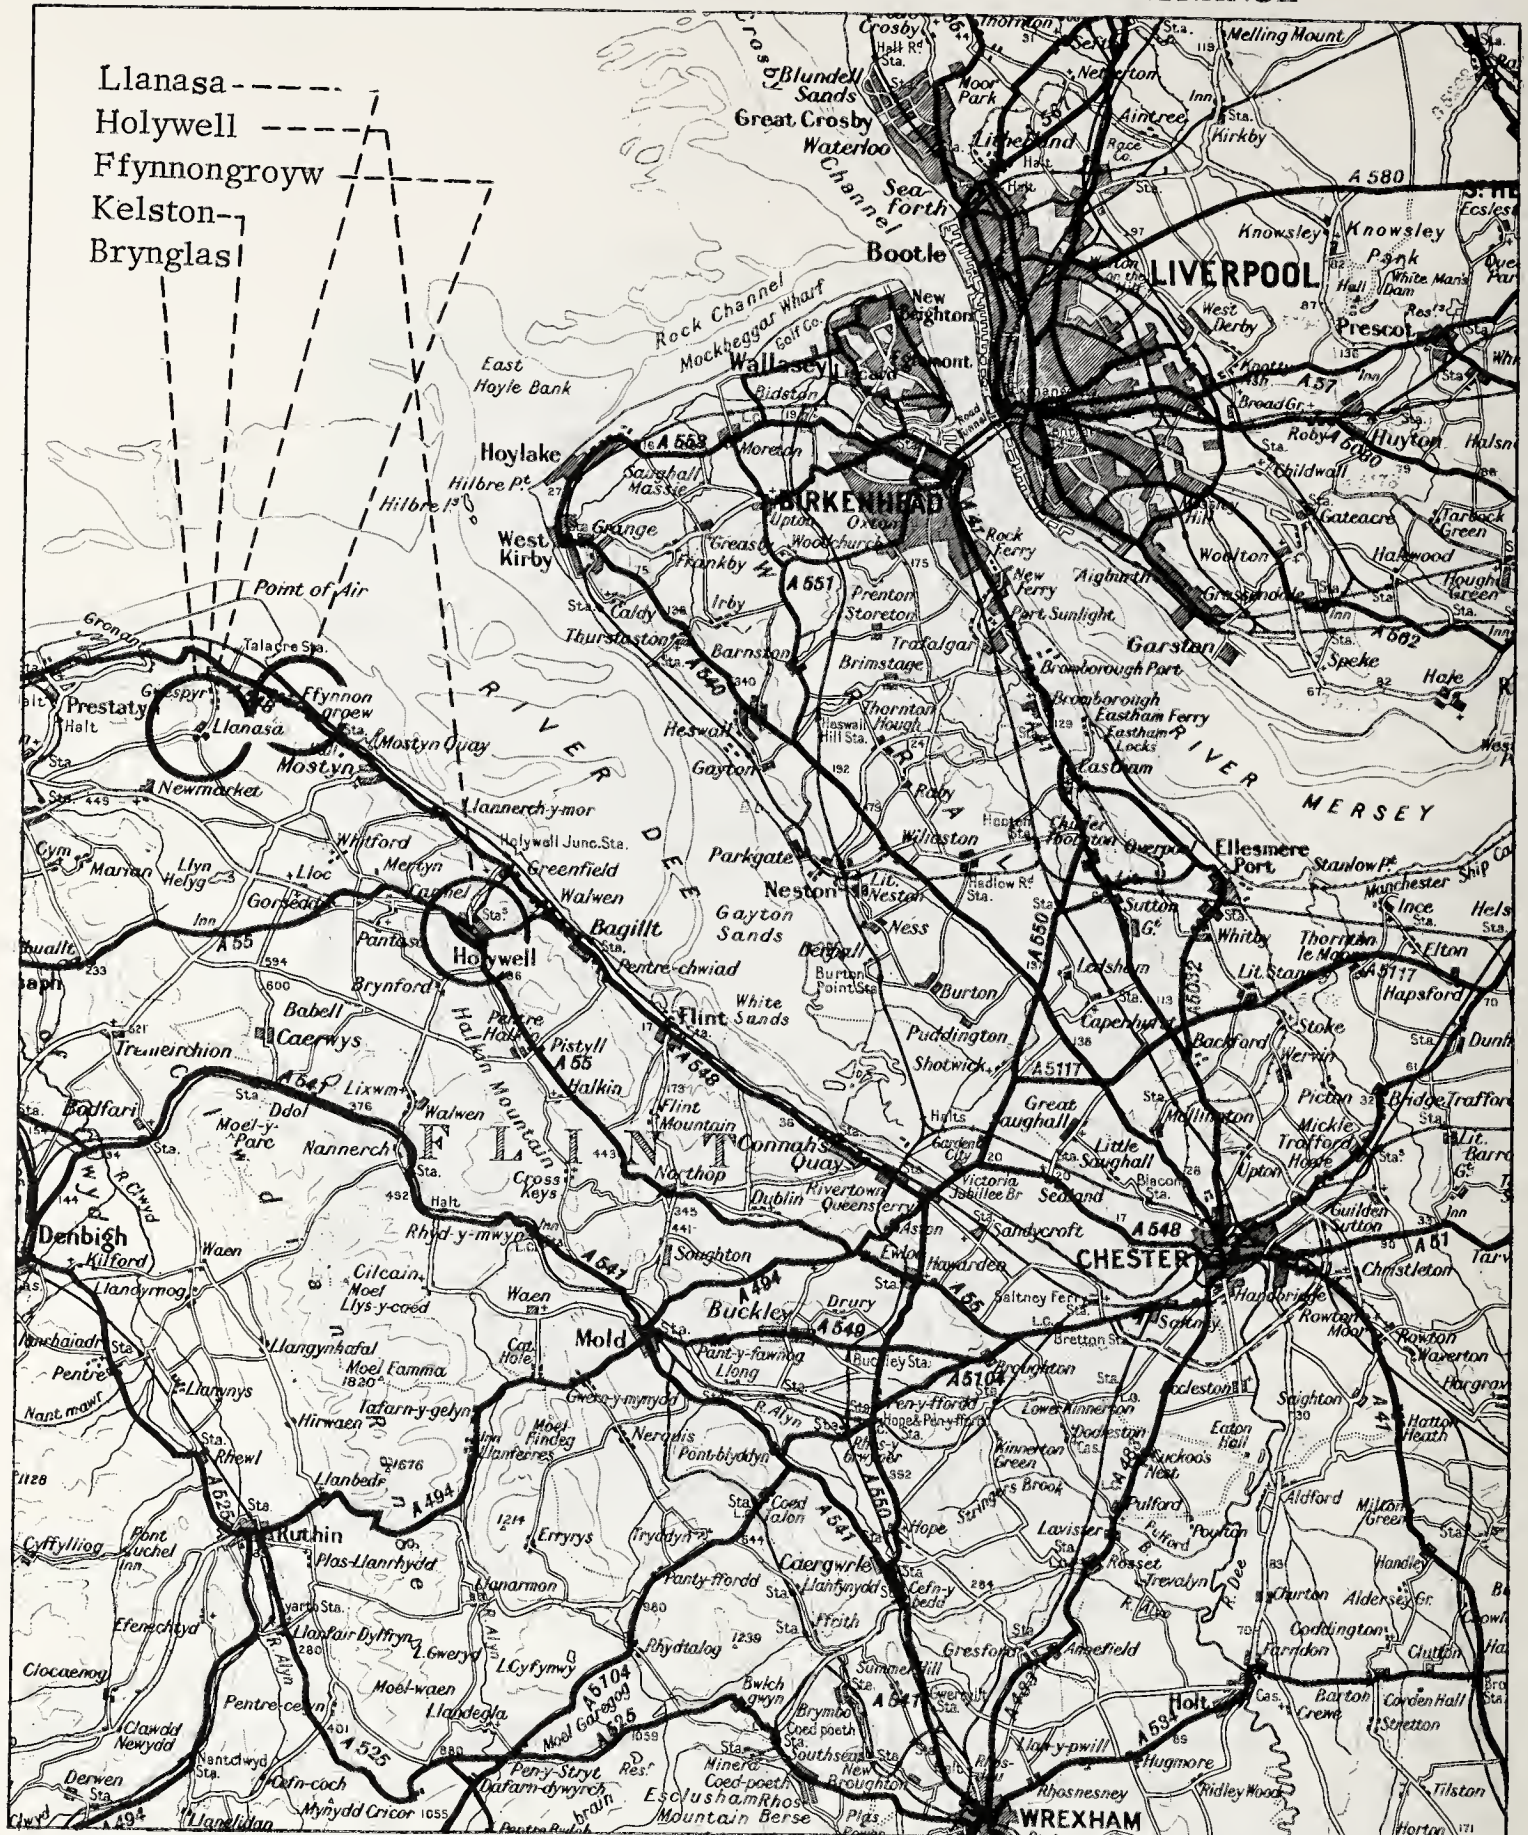

"The wayfarer lays his arms down at the door and enters as an honored guest. Water is offered. If he allows his feet to be washed, he means to stay over night; If he refuses, he wishes to partake of a meal only."

Flintshire, home of the Salisburys, has many hills rich in lead and iron. It lies along the west bank of the wide-mouthed River Dee and is not far from Birkenhead and Liverpool, England.

As a youth, Joshua learned both coal mining and stone masonry. When eighteen years old, he weighed 185 pounds, stood six feet tall and is said to have possessed the strength of two ordinary men.

In later life, he told truthfully, "I could pin to the ground, the shoulders of any one of my fellow workmen at the coal mine where I worked in Wales." He was fond of athletics and sports throughout his life. He took great interest in world championship boxing matches of his day.

He married (first) Martha Davies, a lovely Welsh girl from a fine family line in June 1850 at Llanassa, Wales. The ceremony was performed by their parish minister,

Map of Flintshire, Wales, showing Llanasa and the surrounding country-side where Joshua Salisbury and Martha Davies were born and reared the Reverend Thomas Parry. To them were born a son and a daughter, Ellis Davies Salisbury and Sarah Davies Salisbury. Ellis, born August 4, 1851 in Wales, married Alice Stoddard of Wellsville, Utah. He died in LaGrande, Oregon, February 1, 1915. Sarah, born May 14, 1854 in Wales, died in Wellsville, Utah, at the age of nineteen.

When he was twenty-five years of age, Joshua Salisbury was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on Christmas Day 1852. His mother's brother Joseph Jones, performed the ordinance.

Two years later, Joshua was ordained an Elder and worked zealously carrying the gospel to his friends and neighbors in Wales. Prejudice against the Church became strong. His fellow workmen at the coal mines ridiculed Joshua for his new religion. One of the miners was particularly vicious and persistent in his remarks. Joshua prophesied to the man that if he did not stop his attacks upon the Mormons that an accident would befall him. The man persisted in his bitter attacks. Soon after, the cable of the mine hoist in which he was riding, broke. In struggling to save his life, he tore his hands so badly that portions had to be amputated.

THE VILLAGE OF LLANASA WHERE JOSHUA SALISBURY WAS BORN. On the left is the Post Office and the road leading to the right of the picture leads past the Llanasa Parish Church where Joshua Salisbury and Martha Davies were married.

Joshua and his wife Martha, decided to go to America to join the main body of the Church. With their son and daughter they embarked for the New World in 1855.

Harriet Jones Fletcher, niece to the emigrating couple, gave a pen picture of the Salisbury family as they stopped in Birkenhead, England. She wrote the letter from Birkenhead, March 14, 1914 to her cousin Ellis Davies Salisbury. Excerpts follow:

"Our grandmother Davies had twins twice over. My mother, Mary, and Harriet were the elder ones and your mother, Martha, and Catherine were the younger pair. My mother, Mary Davies Jones, residing in Birkenhead at the time of your departure to America, had your mother (Martha) and you two little ones (Ellis and Sarah) to stay with her for a night or so to be near the boat. How well I, at eighteen, remember the event. I went down to the boat with the little group all weeping, to see you go away. Imagine her sister, your aunt Catherine, collapse at the boat side when her beloved twin sister was taken away with her lovely babies. You (Ellis) wept for the flowers and fields because Birkenhead, at the docks, was all bricks and back yards. 'Let me go back to Wales!' you said in Welsh. . . . My mother often talked in her broad Welsh brogue of her 'poor little curly headed nephew Ellis, who went to the 'Merica.'"

Soon after arriving in America, Joshua started westward with his family. While in Illinois his wife Martha became sick and died January 6, 1857 at St. Johns, Perry County.

After the death of Martha, Joshua married (second) Elizabeth Hoskin, daughter of James and Elizabeth (Hancock) Hoskin. His new wife not long before had passed through the harrowing experience of losing her first husband, Benjamin Hoskin, and also a set of twin babies.

She was born September 28, 1829 in the County of Cornwall, England.

Joshua and Elizabeth were married October 13, 1858 and immediately established a home. Joshua worked in the coal mines of Pennsylvania and by practicing thrift and frugality they managed to accumulate many of the supplies needed for their journey across the plains.

The spirit of gathering manifested itself irresistibly upon them. Joshua spent nearly every spare moment preparing. With his own hands he built a sturdy covered wagon and equipped it for the long trek across the plains to Zion.

Starting on April, 1860 they traveled unaccompanied to Florence (Winter Quarters), Nebraska, now a suburb of Omaha, where they arrived the latter part of May. They waited five weeks at Florence before a pioneer company was ready to start west. John Smith was appointed captain of their company.

Joshua's outfit included his wife and her three children, himself and his two children; their baby, Caroline; their covered wagon loaded with provisions and personal effects; a yoke of oxen to pull the load and a cow which furnished the milk needed to supplement their diet and from which they made butter.

Many exciting incidents took place on the journey. Once as Joshua was leading the company, the cattle began to stampede. He was alert and took hold of his oxen's horns, turning them and his wagon directly across the path of the oncoming cattle. This stopped the frightened cattle and averted what might have been a catastrophe.

While passing through Wyoming, some of the company ran short of food. Joshua and his wife shared their provisions with a family named Sewell, and with others. They had sufficient food to last themselves for the journey, but by sharing with others less fortunate, they exhausted their supply by the time they reached the Valley of the Great Salt Lake.

The company which pulled into the City of Salt Lake September 1, 1860, consisted of 359 people with 39 wagons.

Joshua and his family had traveled nearly 2,000 miles between April and September 1860 with their sturdy covered wagon drawn by oxen.

After attending Semi-Annual General Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, they pushed on undaunted to their new goal of Cache Valley. They settled at Wellsville, eighty miles north of Salt Lake City. This town had been founded September 15, 1856, by Peter Maughan and others at the request of President Brigham Translated this would therefore mean "The Ash Tree Cross" and was the first non-conformist chapel in the district. People came here and to the parish church at Llanasa from as far away as Ffynnongroyw (which means 'The Clear Well') $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles away and uphill. This chapel was built in 1829.

Young. They named the town in honor of President Daniel H. Wells, early mayor of Salt Lake City and counselor to President Young.

Joshua and his family, eight in all, lived first in a dugout in the old Wellsville fort. But he lost no time building a log house. He cut the timber himself and hauled it fifteen miles through snow in some places hip deep, then hewed the logs which he built into a home.

Later he built a stone residence which served his family for many years. This was the central gathering place for his children and their friends. He provided well for his large family and won the esteem of all who knew him.

To Joshua and Elizabeth Hoskin Salisbury were born eight sons and daughters, seven of whom have grown to maturity and honored their parents by their exemplary service to both Church and fellowmen.

Except for Caroline, who was born at Bowlesville, Gallatin County, Illinois, the sons and daughters all were born in Wellsville. (See family group record.)

In 1876 Joshua married (third) Letitia Mary Ann Hale (Williams) widow of Alfred Ellis Williams. She was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, March 24, 1851 and died February 17, 1888 in Wellsville. She was the daughter of Melhon and Margaret (Allen) Hale. (See family group record.)

Joshua was ordained to the office of a Seventy in the Priesthood in 1862 and a High Priest December 25, 1884.

He was imbued with the real pioneer spirit.

His outstanding accomplishment was introducing successful dry farming into Cache Valley and the West. He harvested 1500 bushels of wheat from his dry farm in 1873.

Dr. John A. Widtsoe, in a letter to this writer, said: "I knew your grandfather. Without question he was one of the pioneer dry farmers of the West."

The following article entitled "Dry Land Farming and Farmers." by James A. Leishman of Logan, Utah, was published on the front page of the Deseret Farmer (Vol. 1 Number 18) December 8, 1904. It describes Joshua Salisbury's achievements as follows:

DRY LAND FARMING AND FARMERS.

James A. Leishman Logan.

It may be interesting to the farming community and perhaps to the general public to know something of the circumstances that lead up to the successful raising of grain without irrigation in Cache county. At one of the annual visits of President Young to this valley, in the sixties, in speaking of the occupancy of the lands in this region, he stated that the time would come when the farmers who were then tilling the low lands would resort to the uplands, and tracts lying immediately under the mountains and foothills, and that grain would be raised upon them without irrigation. This declaration was considered by some of us as somewhat utopian, as the idea prevailed that no crop could be raised without irrigation in this country.

It transpired, however, that there were some persons present who believed what he said, especially in regard to dry farming. Mr. Joshua Salisbury of Wellsville, a Welshman by birth, was deeply impressed with President Young's statement, and he resolved to make the experiment, as soon as circumstances would permit. He, however, owned a quantity of land and water in the east field of Wellsville, sufficient for his maintenance, which laid him open to the adverse criticism of skeptics, in his advocacy of dry farming. They could see no propriety in him wishing to engage in a venture so befraught with apparent disaster and failure, as to undertake to raise grain without irrigation, but Mr. Salisbury was not the sort of a man to be sidetracked with the sneers and odium of men who had proved themselves to be less than his peers. A man such as he, who crossed the plains in 1860, enroute to Utah, driving 900 miles to Florence, and from that point to

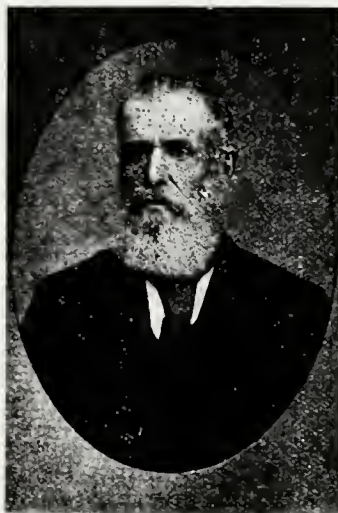

Utah in one season, with one wagon and one yoke of oxen, bringing his wife and several children, and all he possessed in that one wagon, showing a faith and courage seldom found among men, to undertake and accomplish such a journey with such an outfit, was not to be balked in carrying into effect that which he believed would be accomplished. About 1869 or 1870 when the public lands in Utah were made open to improve a dry one, many denouncing him as a fool and a fanatic. The first two or three years of his venture was failure, sure enough, but undaunted, he kept on. In the meantime, however, he raised sufficient for his bread and studied the causes of his failure, when he discovered, among other things, pertinent to this enterprise, that the due to oversowing. He had sowed too much to the acre, in sowing the lem of dry farming, and thus fulfilled the statement of President Young, that grain would be raised without water upon the upland and slopes of the foothills of this country.

Mr. Salisbury was enough of a political economist to see the vast benefits that would accrue to the country by dry farming, making it possible for farmers to put in a large acreage of grain; because the extent of intended irrigated crops were regulated by the amount that one person, or even more, could irrigate, and the length of time he was entitled to use the water; the great labor, drudgery and expense incident to irrigation would be entirely eliminated from grain raising on dry lands. The results of this process is sufficient answer to the rectitude of the visions and ideals of Mr. Salisbury in regard to it, and is an excellent exhibition of his abiding faith in the words of President Young, and a lasting rebuke to those who upbraided the former for the persistency which he manifested in carrying into effect an enterprise that has blessed the country.

Not only has Mr. Salisbury excelled in this matter, for in many other directions he is entitled to favorable mention as a gardener, in the propagation of choice garden seeds, some of which were exhibited at the World's Fair at Chicago, carrying off a number of valuable prizes. All in all, his name will go down to posterity as a benefactor to his race. He is now in his 78th year, hale and hearty, still in the possession of those indomitable traits that have led him on to success in all his undertakings, and happy in the thought that he has proved himself not to be the idle dreamer that many thought him to be, and still happier that they, and many others, have been blessed and benefitted by his success and experiments in the matter in question.

to entry, Mr. Salisbury homesteaded 80 acres of land lying 3 or 4 miles south of the City of Wellsville, for the purpose of dry farming there being no water accessible for irrigation in its vicinity, and in the breaking up of a quantity of their homestead and making other improvements he sold his land in the east field to obtain means to meet the expenses incident thereto.

This latter act was regarded as the climax of his folly, in selling his watered farm to obtain means same quantity of seed upon dry land as he did on land to be irrigated, producing more plants than the moisture of the soil was capable of sustaining; thick sowing produced too many plants, which absorbed the moisture too soon, and in the absence of rain the plants burned up. With a renewed energy and hope he prosecuted his undertaking, rectifying his mistakes, and in the year 1875 he raised an abundant crop of excellent wheat without water. He had solved the prob-

He possessed a rare sense of Welsh humor which made him a welcomed guest in any group.

He was praised for his role in developing dry land farming at the second annual Trans-Missouri Dry Farm Congress held January 22-25, 1908 in Salt Lake City. In attendance were Governor B. B. Brooks of Wyoming, president of the Congress; Governor George Curry of New Mexico; John Dern, John Smith, Dr. John A. Widtsoe and many others.

Excerpts from a stenographic report of the Congress follows:

"CHAIRMAN DERN: Professor Merrill referred to Joshua Salisbury. I am pleased to say that the gentleman is here, looking well and hearty, looking just as well as he used to. He is one of the pioneers, coming here in the sixties. He has followed to a certain extent, dry land farming, and has had a considerable experience in that line. Some good friends referred to him some years ago, and that is why this picture was framed. As the gentleman has prospered under dry farming, I just wanted to make mention that he is one of the many that is still growing and prospering, even at an old age, under dry land farming.

"CHAIRMAN DERN: Gentlemen of the convention, I take very great pleasure in introducing to you, Mr. Joshua Salisbury, the pioneer of dry farming in Utah. (Long applause.)

"MR. JOSHUA SALISBURY, of Utah: Gentlemen: Mr. Merrill was the one to push me up to advertise the picture in this frame, and the one to scold me because I left it so long without publishing it to the public. Well, I told my reason to him this way:

GWESPYR QUARRY---Joshua Salisbury learned the stone masonry trade here when he was a young man. It is about one mile from Llanasa, Wales. It has been abandoned for the past number of years.

THE POINT-OF-AYR COLLIERY about two miles from Llanasa, Wales. Picture was taken from Picton looking towards the Colliery. Some of the Salisbury's were described in the parish records as being miners and this is one of the coal mines where they worked. (1840-60). This mine goes under the sea and is also only about two miles from Ffinngroyw.

I am not an educated man; I did not get any schooling to amount to anything. 'Well, Mr. Salisbury,' he says, 'you have the best school of all; we get a theory from such men as you old scholars; you have the practical part of education.' (applause.) Well, after I started--I came here in the early sixties--I traveled two thousand miles from the Ohio River to Wellsville, Cache County, with one yoke of cattle, which Mr. Lieshman mentioned in this article in The Deseret Farmer. I crossed this farm land in '61 to hunt for my cattle, and I looked at the land and examined it; what kind of vegetation was grown upon it. I found out that if this vegetation grew on the land, wheat would grow, and other products, and better! I watched carefully for the wheat to come to market. I went right away and entered the land, using my franchise to obtain it. I worked around it back and forward till I got ready to grow corn, and, before I started growing it President Young used to come up yonder, two or three times a year, with his associates, and he began to talk about it and he said plainly and in a clear language, 'This is the best land you have at the foot of these mountains to grow grain!' (applause). Well, I went to work. I tell you I didn't get any credit nor sympathy from any man; and I was a "fool and a fanatic." (laughter.) I have met hundreds, even thousands of fools and fanatics since then. (laughter.) To go on a little more; I began to plow the land and hired teams. Mr. Leishman is one of the best farmers I believe in Utah, or any other place, I hired him, in Wellsville, yonder, to plow the land for me.

"He plowed, I believe, either ten or twelve acres, deep and good, with two yoke of cattle. Well, my grain crop failed, all but a very little, through overseeding the ground, and I watched closely the cause of it. One half of the wheat came before the other half grew. I realized my bread that year was dependent upon that crop, because in the fall I sold my other farm land yonder with water on it. One of my best friends said I was a fool to sell my land with water and go on a dry farm. That is the character I have. (Laughter.) In a business meeting yonder, Bishop Maughan said: 'Brother Salisbury, I am afraid you will have to wear a good many patches on your overalls.' (Laughter.) 'Well, 'I said, 'I am not ashamed of that, provided I have a wife who can put a workman like patch on my pants!' (Applause.) 'I tried to get that kind of a woman to make my patches neat.' (Laughter.) The next thing was for me to provide myself with proper machinery to gather the grain. I went to brother Harold, here, and I bought a self rake to cut the wheat. First--I am ahead of my story--with a cropper, and then I found out the self rake was an improvement and I got one from him--and paid for it, (laughter,) and the third crop I grew a grand harvest of grain. There was a man named John Bankhead--the biggest farmer in Cache County, Utah, and I was working on the Logan Temple at the time, stone-cutting there, when he went by on his horse, which he used to do often to hunt the cattle and horses, and he turned to my sons--I don't know if he is here now, but he was here yesterday--and said, 'Boys, what are you going to do with this wheat?' They said, 'Going to sow it!' He said, 'Better take these sacks of wheat and empty them in the big creek yonder!' He thought it was folly for us to sow it. Well, John Bankhead went away and the next fall about harvest he was going by on his horse again. There was a beautiful crop of wheat and he turned to them and said, 'Well, boys, I am ashamed to show my face to you for saying anything; I never made myself a bigger fool in my life than I did then.' (Laughter.) The machines threshed 1,500 bushels of wheat for me.

MOSTYN, WALES---here again we see the villages of this district. One of our Salisbury ancestors came from this place. Notice the church right center where a renowned minister by the name of William Rees was once pastor (1831-1836). Mostyn is famous for its iron works

MOSTYN IRON WORKS today and for the last century.

"After I had the self rake and the self binder, I purchased one of the--Champion, and then after that, other kinds of machinery. The header came and my son Joseph bought one of them and he has one now.

"Well, now, in relation to one thing, you have all talked of the best methods to grow grain. Not one of you have mentioned one thing--lucerne. Lucerne is a benefit to the land. I have sunk down as much as nine feet and found lucerne roots, and the roots will rot and be full of holes, and the sun will draw the moisture from the ground to the top of the land. (applause.) And I didn't state, there are articles from the garden. One cauliflower which I grew weighed 14 pounds 8 ounces. There were two alike, one of them weighing a little less than the largest. Mr. Sanborn, principal of the Utah State Agricultural School took the big cauliflower to the Utah State Fair and then between Christmas and New Year's Day he sent his son to my house and he dined with me. He took a portion of my seeds and everything and shipped them to the World's Fair at Chicago. Well, I was awarded a grand diploma and a gold medal worth a hundred dollars. I have them in my house now. (applause.) (See illustrations.)

"Well, my brothers and fellow workers on the earth, go on, and the Lord bless you!

"I see Brother Farrell is here today. I say that a man that grows 20,000 bushels of grain is a Joseph in Egypt. Even Theodore Roosevelt has put in his message quite a stress on the people to grow wheat. Is it not the life of the world? Joseph when he went into Egypt, what did he get from the King Pharaoh? He got a gold medal or chain! I tell you, Brother Farrell, for the amount of grain you grow you ought to have a diamond ring with a gold chain. (Applause.)

"Well, go on my fellow men and improve all you can in raising wheat and everything else that is for the benefit of man. As one man here talked in relation to, 'how lazy man is, good for nothing only to devour what a laboring man has labored to raise. '" (Long applause.)

Joshua Salisbury's accomplishments and labors were many. He cut the stone for and built many of the houses and buildings in Cache Valley. He helped for two years as a stone cutter and stone setter and pointer on the Logan Temple. His skill as a quarryman was unexcelled. He also helped, in his old age, in the erection of the Wellsville, Tabernacle.

He was full of faith. Many of the saints who were sick and afflicted called upon him in his capacity as an Elder of the Church to administer to them in their sickness. Through the prayer of faith and the blessings of the Lord he was instrumental in bringing comfort and peace and in many cases, health and strength to many. He proved himself to be a man without guile. The spirit of the Gospel radiated from him always. He was devoted and faithful to the Church and to his Father in Heaven.

His periodic visits in later life to attend the Semi-Annual Conferences of the Church were happy events to his children and grandchildren who lived in Salt Lake City. His long, white beard, his tall and well-proportioned physique, his patriarchal and kindly look and manner were inspiring to his grandchildren as they sat on his knee and listened to him talk in his Welsh brogue and whistling accent.

THE MAIN STREET OF THE TOWN OF HOLYWELL, WALES----note the town hall on the left. It was the market town of the district during the past century and is only a short distance from Llanasa.

NEWMARKET CHURCH--(in Welsh the TRELAWNYD CHURCH)---south of Llanasa, Wales, about one and one half miles. This is the parish church. Some of the Salisbury's came from this place.

Three of his sons have served as ward bishops and scores of his descendants have filled honorable missions for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. They have served in England, Wales, Scotland, France, Switzerland, Germany, Western States, Eastern States, Arizona, Southern States and East Central States, etc., etc.

Five of his grandsons served in the Armed Forces during World War I, Joshua Wesley Leatham, LeRoy Gibbs Salisbury, Joseph Cooper, Lester Cooper and Norman Salisbury. All five went to France and served for the cause of freedom.

Joshua Salisbury suffered much for the sake of truth. He enjoyed a colorful, eventful, and busy life. He was honest, charitable, unassuming, humble and helpful.

He died in his 87th year, May 6, 1913 at Wellsville, Utah, beloved to all who knew him.

Following are two newspaper articles printed in the Deseret News at the time of his death:

"Logan, May 7, 1913----Joshua Salisbury, a pioneer of Cache Valley died at his home last night in Wellsville, of infirmities incident to old age. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon, May 8, 1913 in the Wellsville Tabernacle at 2 PM.

"Mr. Salisbury was born in Wales, June 3, 1827. He came to Utah in 1860 and settled in Wellsville. It is claimed that Joshua Salisbury was the first man to practice dry farming in Utah. In 1870 he planted a field on the southeast slope of Cache Valley in wheat and depended on the rain for moisture to mature the crop. An unsuccessful outcome did not discourage this intrepid pioneer and he planted the next season.

For five years he experimented, plowing, cultivating and conserving the moisture until his efforts were rewarded in 1875, when he harvested over 1,500 bushels of wheat. For a number of years Mr. Salisbury has been enjoying the fruits of his labors and of his life of earnest toil. He was the father of 13 children, ten of whom and his widow survive him."

Deseret News of May 17, 1913----"Wellsville, May 15, 1913-- The funeral held in the Wellsville Tabernacle for Joshua Salisbury May 8, 1913, presided over by Bishop Frank Gunnell was largely attended and impressive. This community has lost, in the death of Joshua Salisbury, a good citizen and a faithful Latter-Day Saint. The funeral was profuse with floral offerings which were beautiful. The speakers dwelt on the high character of the deceased. Mr. Salisbury was an industrious man, earnest in all that he undertook; sober in life and honest. The opening prayer was offered by Elder John Wyatt. The speakers were: Bishop Gunnell; William H. Maughan; John Glenn; Alex Spence and Thomas Leishman, all of Wellsville; Ellis Salisbury of LeGrande, Oregon; A. M. Buchanan of Salt Lake City and S. B. Mitten of Logan. The benediction was pronounced by John C. Benchley and the dedicatory prayer at the graveside was by Joseph B. Woodward. Interment was in the Wellsville Cemetery. His death which occurred on the 6th was due to general debility as a result of old age. He was employed for two years on the Logan L. D. S. Temple as a stone mason and contributed liberally for the erection of the building.

"He leaves a widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Hoskin Salisbury, who is 84 years of age and ten children as follows: Ellis D. Salisbury of LeGrande, Oregon; Hyrum Hoskin Salisbury of Baker, Oregon; Joseph Hoskin Salisbury of Logan; Mrs. A. M. Buchanan and Mrs. William Leatham of Salt Lake City; Mrs. Elizabeth Tarbet of Logan; Mrs. Eliza Cooper and Mrs. Joseph M. Maughan of Wellsville; Joshua Edwin Salisbury of Salt Lake City and David Hale Salisbury of Wellsville. He also leaves fifty-two grandchildren and fifteen great grandchildren."

Legacy

No legacy of land was his,
 No vast estate, nor gold;
 Nor this, some famous ancestor
 Of whom proud tales were told.
 And, yet, some sire bequeathed him gifts
 Beyond all counterpart—
 The seeing eye, the hearing ear,
 The understanding heart.

TWO FAITH-PROMOTING STORIES IN THE LIFE OF JOSHUA SALISBURY

Utah Pioneer who settled in Wellsville, Cache County in 1860.

As related by his son, Joshua Edwin Salisbury

Building the Logan Temple beginning in September, 1877 was the setting of one faith-promoting incident in the life of Joshua Salisbury.

Construction of this house of the Lord was a work of love and a test of faith. President Brigham Young, speaking to the people at services May 17, 1877 when the site was dedicated, said:

"... We require the brethren and sisters to go with their might and erect this temple; and from the architect to the boy who carries the drinking water to the men that work on the building, we wish them to understand that wages are entirely out of the question. We are going to build a House for ourselves and we shall expect the brethren and sisters, neighborhood after neighborhood, ward after ward, to turn out their proportion of men to come here and labor as they shall be notified by the proper authorities.

"This may be called a temporal work, but it pertains to the salvation of ourselves as well as our friends who have passed behind the veil, and also the generations who are to come after us. We can carry this temple forward with our labor without any burden to ourselves if our hearts are in the work and we will be blessed abundantly in doing so. We will be better off in our temporal affairs when it is completed than when we commenced, and than we would be if we did not build it. The time we enjoy is the Lord's but we have permission to direct its use according to our pleasure. . . ."

Joshua Salisbury was at work cutting stone for the temple one day when John Knowles, one of the workers, fell from the temple wall to the rocks below. His fellow workers rushed down and picked up his dead body, carried it into the office and laid it on a couch.

This is the testimony Joshua Salisbury bore about two years later:

He was attending stake conference in the Logan Tabernacle, which was filled to overflowing. The speaker could hardly be heard. Joshua Salisbury stood up and in a loud, shrill voice said, "Brethren, I have come ten miles this morning to hear the servants of the Lord tell me what my duties are. I have not heard one word the speaker has said. Speak up if you want us to hear!"

After the meeting a man sitting in the center section some five or six rows behind Joshua Salisbury hurriedly climbed over the benches to get to Brother Salisbury's side before he got lost in the crowd. This man had recognized him when he stood up to ask the speaker to talk louder during the meeting.

"Brother Salisbury, do you know who I am?" the man asked.

"Your face is familiar, but I can't place you," Joshua Salisbury replied.

The man then said, "My name is John Knowles. I'm the man who fell off the Logan Temple. I want to tell you that my spirit will never be more free from my body when the Lord calls me home than it was that day. I could see with my spirit eyes my dead body lying there on the rocks. I could hear every word that was said. When my dead body was carried into the construction office and laid on the couch, Brother John Parry, who had charge of the construction, asked one of the men to go and get Brother Salisbury. 'We will administer to him and send him home,' " Brother Parry said.

Brother Knowles continued: "I saw you, Brother Salisbury, fully a half block away, coming up the path from the place where you had been cutting stone for the temple. As you walked, you brushed the stone dust off your sleeves and trousers. You came into the office, poured some water out of the pitcher into the basin, washed your face and hands, then combed your hair and whiskers.

"Then Brother Parry said, 'I will anoint him.' After the anointing, he said, 'Now, Brother Salisbury, you seal the anointing.'

"Brother Salisbury, when you said in your prayer, 'In the name of Israel's God, we command you to be made whole!' I opened my eyes. After it was all over, they put me in a buggy and took me home. I have testified to hundreds of people as to how I was brought back to life through the administration of the Priesthood of God."

The second incident is as follows:

In Wellsville there was a family named Darley that had a son who was about forty-five years old. This son on this occasion was possessed of evil spirits. He held the office of Seventy in the Melchizedek Priesthood.

Members of his Seventy's Quorum visited with him very often in his home, which was about two miles out of the center of town. On one of these visits, the brethren found that the man had become violent and when they tried to subdue him he knocked them right and left as easily as if they were little children, even though he was of small build and they were larger than he.

The man's father had been studying the scriptures a great deal and had come to realize that evil spirits could be cast out only through fasting and prayer. So he asked Brothers Robert Baxter and Joshua Salisbury to fast and pray with him. This they did for three days and three nights. During this time not a morsel of food nor a drop of water passed their lips and they met together often to pray.

On Sunday morning they went to administer to the unfortunate man. When they arrived at his home, they found members of the Seventy's Quorum were already there. The Seventies were about to administer to the man, but decided to wait when they saw Brothers Darley, Baxter and Salisbury approaching.

They then administered to him, all the brethren joining the circle. But nothing happened. They decided to wait ten or fifteen minutes before administering again. During this interval the man who was possessed sat down on Brother Salisbury's lap and played with his whiskers.

They administered to him a second time, with one of the Seventies being mouth. Again the evil spirits still controlled him.

Then the elder Brother Darley said, "Brother Salisbury, you take over and do as you see fit!"

Brother Salisbury went into the kitchen and asked the man's wife to bring a basin of water and a clean towel, which she did.

Brother Salisbury addressed the group, as follows: "Brethren, I am going to wash my hands in this clean water, signifying before God, angels and men, that my hands are clean and my heart is pure. I would like each of you to do the same. If you cannot, I ask you to leave the house!"

At once the remaining brethren proceeded to administer. Brother Baxter anointed and Brother Salisbury sealed the anointing. All who were present testified later that they could hear evil spirits howling and leaving the man's body and the home.

The man was freed from the evil spirits and lived many years after, enjoying health and happiness.

Joshua Salisbury believed God's word recorded in the scriptures. Read St. Mark 9:14-29.

A GOOD MAN

A good man never dies--
In worthy deed and prayer,
And helpful hands, and honest eyes,
If smiles or tears be there;
Who lives for you and me--
Lives for the world he tries
To help--he lives eternally,
A good man never dies.

Who lives to bravely take
His share of toil and stress,
And, for his weaker fellows' sake
Makes every burden less--
He may, at last, seem worn--
Lie fallen--hands and eyes Folded--yet, though we mourn and mourn,
A good man never dies.

THE LIFE OF
Martha (Davies) Salisbury

SALISBURY, MARTHA DAVIES. "Llanasa, or Llanasaph, a parish in the county of Flint, North Wales, six and a half miles (NW by W) from Holywell, containing 2,373 inhabitants, comprising about 7,000 acres of land with the highest elevation being some 700 feet above sea level," is the way this homeland and birthplace of Martha Davies was described by Samuel Lewis in his Topographical Dictionary of Wales, published in 1838.

It was here that Martha Davies and her twin sister Catherine were born to John Davies and Ellinor (Ellin) Jones and on the 20th day of March 1825 were christened in the Llanasa Parish Church. They were the second set of twins born to their parents who were ultimately the parents of 14 children in all. The family lived at "Byrn Glas", a farmhouse in the village.

Martha's mother, Ellinor Jones Davies had been well educated and served as the letter writer in both English and Welsh for many people in the area who were not so fortunate as to know how to write. Ellinor was the daughter of a gentleman farmer and in her youth was sent 14 miles on horseback to attend daily elementary school in Chester, England.

LLANASA PARISH CHURCH---where many of the Salisbury and Davies family were christened and married. It is in the center of the village of Llanasa, Wales. Note the Village Inn to the left of the picture.

GENERAL VIEW OF LLANASA, WALES. This is the village of Llanasa and it can be seen that it is but a hamlet. There are a number of farms in the surrounding area. Note the church to the right and the building on the hill in the distance. That is the Groes Chapel. Note also the automobile passing through the center of the village near the Post Office.

The village of Llanasa, in the Parish of Llanasa, is situated in a pleasant valley at the extremity of the county of Flint, on the South Western shore of the Estuary of the Dee, near its influx into the Irish Sea. The vicinity was picturesquely adorned in that early time with numerous genteel residences, amongst the most remarkable of which was described by a writer in 1838 as "GYRN, seat of John Douglas, Esq., a handsome building of modern erection, in the castellated style of English architecture and having four lofty and elegant towers; it occupies an elevated situation, commanding a beautiful and varied prospect of the Estuaries of the Dee and Mersey Rivers, with their respective shores, the HILLBRE ISLANDS and the Irish Sea. Its gallery of paintings containing many of the finest productions of the Italian and Flemish masters and ranks among the most splendid and valuable of modern (1838) collections."

The area comprising Llanasa Parish was at that early time noted for the abundance of its minerals, lead mines, calamine, coal and freestone quarries. The Crown owned the lead mines. The whole county of Flint had a population of only 60,012 in 1831. It was in this environment that Martha Davies and Joshua Salisbury, the man she married grew to maturity.

On June 1, 1850 Martha was taken by her fiance, to the Llanasa Parish Church where she pledged her troth and was married to Joshua Salisbury by the Rev. Thomas Parry, Vicar of the parish church. It was traditionally believed and freely stated by the family that Martha Davies was the most beautiful girl in North Wales.

The young couple later joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints whose missionaries had come to Wales to preach the restored gospel of Jesus Christ. Martha and Joshua soon were being unduly persecuted because of their religion by those who were under the influence of the Adversary, as were the Saints who joined the Church of Jesus Christ during his ministry in the Meridian of time.

Road map showing the little towns of Llanasa, Holywell, Bodfari and surrounding country in North Wales, where Joshua Salisbury and Martha Davies were born and reared.

Martha became the mother of two children while still in Wales, viz: Ellis Salisbury born in 1851 and Sarah Salisbury born in 1854. (see family group record).

The spirit of gathering with the body of the Church in the land of Zion (America-Salt Lake City, Utah), grew upon Martha and her husband and about the year 1855 they decided to leave their home in Wales and embark for the United States of America. For years they had saved thier money to be able to take this journey.

Their ship would sail from Liverpool and Martha had a married sister named Mary Davies Jones, who was then living in Brook Street, Birkenhead, England and at whose home Martha, her husband and two small children, Ellis and Sarah stayed for a day or two prior to boarding the ship and embarking for America. (see letter on page 167).

Arriving in America, Martha with her husband and children started West, but stopped in Pennsylvania and surrounding states where Joshua worked in the coal mines to earn money with which to outfit and provide the family for their intended long trek across the "Western Plains" to the valley of the Great Salt Lake in order to be with President Brigham young and the body of the membership of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter -Day Saints.

FFYNNONGROYW---Here we see the the main street of this village. Actually it is a village with its houses in the main built on both sides of the main street. It is really a comparatively new village. The oldest chapel here is only about 100 years old. The Episcopal Church here is only 76 years old. In the times of our Salisbury and Davies Family Llanasa Parish Church was the one everyone attended.

GWESPYR VILLAGE---with the Wesleyan Chapel on the left hand side. Far in the distance is the township of Pictou. Each parish was divided up into townships. Llanasa Parish consisted of: Kelston (which included the center of the village of Llanasa); Pictou; Arton; Ffynngroyw; Talaere and Trelogan.

While yet in Illinois, Martha became ill and died January 6, 1857 at St. Johns, Perry County, Illinois. This was a great and sad loss for her husband and children, who were bereaved and left motherless.

Joshua, Martha's widower husband, later married Elizabeth Hoskin, who took the two small children, Ellis and Sarah and reared them like and with her own family. They crossed the Great American Plains to Utah as members of the John Smith's Company, arriving in Salt Lake City on September 1, 1860 and subsequently settling in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah where Ellis and Sarah grew to maturity, participating in all of the pioneer experiences and hardships incident to such a life.

Just before her 19th birthday, Sarah contracted typhoid fever and died at Wellsville, Utah. Ellis at that time the only living child of Martha, married Alice Sophia Stoddard and lived most of his life in Utah, Arizona and Oregon, rearing a large family, bringing credit and honor to his mother, his State, his Nation and his native Wales.

"Records are the footprints of mankind across the sands of time."

Elizabeth (Hoskin) Salisbury

THE LIFE OF

1166983

ELIZABETH HOSKIN SALISBURY, who was to become the wife of Joshua Salisbury, was born September 28, 1829 in sunny southern England, a daughter of James and Elizabeth (Hancock) Hoskin.

The County of Cornwall, in which she was born, lies at the tip of the peninsula jutting out into the ocean at the extreme southwest of the island of Great Britain. It is south of Wales.

Her maternal grandfather, John Hancock, was engineer of one of the earliest steam locomotives in the world. In 1812 he was at the throttle of the first train between Plymouth and London. Her mother, only twelve years old at the time, rode in the engine cab as a guest of honor.

Her father James was a blacksmith and her mother was an excellent housekeeper. While she was still a young girl, her father died. Shortly after she sought employment and obtained work as a nurse girl for a well-to-do English Family. During her services with this and other families, she learned many valuable lessons about housekeeping and cooking. She seemed always to be successful in pleasing her employers.

On August 25, 1848, at the age of eighteen, Elizabeth and her first husband, Benjamin Hoskin, who was also her distant cousin, left their native land of England and embarked for America in quest of greater opportunities and financial independence.

They settled first in the state of Connecticut and later moved to Pennsylvania, locating at Minersville, where her husband went to work in the coal mines. In 1856 he was injured while at work. After four weeks of suffering he died. This was in the month of August. He was buried at Minersville, Pennsylvania with the Odd Fellows Lodge taking charge of the services. This good group of men also cared for Elizabeth, now a widow with three children and the stork on the way with another which turned out to be twin girls. Members of the Odd Fellows Lodge saw that her washing was taken care of and also sent a nurse to care for her in her confinement and to care for the three children. She gave the names, Elizabeth Ann and Melinda, to the new twin babies. The older three children were: Mary, Benjamin and William Henry Hoskin.

The wounds caused by the death of her husband hardly were healed when her newly born twin babies were stricken with spotted fever and died at the age of six months.

In telling the story she said: "after the first girl died, a friend by the name of Joshua Salisbury went to get a coffin in which to bury her. While he was gone, the other little girl passed away too, making it necessary for him to return and exchange it for a double casket. Thus they were buried together". This left Elizabeth with three fatherless children. She soon thereafter went into the retail store business, operating a small candy store to earn a livelihood for herself and children.

Her friend Joshua Salisbury at that time was a widower with two small children, Ellis and Sarah Salisbury. Their mother, Martha Davies Salisbury had passed away on her way to Zion from North Wales. Joshua Salisbury's children sorely needed a mother's care and Elizabeth's family needed the protection and guidance of a father. They were married October 13, 1858.

Elizabeth had attended services in nearly all of the Christian churches in England. None of them fully satisfied her truth-loving soul. During her sorrow and bereavements she heard much of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. She prayed to her Heavenly Father to know whether or not she should join the church and to know it it was the true Church. While in the act of supplicating the Lord, she said: "I heard a voice like the rushing of great winds saying, 'Be not troubled, all is well' ". This gave her the comfort and assurance of knowing the truth. She was baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints on August 15, 1858 and confirmed shortly thereafter.

Her testimony of the gospel continued to grow until she could stand erect amongst those with whom she mingled and testify that God lives, that Joseph Smith was and is a true prophet of God and that 'Mormonism', so-called, is the true Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ restored to the earth again in these the latter days.

The spirit of gathering with the body of the Church in Utah manifested itself upon her and Joshua and he spent nearly every spare moment preparing. He built a sturdy covered wagon and equipped it ready for the long trek to the Valley of the Great Salt Lake. Elizabeth was not one whit less industrious in her preparations.

A baby girl was born to them. This child named Caroline was only eight months old in April 1860 when they started their long journey westward. They traveled alone with out other company from the Ohio River to Florence, Nebraska where they arrived the latter part of May.

THE OVERLAND TRAIL

They waited there five weeks for a pioneer company to be organized. John Smith was made captain of the group and the journey to Utah began. With Elizabeth and her husband were her own three children, his two children and their baby, Caroline. Two faithful oxen pulled the heavily laden covered wagon. A milk cow trailed behind the wagon. By hanging a bucket of cream on the back end of the wagon in the morning, by evening they would have a lump of butter formed by the churning of the heavy wagon over the rough trail.

Elizabeth walked nearly the entire distance across the plains and carried her baby most of the way. There were other women in the company who did the same.

They experienced many exciting incidents on the trip. Once when her husband was leading the pioneer company, the cattle began to stampede. He seized the horns of his own two oxen and turned them into the direct path of the oncoming cattle, preventing a catastrophe.

After making camp one night on the journey from Pennsylvania to Florence, Nebraska Elizabeth was cooking some food for the next days meal. Her husband and children had gone to bed. A rough-looking man came and sat by the camp fire intent on evil. She called to her husband. With loaded gun in hand, he raised the wagon cover and enquired where the uncouth visitor was going to stay. "Here!" he replied. "No, you are not! Get out of here right quick or I'll see that you do!" her husband ordered. The ruffian then left quickly with no further trouble.

Little Caroline learned to walk between the end-gate of the wagon and a big box toward the front-end of the load, while crossing the plains.

On one occasion soon after joining the pioneer company, their cattle strayed away. Two days were spent finding them. Many times upon awakening early in the morning and looking out of their covered wagon they could see camps of Indians close by and some of the Indians sneaking through the grass.

While passing through Wyoming, Captain John Smith asked Elizabeth and Joshua to share their food provisions with a family by the name of Snell and others, which they did. He promised them that when they arrived in Salt Lake City plenty of provisions would be available. Joshua had provided sufficient food for his own family and some for use upon arrival. However, by sharing with others as directed, their supply was exhausted by the time they reached the Salt Lake Valley.

Instead of finding plenty of food when they reached Great Salt Lake City they found the people very poor. Food for themselves and their cattle was scarce.

The company, made up of 359 people and 39 wagons, reached the valley September 1, 1860. Elizabeth and her husband had travelled by wagon from the Ohio River to Florence, Nebraska, which was nearly 1000 miles and then from Florence to Salt Lake City, another 1000 miles.

After attending the Semi-Annual General Conference of the Church that fall, they started for Cache Valley in Northern Utah, where they settled in the four-year old town of Wellsville.

Their first home was a dugout in the old fort. Her husband lost no time building a log house. He had to cut the timber in the surrounding mountains and haul it some fifteen miles through snow which was in some places hip deep.

Later he built a modern stone residence, using his skill as a stone mason acquired in his native Wales.

Describing her pioneer life in Wellsville, Elizabeth related:

"I used to glean in the grain fields and do everything to help on the farm. I made syrup from sugar beets and then preserved carrots with the syrup. Many times the Indians danced their 'war dance' around our home, but they went away peaceably after we gave them food. Brigham Young had taught us to feed the Indians rather than fight them.

"One night a drunken Indian buck knocked on our front door. I gave him a bowl of bread and milk. He then laid on the edge of a nearby irrigating ditch that night and left town early the next morning. Several years later he came back with a band of Indians from Blackfoot, Idaho, where they had been living on a reservation and had been educated. He asked me if I knew him. I replied, 'No'. He then asked me if I remembered the night a drunken Indian came and bothered us all night long. He inquired if he had hurt any of us. I told him that none of us had been injured in any way but that we were kept up all night feeding him, etc. To this he laughed and rode away on his horse with his companions.

"The first sixty bushel of peas Joshua raised he hauled to Salt Lake City and sold them. With the money he bought me a four-hole Charter Oak range and brought it back to Wellsville in his wagon. It was the first of its kind in that community."

Her whole life was one of service to her Church, her family and her fellowmen. She was called to be a teacher in the Wellsville Ward Relief Society and subsequently on July 16, 1887 she was chosen and set-apart as president of that organization. She labored

Bless this house

Bless this house, O Lord we pray,
Make it safe by night and day;
Bless these walls, so firm and stout,
Keeping want and trouble out;
Bless the roof and chimneys tall,
Let Thy peace lie over all;
Bless this door, that it may prove
Ever open to joy and love.

Bless these windows shining bright,
Letting in God's heav'nly light;
Bless the hearth a-blazing there,
With smoke ascending like a prayer;
Bless the folk who dwell within,
Keep them pure and free from sin;
Bless us all that we may be Fit, O Lord, to dwell with Thee, Bless us all that one day we May dwell, O Lord, with Thee.

THE JOSHUA AND ELIZABETH SALISBURY HOME IN WELLSVILLE, UTAH. Mr. Salisbury built this home himself. He did a lot of building contracting in Wellsville. He built many homes and public buildings under contract.

Joshua and Elizabeth Salisbury can be seen sitting on the front porch together with their grand-daughter "Teeny" Cooper. A covered "WELL" stands in the front yard to the right and a milk stand out in front of the fence. Note the steps on stand to permit one to step up to put the can of milk thereon instead of having to heave it up. In this home the Salisbury family lived happily and in the admonition of the Lord.

faithfully and performed her duties well in this position of leadership for eighteen years. She was honorably released February 18, 1905. While she was president of this Society she led in the gathering and storage of more than 3,000 bushels of wheat for the Relief Society in compliance with the advice of President Brigham Young.

She had brought several lovely silk dresses with her from the East. When she wore these in this pioneer villiage she felt out of place because the other women were so plainly dressed. She finally decided to sell them to Peter Maughan's wife. With the proceeds she bought denim and bed ticking with which to make overalls for her sons. Other silk clothes which she had, she tore into small squares and sold them for handkerchiefs.

Following the death of her own little Hannah in 1870, J. Samuel Perkins, whose wife had just died, begged Sister Salisbury to take his infant daughter Ellen and rear her. But he made Elizabeth promise to give back the baby should he ever ask for it. So Elizabeth took the child, nursed and reared her for eight months, when "Jim" Perkins came and took her back. It was just like giving up one of her own children.

One daughter, Martha Ann, was born with small holes in the lobes of her ears in perfect position for earrings. The holes apparently were some kind of birth mark.

Elizabeth bore eight sons and daughters to Joshua Salisbury, viz: Caroline, Eliza, Joseph Hoskin, Hyrum Hoskin, Martha Ann, Joshua Edwin and Frances Hoskin. Hannah a daughter died in infancy.

She and her husband received their endowments in the old Endowment House on Temple Square, Salt Lake City, December 26, 1864.

The last days of her mortal life were spent quietly. After the death of her husband Joshua, she lived with her daughter Frances H. Salisbury Maughan in Wellsville, Elizabeth passed away peacefully July 19, 1918 at the home of her daughter, Martha Ann Salisbury Leatham, in Salt Lake City, Utah at the age of 89 years.

Her life had been pure, her aims lofty and her efforts inspired continually by the love of God and her fellowmen. She strove always to contribute to the happiness and well being of others.

Her obituary in the Deseret News, Salt Lake City read as follows:

"Wellsville, July 24, 1918--Funeral of Mrs Elizabeth Hoskin Salisbury widow of Joshua Salisbury, pioneer dry farmer of Utah, was held in the Wellsville Tabernacle July 23rd. Bishop Charles N. Maughan presided and conducted the services. The attendance of her friends and neighbors was large, manifesting the high esteem in which she was held. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful. The opening musical numbers were rendered by the Wellsville Ward Choir and the opening prayer was given by Alexander Spence.

"The speakers were: Mrs. Eliza Owens, who was counselor to the deceased in the Wellsville Relief Society for eighteen years; Mrs. Janet Hutchison Grant, who composed for the occasion a very suitable poem; Elders Jesse Lloyd, William H. Maughan, counselor to the president of the Hyrum Stake, Richard Brenchley, John Wyatt, John H. Maughan, A. M. Buchanan of Salt Lake City, President William H. Parkinson of Hyrum Stake and Bishop Charles N. Maughan.

"Mrs. Salisbury was born September 28, 1829 and was therefore in her 89th year. She came to the USA in 1848 and settled in Pennsylvania where she joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. In 1860 she came with her husband, Joshua Salisbury to Wellsville where she has since resided."

OX TRAIN IMMIGRANTS

OUR RELIEF SOCIETY PRESIDENT

Sister Salisbury was our Relief Society President
For eighteen long years. We know
She helped store three thousand bushels of grain
For we have the records to show.

President Brigham Young did say to her,
The sisters must store up the wheat;
For he could surely prophesy
That such food we would certainly need.

Sister Salisbury was very desirous
Her mission to fulfill,
And she performed it most faithfully,
And did it with good will.

Our faithful president was always at her post.
We never heard her murmur,
Neither did we hear her boast;
But she performed the labors required at her hands.
She and the counsellors, unitedly did stand.

Our dear sister is sweetly sleeping
In her tomb she will be laid to rest;
But her spirit, watch is keeping,
Content she dwells among the blest.

While her feeble body is resting,
Free from every pain and care,
She rejoices in bright new mansions,
No grief nor sorrow enters there.

Her work is finished. Death is past.
Her mission on earth is o'er.
She shall be rewarded with a glorious crown
In a home where death is no more.

Clinging to the "Iron Rod";
She bore many faithful testimonies
To the glory and honor of God.

Sister Salisbury was kind and affectionate,
As perfect as any woman we knew,
She is sure to meet with her husband
Who also was faithful and true.

There is great sorrow and mourning,
For the loss of a true mother's love;
But there is a happy greeting yonder
While husband and wife are re-united above.

Be patient, ye sons and daughters,
Tread the straight path your mother trod,
And your circle shall be completed,
In the mansions of our just God.

THE LIFE OF Letitia Mary Ann (Hale)
Williams Salisbury

SALISBURY, LETITIA MARY ANN HALE, was born a pioneer child of Melhon Hale and Margaret Allen, 24 November 1851 in the then, four year old sprawling community of Salt Lake City, Territory of Utah.

Not too much is known about the details of her early pioneer life due to the lack of written records. However, she grew up and participated in all of the pioneer life and hardships in connection with the taming of the "wilderness".

Her parents were amongst the early converts to the restored gospel of Jesus Christ preached by the missionaries of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints in this dispensation. They were real pioneers of the West and Letitia was baptized a member of the Church in 1859.

Letitia was married (1st) to Alfred Ellis Williams, having been sealed to him in the rites of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints on the 14 June 1869 at the age of eighteen. After the death of Mr. Williams she was married (2nd), for time, to Joshua Salisbury in the year 1876. She maintained her home in Wellsville, Utah and became the mother of three fine children, viz: David Hale Salisbury, William Hale Salisbury and Elizabeth Hale Salisbury. (see family group record). Her son William died at the early age of nine, in October of the year 1891.

In those early times, medical science had not yet discovered ways and means to control the dreaded diseases of typhoid fever and similar sicknesses, and as a result many epidemics broke out at different times to claim their victims. Letitia took violently ill in 1888 and died on February 17th of that year in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah, where she was also buried.

Again, Joshua Salisbury's wife, Elizabeth, came to the rescue of the three small motherless children of Letitia and reared them to maturity. Through her daughter Elizabeth Hale Salisbury Tarbet, Letitia now has more than 60 descendents in the intermountain area to number amongst her posterity.

If only more facts and records had been kept, it goes without saying that this biographical sketch of Letitia would contain many, many, pages of interesting and faith promoting incidents, but alas, only these meager facts are known at this time by the writer.

Child on lap of Letitia is probably her son David.

ALLEN, Mrs. Estella Salisbury, wife of Herbert Edwin Allen. The following life sketch was written by her:

"I was born February 18, 1896, at 426 West 7th South, Salt Lake City, Utah, to Joshua Edwin Salisbury and Jane Ann Freebairn. When I was about two years old, my parents built a lovely new home at 725 South 8th West. Soon after moving into it my father was made a counsellor in the first bishopric of that ward. It was the Twenty-Sixth Ward, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

"Although my mother did everything in her power to keep me well, it seemed I caught nearly every childhood disease that came along. I had the usual children's diseases and when I was five years old I had "small pox" and gave it to my family, including my father and mother. At six years I caught "scarlet fever" and gave it to my brothers, Leo and Clarence. We all had a severe case. I temporarily lost all of my hair on account of the high fever and had to wear a bonnet all the rest of the summer to cover my head. We were quarantined from June until September with this disease. My brother Leo, died from the effects of it. The following Christmas we went up to Wellsville to spend the holidays with my father's parents. I came down with the "whooping cough" and had to come home on Christmas eve.

"My education started at the Riverside School, then I went to the Franklin School, the Poplar Grove School, and finished ninth grade at Bryant Junior High School. We held our graduation exercises in the old Salt Lake Theater. After my graduation I attended the LDS Business College, and later, the Henager's Business College.

"My first position in the Latter-day Saints Church came to me when I was twelve years old; Primary secretary in the Twenty-Sixth Ward. Then I was assigned to be an organist in the Mutual Improvement Association, which position I held for two years or until we moved into the Fifth Ward from where my father left on a mission to Great Britain for the Church. This was in 1910. In this ward, the Fifth Ward, Salt Lake City, I served as Sunday School teacher, MIA teacher, ward organist and ward chorister; besides directing several operettas. In the meantime, I worked at Walker Brother's Dept., Store until after I finished my business course. I was then employed at the Telephone Co., Coombs Drug Co., and then returning to Walker Brother's Department store as an auditor until I was married in 1916 to Herbert Edwin Allen in the Salt Lake LDS Temple. President Joseph Christensen officiated. Nine children were born to us. (See family group record.)

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Edwin Allen

"In 1917, we moved to Provo, Utah, to make our first home where I was made Primary president in the Provo Fourth Ward and served one year. After our first child was born we moved back to Salt Lake City, and bought a home at 567 Hamilton Court, located in the Eighth Ward. I was chorister for the Relief Society in that ward while we lived there. Again, moving back into the Fifth Ward, I was made second counsellor in the Relief Society presidency and a Gleaner teacher in the MIA until August 1926.

"I have worked in the Primary for two years; Junior Sunday School, nearly three years; Speech Arts director, one year; MIA chorister, two years; President of YWMIA for five years; ward chairman LDS Girls, one year; and stake chairman of the LDS Girls, for two years.

"I then started to work at St. Mark's Hospital in the Pediatric Dept., working there for nearly five years and at the same time acting as first counsellor, then president, in the Relief Society for five and one-half years. In August 1958, I resigned on account of poor health and am now the Theology teacher and a visiting teacher in Relief Society.

"I am very interested in Temple Work and hope to do research work, soon. I have thoroughly enjoyed my Church work and hope to be able to do much more."

Stella, as she was known by her many friends and associates, passed away unexpectedly on March 13, 1960, and a beautiful service was held in her commemoration. The following sketch was given at the funeral services, March 17, 1960, by the Bishop of the South Second Ward, Liberty Stake, Salt Lake City, Utah:

"Sister Estella Salisbury, wife of Herbert E. Allen, completed her mortal existence on Sunday, March 13, 1960. She was born February 18, 1896, in Salt Lake City, Utah, to Joshua Edwin and Jane Freebairn Salisbury. She was married to Herbert Edwin Allen in the Salt Lake LDS Temple on December 21, 1916. To this union were born nine children, eight of whom survive her. They are: Mrs. Afton Monson, Mrs. Lillian Andersen, Mrs. Betty Denos, Edwin L. Allen, Leo R. Allen, Mrs. Janice Darlington, Vern O. Allen, and Ronald J. Allen. With the exception of Afton, all of them live in Salt Lake City. Afton lives in Fort Knox, Kentucky. In addition, Estella is survived by nineteen grandchildren; one brother, Orin F. Salisbury; and a sister, Ida S. Krantz; as well as a multitude of friends.

"Of Sister Allen it may truly be said, 'She was a woman of honor, a neighbor dearly loved, a mother devoted to her family, a leader dependable beyond the call of duty, a teacher fortified with knowledge, and a servant unto the Most High filled with faith and humility.' She was a firm believer in the words of the Master, when He said, 'Whosoever will save his life shall lose it, but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it.' Surely, Sister Allen forgot self in devoted service to others. She was ready and willing at all times to answer any call that came to her. Indeed, her first motto was that of service, and her last hour upon this earth was spent in that unselfish capacity.

"During the sixty-four years of her life, she presided at various times in the various auxiliary organizations of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints; as MIA president; Primary president; Relief Society president; LDS Girls' Organization supervisor; organist; music leader; and every other office possible as a female member of the Church. At the time of her death she was Relief Society theology leader and ward Primary president.

"She was loved, honored, and respected by all of those with whom she labored. Her example throughout her life has been one worthy to follow. Her influence for good has spread far amongst the people whom she has served, and will continue to be felt for years to come. Hers was a special talent for inspiring and leading the children in paths of righteousness.

"We shall miss Sister Allen, all of us, from the tiniest Primary child to the oldest Relief Society member. We shall miss her cheery "Hello." Her warm hand-clasp will be missed, but most of all, her beautiful example as a true Latter-day Saint."

BATESON, Mrs. Elaine Nelson, daughter of Lowell S. Nelson and Elizabeth Salisbury Maughan, was born August 3, 1925 at Smithfield, Utah. She was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on October 4, 1933, and was confirmed a member by her great-grandfather, Samuel Nelson. She received her elementary and junior high school education in Smithfield and attended North Cache High School and LDS Seminary. She later graduated from Utah State Agricultural College, (now Utah State University) Logan, Utah, with a major in speech. She was active in music and debate activities in high school and was an "A" student in LDS seminary work and in many other classes. In 1946, while attending college, she was elected to Pi Gamma Mu, National social science honor society.

Mrs. Elaine Nelson Bateson

On December 31, 1946, Elaine married Russell B. Bateson in Elko, Nevada, and they are the parents of four children: Vicki Ellen, Cathy, Stevie and Jeanne.

Elaine taught school for a year after graduating from college and has worked as a stenographer and secretary.

She has been active in church work since her childhood, serving as organist for Sunday School, Primary, and MIA organizations of her ward. Her mother says of her,

"She is a good mother and teacher, and most of all, her philosophy in life has always been to make others happy, giving her time and means unselfishly to all. "

Photo's from the Old Family Album shows Elaine as a baby and a young girl.

BATESON, Russell B. , husband of Elaine Nelson; son of Russell Boudrero Bateson and Cleo Simpson, was born, November 1, 1923, in Logan, Cache County, Utah.

He attended the Logan City schools and graduated from the Logan High School in May 1941. After attending the Utah State University during 1941-42, he was inducted into the U. S. Army at Ft. Douglas, Ut. , in 1943, and served in the Armed Forces during World War II. He graduated in July 1944 from the primary flight training and after subsequent training, became a rated, single engine Flight Officer. Upon being honorably discharged he resumed his college training and received his Bachelor of Science degree from the School of Commerce at the Utah State Agricultural College, (now, Utah State University), on May 23, 1948. Later, he received his Master of Science degree in 1949. Russell has membership in PAI KAPPA PHI, an honorary scholastic society; SIGMA XI; PSI CHI; and PI SIGMA ALPHA.

On December 31, 1946, he married Elaine Nelson and they and their four children are now living in Salt Lake City, Utah.

BENCE, Martha Vera Leatham, daughter of William Leatham and Martha Ann Salisbury, was born in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah, December 31, 1892. She was baptized in 1903, in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Vera was a girl with an outstanding personality, good looks, and a beautiful figure. While yet in her teens she became extremely proficient in roller skating, which was then a most popular sport in Utah. She won many contests and prizes for her fancy skating and dancing, on skates, at Saltair and other places. Joshua Salisbury, her maternal grandfather, would sit and watch her in admiration, by the hour, as she skated at Lagoon, never tiring of her fancy and beautifully executed capers. At one time she was offered a contract to skate on the Orpheum Theater circuit.

As a young lady she was also interested in the legitimate stage and in 1909, she danced and sang in one of the vaudeville shows in Salt Lake City. She also took a part in the stage show, "The Girl of the Golden West," with Bert Lytell, and was ready to go on circuit with this show until it was discovered that she was not of legal age and could not obtain the consent of her parents. This was a great disappointment to Vera. Shortly thereafter, she was married. (See family group records.)

Her love and devotion toward her kinsmen and friends is unsurpassed; her many deeds of kindness and charity have not gone unnoticed. Vera lived in Hollywood, California, with her husband William E. Bence, for a number of years prior to her death on August 13, 1959, at Los Angeles, California. Burial services were conducted by Bishop Edward Nadle of the Hollywood LDS Ward on August 17, 1959, with interment in Forest Lawn, Hollywood Hills, Los Angeles, California.

Mrs. Vera Leatham Bence

BENNETT, Mrs. Ardel Krantz, was born April 21, 1934, at 4583 Highland Drive, Salt Lake City, Utah, the third child of Henry Clarence Krantz and Ida Salisbury. She attended the Holladay Elementary School at the age of six. During this time she attended Primary at Holladay LDS Ward, Big Cottonwood Stake, completing all her primary awards and achievements. When eight years of age she was baptized and confirmed a member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. It was on September 5, 1941, that she was baptized by Walter Wells, and confirmed the following day by her father Henry C. Krantz.

Mrs. Ardel Krantz Bennett

At the age of twelve she graduated from grade school and entered Olympus Junior High School. She played the violin in the school orchestra and became the concert-mistress while in the ninth grade.

Ardel has played in a string trio with her brother and sister. She was a member of the "All Church Orchestra" in 1953, playing also with the Bonneville Strings.

At Granite High School Ardel was active in the

A-Capella Choir, the orchestra, and the seminary, which she attended for three years. She attended the University of Utah and was a member of "Chi" chapter of Lambda Delta Sigma at the Institute of Religion.

Ardel has been active in the Church, having obtained the Silver Gleaner Award in the M. I. A. She has been a Sunday School teacher, YWMIA teacher, Relief Society Work Director, and Chorister.

In August 1953, Ardel became engaged to Carl M. Bennett, son of Marion W. and Sybil McGhie Bennett. They were married on August 10, 1954, in the Salt Lake LDS Temple. President ElRay Chirstiansen performed the ceremony.

After graduating from the University of Utah, Carl was commissioned a Lieutenant in the U. S. Army, and in March 1957, Ardel and two children accompanied him to Ft. Knox, Kentucky for four months' schooling. Then they went to Ft. Hood, Texas, where Carl finished his two years of service.

Carl and Ardel have become the parents of three children: Carlene, Merril Kevin and Ronald Keith. (See family group records.)

At the present time, Carl is serving as Assistant Ward Clerk, and Ardel is on the Ward Genealogical Committee.

BERRY, Mrs. Charlotte (Lottie) Jenkins Hoskin, daughter of William Henry Hoskin Sr. and Charlotte Jenkins, was born May 12, 1880, in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. She was married to Arthur Francis Berry, and they became the parents of three daughters, Eva, Alta, and Gayle. (See Family Group records.)

Most of their married life was spent in Hibbard, Idaho, where Charlotte passed away on October 22, 1914.

BIESER, Mrs. Elizabeth (Bess) Salisbury Leatham, supervisor for the Board of Equalization of the State of California, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, on June 5, 1898 daughter of William Leatham and Martha Ann Salisbury. She was baptized, August 31, 1906, in the Salt Lake City Tabernacle Font.

After graduating from Jackson Elementary school, she worked for the Inter-mountain Telephone Company in Salt Lake City. She later attended Heneger's Business College, paying her own tuition, and upon graduation, secured a position with the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad Company.

Bess, married Frederick Bieser on May 6, 1917, and lived for a time in Seattle, Washington, where her husband worked in the ship-building yards during World War I. In 1922, she and her husband and son, Fred Jr., moved to Sacramento, California, where they have since resided. Two daughters, Donna and Marilyn were born in Sacramento.

In 1933, Bess took a position as legal stenographer with the State of California, and has risen to her present responsibility and rank of supervising account clerk. For two years she studied accounting at the Sacramento Evening College to qualify herself for this position.

During 1936-38, she served as first counselor in the presidency of the YWMA of Sacramento Ward, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

In 1943, Bess joined the Eastern Star and in 1944, the Daughter's of the Nile. This organization sews for the Shriner's Hospitals, for crippled children. In 1946, she accompanied the Nile Patrol to a supreme session in Rockford, Illinois, going by way of Seattle, Vancouver, British Columbia, and Chicago, and returning via New Orleans and Los Angeles, California. She was elected president of this group in 1952, and later served as captain of the patrol, being active in this capacity during the supreme session held in San Francisco, in June 1953. It was here that a command drill was presented by the patrol under her leadership in the Civic Auditorium.

One of the highlights of her recent travels was a trip to Europe in 1948, where she spent several weeks visiting with her brother, Colonel Louis S. Leatham, and his family in Germany. She left New York, August 3, 1948, on the "S. S. America" landing at Le Havre, France, returning to the United States, via air, boarding the trans-Atlantic plane at Frankfurt, Germany.

While in Europe she visited Paris and Nice in France; Monte Carlo, Rome, Venice and Vatican City in Italy; Luzern and Geneva in Switzerland; Brussels, Belgium; Luxembourg, Salzburg, Austria; Heidelberg, Wiesbaden, Berchtesgaden, Bonn and Cologne in Germany. She visited all the famous art galleries and places of interest in these cities.

Recently Bess has been a member of the Sacramento Stake Primary Board, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

Mrs. Elizabeth Leatham Bieser

BIESER, Frederick Jr., Air Force Pilot, highway patrolman and great-grandson of Joshua Salisbury was born March 1, 1921 in Salt Lake City, Utah the son of Frederick Bieser and Elizabeth (Bess) Salisbury Leatham. He was baptized May 4, 1929 and subsequently confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. He received his education at Brete Harte Grammer School, McClatchy High School and the Sacramento Junior College. He also attended the University of California, Berkeley, where he majored as a pre-medical student before WW II.

Fred has lived most of his life in Sacramento, California and at the present time he has his home established in Castro Valley, where his work as a law enforcement officer for the State of California takes him.

During World War II he was a pilot in the U. S. Air Corps of the Armed Forces and served in the European Theatre of War. He received his flight training at the Cal-Aero Academy and was awarded his "wings" and Lieutenant's commission in 1944. He served in Germany and England until 1946. Fred married Leora Mae Ahlborn April 17, 1943. This union has been blessed with four lovely children. (see Family Group Record on another page of this book). Their son, Frederick Steven was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints in November 1953, at Oakland, California.

Fred has established a comfortable home for his family and being out of the larger centers of population maintains a few animals and farm birds around the place. He does a lot of laboratory work for his employer and enjoys doing research with the scientific instruments.

His home address at the present time is: 7369 Vivian Street, Castro Valley, California.

BRADSHAW, Mrs. Lettitia (Lettie) Salisbury Tarbet, grand-daughter of Joshua Salisbury and daughter of Eugene Tarbet and Elizabeth Hale Salisbury, was born in Logan, Utah, January 29, 1908. She attended elementary and high school and was baptized and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints soon after reaching the age of eight years.

THOMAS BARNES BRADSHAW

MRS. LETTITIA (LETTIE) SALISBURY TARBET BRADSHAW

Lettie, as she is affectionately called by her close friends and family, married Thomas Barnes Bradshaw in the L. D. S. Temple, Logan, Utah, September 18, 1929. They are the Parents of five fine children, all married now but one (see family group records). They maintain their home in Wellsville, Utah. She has always been active in the LDS Church auxiliary organizations and in doing good.

Her ancestors on the Tarbet side of the family came to Utah from their home in Nauvoo, Illinois, with the second group of pioneers arriving in Salt Lake City in 1847. They moved from Salt Lake City to Logan, Utah in 1859 when that city was first settled. They were converted to "Mormonism" while living in Peel, Isle of Man, Great Britain, their native home.

Her great-grandmother, Eleanor Kelly Tarbet, served as treasurer of the Cache Stake Relief Society in 1874. Mr. Tarbet, Lettie's great-grandfather served as the first Bishop of the Logan Third Ward, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, and was very prominent in the early history of Cache County. Lettie's influence for good is felt strongly amongst her kinsmen and friends as she strives daily to emulate the many virtues of her noble ancestry.

BUCHANAN, Carl Walter, born December 27, 1901 at the family home, 148 South 3rd West Street, Salt Lake City, Utah, son of Archibald McMurrin Buchanan and Caroline Salisbury. His father came to Utah after accepting membership in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, in Glasgow, Scotland.

Carl was baptized January 1, 1910 in Salt Lake City, Utah by George M. Cannon, Jr., and confirmed a member of the L. D. S. Church January 2, 1910 by Osborne J. P. Widtsoe in the 19th Ward of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion. He has held the offices of Deacon, Teacher and Priest in the Aaronic Priesthood, also the offices of Elder, Seventy and High Priest in the Melchizedek Priesthood. He is now a High Priest. (see line of Priesthood authority on next page).

He received his patriarchal blessing on June 25, 1926 under the hands of his uncle, Wm. Leatham, Patriarch in the Salt Lake Stake, Salt Lake City, Utah, just prior to embarking for his mission to Scotland.

His schooling started when he was at the age of 5 years. With his sister Carol, he attended kindergarten classes at the Washington Elementary School, 1st West and 4th

North Streets, Salt Lake City, Utah. He continued his education at the Washington school through the 7th grade and finished the 8th grade at the Lafayette School, North Temple and State Streets. During the 8th grade classes, Carl studied the German language and graduated from grammar school in June 1917. After his graduation he attended the Latter-Day Saints Business College for two seasons, during which time he studied typing, bookkeeping, Pitman shorthand, penmanship and business arithmetic.

In his youth while attending meetings in the old Nineteenth Ward Carl would thrill at the testimonies of the returned missionaries as they reported in from their foreign fields of labor and decided then that at some future date he would fill a mission for the church if called upon to do so. The call for him to serve a mission to the land of Scotland came and he left with Elder Robert K. Whyte on the 25th of June 1926 from Salt Lake City via the Union Pacific Railroad and sailed down the St. Lawrence River from Montreal, Canada on the Steam Ship "Montcalm". They landed in Liverpool, England and Carl was sent immediately to Glasgow, Scotland where he labored for two years. He did missionary work in the town of Hamilton for two months; Aberdeen for eight months; Edinburgh for four months and Glasgow for twelve months. He arrived home from his mission in September 1928. Notwithstanding the fact that he had worked hard and saved money for five years to support himself on this mission he was completely satisfied with the experience he had obtained and the good he had done.

Shortly after returning to his home, in September 1928 at 546 Columbus Street, Salt Lake City, Carl secured employment with the J. W. Summerhays & Sons Company, a hide and wool concern on the West side of Salt Lake City, as an accountant.

On May 25, 1932 Carl married Wilhelmina (Minnie) G. Bernards in the Salt Lake L.D.S. Temple. Pres. David O. McKay officiated. They have two children, a daughter Carlene Ruth and a son Carl Wendell Buchanan. Carlene married Kiefer Weston Harris September 2, 1952 in the Salt Lake City LDS Temple. Carl Wendell is at present on a 30 month LDS mission to Finland for the Church. The present Buchanan home is maintained at 7017 South Main Street (US-91) Bountiful, Utah.

Soon after his marriage, Carl established his home in the Sugarhouse area of Salt Lake City and became active in the Ward and Stake, serving as a Stake Missionary. He and his companion Melvin K. Bradshaw made several converts while doing missionary work in this Stake.

Carl has worked as a salesman for many years and success in that endeavor has crowned his efforts.

On January 24, 1947, Carl was ordained a High Priest and set apart as a high councilman in the South Davis Stake of Zion, in which position he is still an incumbent.

Throughout his life, Carl has held continuous assignments as teacher or other positions of leadership in church capacities, in both ward and stake organizations.

The poem on the following page was sent to Carl by his son Carl Wendell in commemoration of his 59th birthday.

Dear Dad,

I hope that your birthday finds you sitting on top of the world. It is hard for me to express how I feel towards you with my own words, so I have found someone elses. They fit my thoughts very much so I would like to write them down.

"Though months have passed since I left home,
A mission to fulfill
My outlook changed and prompted me
To dabble with the quill.
Remember how I thought of home,
A place to hang my hat.
When things were not as I would want
How I would voice a blat.
And when I'd sprawl in easy chairs,
And Holler "When do we eat?"
And borrow coats or shoes and make
Your stock of ties deplete,
Each little thing I did for you,
A most magnanimous act,
But now I have a different view,
I wish I could retract.

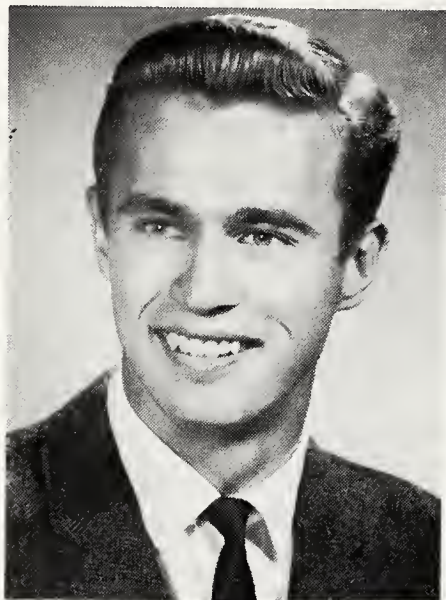

Gee, Dad, the word "Appreciate"
Was lost to me before.
There's home, both you and mom
And other things galore.
Besides the many little things,
I now find extra nice,
This Gospel, Dad, I've found is worth
The Pearl of Greatest Price.
All this is mine because of you,
It's you who sends the dough,
It's you who makes my mission -- Ours,
I'd like to call it so.
So in our mission I'll do my best,
Until the race is won,
And what is more, I want to say,
I'm glad that I'm your son."

Thanks for everything Dad, you're the greatest!
My work today is for you on your day.

Your loving son,

Carl

BUCHANAN, Carl Wendell, son of Carl Walter Buchanan and Wilhelmina (Minnie) Bernards, was born May 14, 1940 in Salt Lake City, Utah and grew up in Bountiful, Davis County, Utah where his parents established their home at 7017 South Main Street (US-91)

while he was a very young boy. After graduating from the Bountiful High School, Carl attended the University of Utah for four quarters. He spent six months on duty with the U. S. Army at Fort Ord, California and several years earlier at the age of thirteen he attended the National Boy Scout Jamboree in California.

He is active in sports and also in LDS Church activities, having been baptized May 29, 1948 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, May 30, 1948 by his father, who also officiated in ordaining him to the following offices in the Priesthood: Deacon, June 1, 1952; Teacher, November 14, 1954; Priest June 17, 1956 and an Elder, July 3, 1959. Carl received his patriarchal blessing under the hands of Patriarch George J. Wilson on June 19, 1958. Carl left for the Finnish Mission on June 20, 1960 traveling by United Air Lines to New York City and via Scandinavian Airways to the mission headquarters in Helsinki, Finland. in cities of Jyväskylä and Kerava. Prior to embarking upon his missionary duties he was set-apart for his ministry by Elder John Longden, Ass't., to the Council of the Twelve at Church headquarters in Salt Lake City. Carl has aspirations to finish his college education when his mission has been completed and he returns home.

The accompanying program on the previous page outlines the farewell testimonial program rendered in his honor by friends and Ward members before leaving Salt Lake City for Finland.

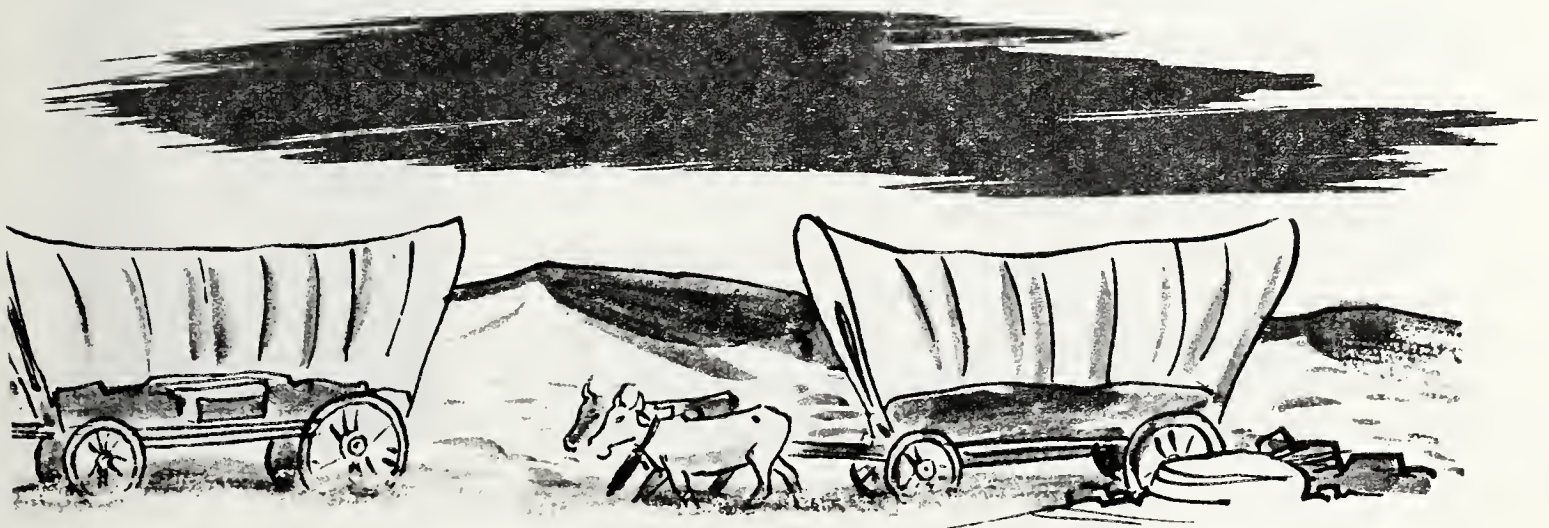

BUCHANAN, Caroline Salisbury, a real Utah Pioneer, who, as an infant, traveled to Salt Lake City in a covered wagon, arriving there with her parents in 1860. She was born in Bowlesville, Illinois July 21, 1859 to Joshua Salisbury and Elizabeth Hoskin. Only several months old when her parents commenced their overland trek to Utah, she learned to walk in the bed of the ox-drawn covered wagon, on the great American Plains.

Arriving in Omaha from the Ohio River area, the family joined the John Smith company of "Mormon" emigrants and after several weeks journey on the plains, arrived in Salt Lake City September 1, 1860. The family settled in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah, where they lived in a dug-out the first winter and then established and built a fine home where Caroline grew to maturity.

She became the wife of Archibald McMurrin Buchanan on January 2, 1879. The marriage was solemnized in the old LDS Endowment House of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints in Salt Lake City. She became the mother of nine fine children. (see family group record). She spent her life in rearing her family, serving her fellowmen through her ecclesiastical activities and in going about doing good. Mrs. Buchanan was always an active member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, especially the Women's Relief Society.

Her name is inscribed on a bronze plaque reposing on a wall of the Rotunda of the Utah State Capitol Building, Salt Lake City, honoring the Utah pioneers who were still living in the centennial year of 1947. She died in Salt Lake City April 8, 1948. Beautiful funeral services were held in her memory.

During the Pioneer Centennial celebration held in Salt Lake City during the year 1947, Caroline was honored as one of the few living pioneers and sat on the platform with other pioneers and dignitaries during the program and celebration.

As a practical nurse, she brought comfort to countless dozens of men and women who called upon her to serve them in their illness. Many people gave her the credit for their recovery from various maladies.

BUCHANAN, Dr. George Woodward, a successful practicing physician and surgeon, son of Archibald McMurrin Buchanan and Caroline Salisbury, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, September 14, 1898. He attended elementary school in Salt Lake City and graduated from the LDS High School, after which he graduated from the University of Utah and the University of Pennsylvania with a Doctors Degree in medicine. Dr. Buchanan served his internship at the Staten Island Hospital, New York City and practiced for a number of years in Farmington and Salt Lake City, Utah.

For the past several years he has conducted his practice in California where he has established his home. (See family group records on another page of this book for marriage and family data.)

Dr. Buchanan, in his youth, filled an honorable mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, having served for two years as a 'Mormon' missionary in the Southern States Mission.

As a youth he was a great pigeon fancier and raised some of the finest such birds, possible. It was always a pleasure for his cousins and relatives to be shown his prize winning birds whenever they visited the Buchanan home at 546 Columbus Street, Salt Lake City, Utah.

CLARK, Mrs. Zella Jenkins Hoskin, daughter of William Henry Hoskin and Charlotte Jenkins, was born May 22, 1899 at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. She was blessed and named by Joshua Salisbury in the Wellsville LDS Ward. She was baptized by Richard Brenchley July 6, 1907 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints on July 7, 1907 by Franklin Gunnell.

Zella writes her life's sketch in the following words:

"I was very fortunate in being born in Cache County, which is a beautiful little valley about eighty miles north of Salt Lake City. It is surrounded by mountains of the Wasatch Range. With the exception of three years, I have lived in Wellsville all of my life. I love this little town and I love the people in it. They have shared my happiness and my sorrows.

"I love children and in my early 'teens I was asked to teach in the Primary Association of the Ward. I have enjoyed working in this organization now for many years.

"On June 24, 1925 I was married to Hughe Clark of Smithfield, Utah in the Logan LDS Temple by President Joseph Shepherd.

"Hughe was born October 9, 1895 in Holladay, Utah to Frederick Clark and Martha Clark. Hughe was a farmer and worked at the Morning Milk plant in Wellsville, Utah. We both love our church and loved to go together to the Temple and do vicarious work for the dead. We have both served in the various organizations of the church during our entire lives.

"Hughe was president of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement Association, an officer in the priesthood quorums and Ward Clerk, serving with Bishops Evan O. Darley and Mark B. Lindley in Wellsville.

"He had a lovely baritone voice and sang solos in church and also civic affairs. He was a member of the Smithfield Third Ward Choir and the Wellsville Second Ward Choir. In his youth, while living in Salt Lake City he belonged to a boys choir which was directed by Prof. Evan Stephens. He also loved drama and took part in many plays in our town.

"We have been blessed with six children, three girls and three boys, all of whom seemes to have inherited their parent's love of music. They all have good voices and four of them play the piano as well as other musical instruments. Dean and Calvin have served in the Armed Forces of the United States and Rulon filled an honorable mission in the Eastern States Mission of the LDS Church.

"Five of our children are now married and they and their companions are active in their various LDS Wards where they live, each one giving of their time and their talents to help build up this great church of ours. We are blessed with sixteen lovely grandchildren, five girls and eleven boys. (see family group records).

"On April 18, 1958 a great sorrow came into our lives when Hughe passed away and we were bereft of a loving husband and father. Many friends, relatives and neighbors came to us in our sorrow and by their loving words and deeds of kindness, let us know that they shared our sorrow in this bereavement.

"My family has been a great comfort to me and I am blessed to have our youngest daughter, Linda still with me at this time. I also receive much comfort in working in the church. I am secretary in our Ward Primary organization, a teacher in the Relief Society and a member of the Ward Choir at the present time. "

The following tribute to her grandmother, Elizabeth Hoskin Salisbury, was expressed by Zella: "Grandmother Salisbury was someone very special to me. She also was the only 'gandma' I ever knew. She used to come often to mother's and dad's place in Wells-ville as her home was just a block away from ours. I can see her now in my minds eye with her checked apron and blue sun-bonnet. How we children loved to have her come. We also loved to visit her home. She kept it so nice and clean. She dearly loved pretty flowers of all kinds. I still remember the moss roses on each side of the walk, the lovely pansy beds, the roses and the columbines.

"She always had an apple or orange or mabe a piece of peppermint candy for us. I used to go to the grocery store for her and would take eggs and exchange them for the groceries and things she needed. In spite of my protests, Grandma always gave me some little favor for doing this.

"She was kind and patient, always displaying strength of character and faith. The following poem by Beatrice Lindford expresses my thoughts of Grandmother Salisbury:

Little woman of long ago I humbly bow to you,
I am so glad you did not fail the task God gave to you.

Little woman, how brave you were to face the dreary days,
As on the barren plains you trudged, bound humbly on your way.

Day after day your toil was great, but you did not complain,
Of burdened back or heavy load, of hunger or of pain;

Nor did you stop to rest your tired, sore, stiffened limbs at all,
Your weary head, and heavy feet until the night should fall.

Your bed, the hard, baked prairie earth, your roof the endless sky,
Your food, how oft it was none, your task to ever try.

Then when you found your precious one silent by your side,
O're taken by the hand of death, cut down in manhood's pride.

How difficult it must have been, brave, sad, little mother,
To turn away and leave them there, partner, husband, father.

Now alone you must lead the way unfalteringly on.
Guiding safe to the promised land those sturdy little sons.

I'm glad you taught those sturdy sons of faith, the truth, the way,
That they have taught their sons in turn the best, the kindest way.

God grant that I may do my part E'en half as well as you,
That when I'm gone, someone may speak as well of me, as you.

COLLINS, Mrs. Shirley Rock Hoskin, teacher, daughter of William Henry Hoskin, Jr., and Leora Jensen Rock, was born May 28, 1931, at Ogden, Weber County, Utah.

She received her education in Salt Lake City public schools, graduating from South High School where she was active in extra-curricular activities, including the A-cappella choir and reporter, assistant editor, and editor-in-chief of the school paper. She was editor-in-chief, at the time the paper received one of the highest possible ratings from the National Scholastic Periodical Rating Committee. She received a four-year scholarship to the University of Utah, where she majored in journalism and education and graduated from this institution with honors. Extra-curricular activities at the University included membership in Spurs, Cwean, and Mortar Board service organizations; membership on a board of twelve students for outstanding service and scholarship during four years of college life; and membership in Delta Delta Delta sorority, of which she served as president during her senior year.

She married Albert (Al) R. Collins in New York City. They are the parents of one son, Bradford Scott Collins.

Shirley taught English and journalism at East High School, Salt Lake City, following her graduation from the University of Utah, and was faculty sponsor of the school paper. The following summer she and some sorority sisters traveled to New York City, where Shirley accepted employment in industry.

While in New York she wrote professionally the information available on record albums for some of the more popular recording stars. Dave Brubeck was one of her personal friends. She met her future husband in a New York music store and after beginning their married life in New York, they moved to Salt Lake City, Utah, in 1957. After a brief stay in the west, they returned to New York City in 1958, where Al was engaged in the field of radio and television broadcasting. They and their son are currently residing in San Francisco, California. (1961).

COOPER, Mrs. Eliza Salisbury, daughter of Joshua Salisbury and Elizabeth Hoskin was born August 5, 1861, in Wellsville, Utah. She attended the early pioneer school in Wellsville, Utah, and participated in the activities of the Wellsville Ward, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, having been baptized about 1869 at the age of eight. She was a sweet spirited character and truly a woman without guile. Eliza possessed the most beautiful brown eyes.

On November 30, 1877, she married Benjamin Guest Cooper in LDS Temple rites at the Endowment House in Salt Lake City, Utah, and they settled down and made their home in Wellsville, Utah. Eliza became the mother of fifteen children, eleven of whom grew to maturity.

"God could not be everywhere so he sent us mothers!", can well be said of her.

She was patient and unselfish. She worked hard and long hours in order to rear her children and to teach them properly, and even though she had no luxuries in life, she never complained, never gossiped, had a large circle of friends and went about doing good, always.

Eliza always found time to serve in the activities of her Church and was an active member of the women's Relief Society and the Daughters of the Utah Pioneers organization. She served as a visiting teacher in the Relief Society for many, many, years and could always be depended upon to help in making quilts and other items for the poor. She knit beautiful lace and donated many such pieces to the Relief Society for raising funds.

On one occasion, Eliza reigned as "Queen of Founders Day," an annual celebration in Wellsville.

In her declining years, one of her sons lived with her and maintained the home, for which she was ever grateful, and praised his name for his kindness and consideration toward her in her old age.

Eliza remained a widow for eighteen years after the death of her husband, who died November 22, 1927.

She was kind-hearted and considerate always, and her reward in Heaven, will, without doubt, be Celestial Glory!

MRS. ELIZA SALISBURY COOPER

CURTIS, Alan Maughan, son of Kendall Harry Curtis and Julia Salisbury Maughan, was born September 21, 1935, in Hyrum, Cache County, Utah. His mother died when he was but five years of age and he went to live with his aunt, Ruby Gessell, where he was loved and reared in the admonition of the Lord.

Alan attended elementary school in Logan, Utah, and graduated from South High School. He participated in football; received his Bachelor of Science degree in geology at Utah State University in 1957; was commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force and then attended USAF Missile School. He subsequently served as "Falcon Missile Officer" 98th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Dover Air Base, Delaware.

Always active in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, he came up through the various offices of the Aaronic Priesthood and was ordained an elder, December 5, 1954.

On June 13, 1957, Alan married Margaret Maxine Chugg in Logan, Utah. This union was blessed with two children, namely, Leslie Ann and Alan Steven. (See family group record).

LT. ALAN MAUGHAN CURTIS

CURTIS, Mrs. Julia Salisbury Maughan, wife of Kendall Harry Curtis, and granddaughter of Joshua Salisbury, is the daughter of Joseph Morgan Maughan and Frances Hoskin Salisbury. She was born in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah, April 17, 1909, and on June 30, 1917, was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints by John Perkins.

On December 21, 1932, Julia married Kendall Harry Curtis in the LDS Temple, Logan, Utah. They were blessed with two fine children, Marlene and Alan.

At the young age of thirty-two years, Julia passed away February 17, 1941, leaving her two children, motherless. However, the children went to live with their aunt and uncle, the Gessells, who loved them very much and reared them to maturity.

DOTY, Mrs. Marie Maughan Parker, wife of Harold Ray Doty, daughter of Fred Cooper Parker and Edna Salisbury Maughan, was born in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah, July 14, 1931. At the age of two, Marie went with her parents to live in Drummond, Montana. She attended grade school in Hall and graduated from the Drummond High School. Marie also graduated from the Utah State University, Logan, Utah and has attended several summer sessions there. Working at her profession as a school teacher she taught at Tooele, Utah; Overton, Nevada and Pleasant Grove, Utah.

Always active in her church work, she was baptized in Drummond, Montana at age eight. She has taught classes in the YW-MIA and Sunday School. On June 11, 1958 she married Harold Ray Doty in the LDS Temple at Logan, Utah.

A son Deryk Shaun Doty was born to them on June 3, 1959.

MRS. MARIE PARKER DOTY

DUNCAN, Mrs. Edythe Rowena Leatham, was born November 5, 1901, in Ophir, Utah, the youngest daughter of William and Martha Ann Salisbury Leatham. She was baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, November 6, 1909, in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Edythe was educated in the Salt Lake City schools and graduated with honors from the Jackson School.

She married first, Monta Devon Johnson and became the mother of three sons, Douglas, Andrew, and Monte L. Johnson. Her posterity numbers, twenty, (fourteen grandchildren and three great-grand children.)

Always industrious, Edythe has been employed with Metro Goldwyn Mayer Film Company since July 28, 1930, where she has been 'head inspector' of films for several years. When her children were young, she served as a Primary teacher in the LDS Church.

After raising and educating her sons she married second, James Wallace Duncan on January 15, 1938. This union was one of love and devotion stemming from loyal companionship. Wally, as he was affectionately known, worked at the Mine and Smelter Supply Company and the Western Newspaper Union until he was disabled by cataracts over his eyes. His first operation proved satisfactory, but before he was admitted to the hospital for the second operation, he suffered a heart attack and died May 2, 1960, in Salt Lake City. This loss was extremely great in Edythe's life.

Edythe enjoys reading and travel which takes her from coast to coast to visit with her sons and their families. Monte lives in California; Andy in Denver, Colorado, and Douglas, an Air Force pilot, in New Jersey. She takes an interest in politics and the fine arts.

Like most busy women, Mrs. Duncan never wants to retire. She enjoys meeting and working with people. She takes an interest in corresponding with her family and also finds pleasure writing to missionary acquaintances and to relatives. She is revered by her family, loved by all children, and respected by all her associates.

GOLDEN, Mrs. Sarah Salisbury, daughter of Ellis Davies Salisbury and Alice Sophia Stoddard, was born December 12, 1899 in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. She moved to Oregon with her parents while still an infant and received her schooling there.

Mrs. Sarah Salisbury Golden

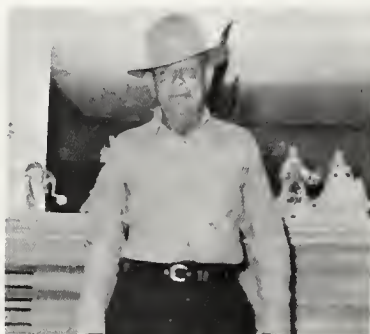

She lived at the farm home of the family until her marriage to Arthur Edward Golden on January 28, 1922. Sarah and Arthur then moved to his mother's farm, adjoining the home farm where Sarah was raised. Three children were born to this union. The first, a girl named Barbara, died when four years of age; the second, a boy who died shortly after birth, and another girl, Mary Ellen who now lives in Grants Pass, Oregon and is the mother of five children.

Sarah has been an active member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in La Grande. She was baptized on May 2, 1909.

After approximately ten years on the farm they moved to the May Park district at La Grande and in 1936, moved to Medford, Oregon, where they still reside. Sarah has been especially active in the Relief Society of the Medford LDS Ward and has a reputation for always going the "extra mile" to help her friends and neighbors. She is most helpful in the care of her grandchildren and is, indeed, a loving grandmother. Sarah is known as 'Sally' to her family and friends.

GROESBECK, Mrs. Emily Salisbury, was born March 10, 1885 in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah, daughter of Ellis Davies Salisbury and Alice Sophia Stoddard. She was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints when she was about eight years of age.

On January 5, 1905 she was married to John Ernest Groesbeck at La Grande, Oregon and lived in Union County, Oregon, and in Nampa, Idaho, where a family of six, three boys and three girls, were born to them. She was a close companion to her husband and children and she had a very interesting personality with an unusually good sense of humor. At the age of forty-six, Emily passed away, unexpectedly, having suffered an acute attack of asthma. Her husband and children are still living in and around Nampa, Idaho, with the exception of her son Ellis who passed away on the twelfth of April 1956, having suffered an acute heart attack. Five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren survive her at this time.

H

HOSKIN(S), Benjamin (Hancock?), farmer, son of Benjamin Hoskin and Elizabeth Hoskin, was born October 8, 1852 in Bristol, Hartford County, Connecticut, his parents having left their native England in 1848 to seek greater opportunities in America. His father died in Pennsylvania in 1856, after having been injured in a mining accident.

After his father's death, the family was converted to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and on October 13, 1858, Benjamin's mother married Joshua Salisbury, a widower with two children. When Benjamin was seven years old the family crossed the plains to Utah with the John Smith Company of Mormon pioneers. They arrived in Salt Lake City, Utah, in September 1860, and after attending the October General Conference of the Church, settled in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. Benjamin was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on October 15, 1861.

On January 18, 1875, at the age of twenty-three, he married Elizabeth Alice Rowberry Jenkins, with whom he had grown up in Wellsville. They traveled to Salt Lake City through deep snow and were married in the LDS Endowment House. They made their home in Wellsville and had eleven children. (See family group record.)

Their youngest child, Pearl, died June 25, 1901 at the age of one and one-half years of diphtheria. Because of the danger of contagion from such a disease, Benjamin had to bury her alone, with others standing at a distance, until she had been put into her grave.

Benjamin acted as an Indian scout during his younger days and freighted between Utah and Montana during his young manhood.

During the last twenty-five years of his life, Benjamin was ill and was cared for by his loving wife. She also looked after the farm and livestock when Benjamin was not able to do so. He passed away on March 3, 1920 and is buried in the Wellsville Cemetery. His wife and helpmeet followed him in death the following year.

HOSKIN, Mrs. Charlotte Jenkins, daughter of William Jenkins and Mary Parry Rowberry, was born July 7, 1859, at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. Her family had come to America from England in 1840 after being converted to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints by Wilford Woodruff, and had lived in Nauvoo, Illinois, for some time. Her father played in the Nauvoo Legion band and family members were in the meeting of Latter-day Saints when Brigham Young was transfigured, and it was made known that he was to succeed Joseph Smith as president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. The family moved to Utah as pioneers in 1850.

Mrs. Charlotte Jenkins Hoskin

Charlotte was baptized into the LDS Church in 1867. Her formal education was limited to the "grammar grades," but she, like others of her family, took advantage of the training afforded by the church auxiliaries and had a well-rounded personality.

She married William Henry Hoskin, Sr., May 28, 1878, and on November 29, 1878 they traveled from Wellsville to Salt Lake City, Utah, where they were sealed to each other in the LDS Endowment House. They became the parents of ten children. (See family group record.)

Charlotte's married life was spent in Wellsville, Utah, where she spent much time in working with the Relief Society of her LDS Ward. Her musical talent was put to use in several musical groups and she and her sister, Esther, often performed together. She had a warm smile and good disposition; many friends and few enemies. She bore no malice for anyone and was a woman of high moral attributes who always set a good example for her family, desiring that her sons and daughters serve their church and community to the best of their abilities.

During the last ten years of her life her activities were limited by several strokes, one of which proved fatal on June 17, 1934, at the age of seventy-five. She is buried in the Wellsville City Cemetery with her husband, and her son says in writing of her, "As she believed in heavenly reward for worthy accomplishments in this life, I am quite sure that she will be exalted to the celestial degree of glory and live in the presence of other heavenly beings in the kingdom of heaven. Hers was a worthy life well lived."

The following excerpts were taken from a history of Charlotte Jenkins, written by her daughter, Zella Hoskin Clark:

"Mother and father loved to dance and they attended many of the dances that started at 8 o'clock, p. m., with supper at midnight, and even 'tho the dance continued on until the wee hours of the morning she was never lacking for a partner.

"They first purchased two lots from Wellsville School District No. 8, and built a one room log house on it. In their early married life they homesteaded a quarter section of land between Wellsville and Mendon. They owned and operated this land all of their life and each summer they would go out and live on the farm, in a one room log house with floor only on half of it, in order to improve upon the land. In the year 1904, their dream for a new home was realized and they built and enjoyed the home where Fred Garrett now lives.

"Mother enjoyed the companionship of her four sisters who lived in town. Aunt Emerine Parker who lived in Mt. Sterling would come with her daughter Mary, each week, driving their horse and buggy. These sisters' love and devotion for each other continued on through the years.

"Mother was neat in her appearance and always knew just what to wear to look the most attractive. Her home was well kept, very neat, and clean. She was a charming hostess and relatives and friends loved to visit at her home and one could always sit down and relax when calling, if only for a moment. She was blessed with charm and dignity and was once told that she could associate with a 'queen' and feel at ease. She was a hard worker in those days with no modern conveniences, having to do washings for a large family, on the board, and scrubbing floors with 'sand' to keep them clean and shining.

"Father always had a lovely garden and mother spent much time taking care of the vegetables, not only for the table in summer but for bottling plenty for the winter too. She loved to cook, her pie-crust would always melt in your mouth and the pickles she made were always, just right! Many people would ask how she made them and it was always, 'Oh, just a little of this, and not too much of that!', 'so one would have to watch her make them to find out how she did it.

"She loved to knit and did lovely lace for pillow cases, sheets and doilies. She also knitted stockings and hose for her children to wear. During World War I, she knitted many pair of woolen socks to be sent overseas to the soldier boys and she, having two sons in the army, (William and Joseph), would often wonder if her own boys, by chance, would receive a pair that she had made.

"She was a kind, patient, devoted, mother and taught her children by example, to live the principles of the gospel.

"Mother suffered several years before her death from high blood pressure but was able to care for herself until almost the last part of her life. She died, June 17, 1934, while visiting with her son William at Ogden, Utah, and was buried in the Wellsville Cemetery."

HOSKIN, Mrs. Leora Jensen Rock, daughter of David Rock and Amanda Jensen, was born September 21, 1904 at Hibbard Ward, Rexburg, Idaho. She was educated in local schools and after graduating from high school, attended Ricks College, Rexburg, Idaho, for two years. She was elected school queen to reign over a week of activities at Ricks. Her social life centered around school activities and social activities of the LDS ward of which she was a member.

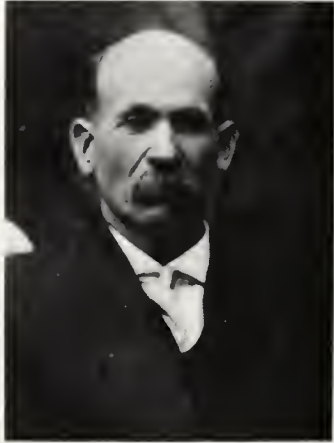

On June 14, 1928, she married William Henry Hoskin, Jr., who was then principal of the local school, in the Salt Lake LDS Temple, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. They became the parents of three daughters, Joyce, Shirley and Rochelle. The family lived at various times in Ogden, Logan, and Davis County, Utah, eventually moving to Salt Lake City, where for the past fifteen years, Leora has given satisfactory service as head hostess at the Hotel Utah.

HOSKIN, Wells Jenkins, son of William Henry Hoskin, Sr., and Charlotte Jenkins, was born October 17, 1896 at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. He was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on November 5, 1904.

On February 19, 1934 he married Doretta Alta Astle (Smith), at Farmington, Davis County, Utah. They became the parents of four children. (See family group record.) This marriage was later solemnized in the Logan Temple, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on June 11, 1947, where they were sealed to each other and their four sons and Doretta's son by her first marriage, Don Junior Smith, were sealed to them at that time.

It was January 9, 1952, that Wells passed away at Twin Falls, Idaho.

HOSKIN, William Henry, Sr., freighter and successful farmer, son of Benjamin Hoskin and Elizabeth Hoskin, was born July 17, 1856, in Thomastown, Schuylkill County, Pennsylvania. His father died soon after his birth and it was not long after this, that the family was converted to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

William Henry Hoskin, Sr.

His mother re-married in 1858, her second husband being Joshua Salisbury, a widower with two children. In 1860 the family traveled to Utah with the John Smith pioneer company. Despite his young age, William walked a good part of the distance.

Church authorities were encouraging an expansion movement at the time the family arrived in Salt Lake City so they soon moved to Cache County, Utah, to assist in the pioneering of the town of Wellsville, where William spent the remainder of his life.

He was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints soon after reaching the age of eight years.

William was married on May 28, 1878, to Charlotte Jenkins, sister of his brother, Benjamin's wife. They were married in Wellsville, Utah, then in November of the same year they traveled the hundred mile distance to Salt Lake City where they received their temple endowments and were sealed to each other in the Endowment House. They became parents of ten children. (See family group record.)

As a young man, William took frequent freighting trips, but spent most of his life in agricultural pursuits. Realizing that the seasonal nature of employment in the community would make it difficult to earn enough to support his family, he filed on one hundred and sixty acres of homestead land north of Wellsville. Light rains had discouraged others who had tilled the land. The first year he raised a heavy crop of alfalfa, but when later crops were light, he devoted his efforts to raising alfalfa seed which enabled him to build a large home in Wellsville.

The family lived in town during the winter, moving to the farm in the spring in time to take care of spring planting. Although many dry farmers in the area failed, William was persistent enough to make a successful career of it. His garden in town provided his family and several others with ample fruits and vegetables to supplement poultry and livestock that they raised.

William was an honest and active member of the LDS Church and was liberal with his financial help when it was needed. He desired that his family would be industrious, and he set the pattern for them by spending long hours to make his dry-farming successful. He spent many hours at a rock quarry across the valley from Wellsville, gathering rocks for the foundation of his house, which he completed in 1913.

During the early 1920's his health became delicate, but although he could no longer be as active as he had been, he was never bedfast with anything more than a cold until his death on March 23, 1922. He was buried in the Wellsville Cemetery, after a most impressive funeral service held in the Wellsville LDS Tabernacle, at which, speakers from Salt Lake City and Wellsville expressed consoling remarks and praised the character, honesty and integrity of Mr. Hoskin.

HOSKIN, William Henry, Jr., school teacher and soloist, son of William Henry Hoskin, Sr., and Charlotte Jenkins, was born January 17, 1887 in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. He was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in 1895.

Regarding his education, he states:

"I was the fourth child and oldest boy of a family of five girls and five boys. This large family was naturally limited as to educational advantages beyond the grammar grades. It was soon apparent to me that secondary education must be obtained financially by doing extra employment than the regular farm work at home, so, all of my school life it was necessary to work after school hours. As a result, grades of high honor were at a premium. However, I finished a business course in four years, and one year of normal work, and in lieu of available employment in industry, I accepted a position as teacher in the junior and senior division of the high schools of Utah.

"Teaching has been very pleasant work in my life. I have been helpful, I feel, to thousands of students, many of them now locally and nationally prominent. This helpfulness compensates in part for the lack of financial gain, which most teachers know they must sacrifice."

On June 4, 1928, he married Leora Jensen Rock in the Salt Lake City LDS Temple. Three children were born to them: Leora Joyce, Shirley, and Dorothy Rochelle.

William served in a signal unit of the U. S. Army in France during World War I. Concerning his experiences in the service, he says, ". . . by August of 1917 we were on board the Olympic, sister-ship of the famed Titanic. . . . which broke wide open in mid-ocean after striking an iceberg head on, resulting in the loss of over eleven hundred lives. Six thousand soldiers and crew, crossed the Atlantic in six and one-half days, landing at Southampton. We were temporarily attached to the British Army after crossing the channel from Dover to Le Havre, France. We were shipped in narrow box cars which could accommodate eight horses or forty men. We crossed France to the city of Rheims, where we bedded down. . . . on a single blanket stretched on the rock floor of the Rheims Cathedral. . . . morning came and we were on our way to Alsace-Lorraine for a training section to get the soldiers used to being under fire. We relieved the 28th Division . . . the "flu" hit our ranks just at that time and the casualties were many. It was necessary to withdraw to an area behind the lines, so we slept in swamps as a camouflage. . . . it soon came fall and November 17, 1917, and the enemy pleaded for an armistice, so our fighting days were ended. We spent the fall and winter doing reconstruction work to keep busy until we could be sent home. This happened in May, 1918."

"Will," as he is known by many of his associates and friends, became principal of the junior high school in Hibbard, Idaho, after his discharge from the service, and during his years of teaching there, became acquainted with his future wife.

In order to get a B. S. degree in education and a teaching certificate which enabled him to continue his work, he taught in Davis County, Utah, schools for two years, Ogden schools for four years, and in Logan. At the same time, he attended summer sessions of Utah State Agricultural College in Logan and the University of Utah in Salt Lake City. He retired from teaching in 1958, but has returned to the profession and is currently teaching mathematics and business at Manilla, Utah.

He is a talented musician and has produced many operettas for the MIA organizations in various wards. He has served as ward chorister and while teaching in Ogden, organized a male chorus which concertized throughout the Intermountain West. He has been baritone soloist for many years and has sung at hundreds of funerals and other church services, fulfilling the promise in his patriarchal blessing that his voice would be heard by thousands.

J

JACOBS, Mrs. Virginia Salisbury, daughter of Joseph Gibbs Salisbury and Ivy Vivian Petersen, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, December 28, 1927. She was the seventh and last child born to her parents.

Virginia has always led an active life. While yet in grade school she had the honor and privilege of being the editor of the "news Reports" sent weekly to the Salt Lake Tribune.

At the age of eight years, she was baptized in the Salt Lake Tabernacle Font and later confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

After graduating from the LDS Primary, she entered the Mutual Improvement Association where she became an "Honor Bee" and later, the "Junior Girl of the Year."

Her youth was a time of happiness and study. She enjoyed learning... especially dramatics and speech. She participated in the high school plays, and had the lead in a MIA play... in 1961 she played a major role in "Arsenic and Old Lace," a community play at Kearns, Utah. She had the honor of receiving a Daughters of American Revolution award in "home-making" while attending East High in Salt Lake City.

Virginia attended the University of Utah, graduating in 1949 with a B. S. degree in education and receiving a vocational teaching certificate. While there she participated in various campus activities, such as: Spurs; Cwean; business manager of the Pen Publication; staff of the Chronical; Founder's Day committee of 1947; Orchesis and Alpha Delta Pi. She also had the honor of being Founder's Day Queen of 1946

In 1948, on the twenty-fourth of September, Virginia was married to Raymond Boyce Jacobs in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah. This union has been blessed with eight healthy, beautiful children. . . five girls and three boys. (See family group record.)

At present, she is actively and happily engaged in the care of her young family and with various religious and civic organizations, viz: the Kearns Fine Arts organization; Little Theater; a leader in the Girl Scouts of America; Kearns Green Thumbers; PTA, Granite School district; teacher in Primary, MIA, Relief Society, of the LDS Church and educational chairman of the Kearns Sixth Ward.

Virginia's testimony of the gospel of Jesus Christ, as a living force in her life, is strong; her faith in prayers and the strength of the gospel, is unswerving. It is her constant prayer that it will ever grow and that she will be a guiding force for good to her lovely children and those with whom she associates.

JOHNSON, Andrew Arthur II, son of Monta Devon Johnson and Edythe Rowena Leatham, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, December 4, 1919. He was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, September 29, 1928, at the age of eight years.

MR. & MRS. ANDREW ARTHUR JOHNSON II

He received his education in the Salt Lake City public schools and graduated with honors from the East High in 1935, at the age of fifteen. He attended both the University of Utah and Denver University. "Andy", as he is known by his relatives and friends, worked at part-time jobs and as a bus boy in a San Francisco restaurant to earn the money needed for his schooling. One summer her worked in Chicago.

During World War II, he served in the U. S. Coast Guard for four years, receiving his "boot" training at Alameda, California. He attained the rank of Chief Petty officer, serving in the recruiting service in Denver, Salt Lake City and Nevada.

On April 24, 1943, Andy married Mary Carolyn Hoart, a graduate of St. Mary's Academy and Loretto Heights College in Denver, Colorado. They are the parents of six fine children.

Andrew has been employed as a salesman most of his life, at which profession he has been very successful.

JOHNSON, Douglas Devon, Lt. Col. U. S. Air Force, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, August 1, 1918, son of Monta Devon Johnson and Edythe Rowena Leatham. He was baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, September 29, 1928, and was active in the Aaronic Priesthood quorums as a youth. He attended public school in Salt Lake City and graduated from East High School in June 1934. From 1935-37, he was a student at the University of Utah and affiliated with Sigma Chi fraternity. He completed his college training at the University of California, Berkeley, California, with a Master of Arts degree.

On November 20, 1938, "Doug," married Florence Poulson of Richfield, Utah. This union has been blessed with five children. (See family group record.)

Prior to World War II, Douglas worked as a salesman for various firms in the Salt Lake City area, primarily wholesale furniture and appliances.

He enlisted in the Army Air Corps as an aviator cadet, in March 1942, and upon completion of flight training he received his "wings" and was sent to England as a B17 pilot in the Eighth Air Force. He participated in the Historic Regensburg raid of August 1943; a shuttle raid to North Africa which developed into probably the biggest fighter-bomber battle of the war. During his tour of duty as a pilot with the Eighth Air Force, he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters.

After World War II, he was commissioned a regular officer in the United States Air Force and assigned to the Air University, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama. In 1949, Doug was assigned to the University of California, at Berkeley, to complete his college studies. He graduated with high honors in 1950, and the Air Force extended his assignment for an additional year in order for him to complete the requirements for a Master of Arts degree which he received in 1951.

In 1952 he was assigned to Headquarters, Air Research Development Command, Baltimore, Maryland, and in September 1954, he was transferred to Hawaii, where he lived for three years with his family.

His next and present assignment is at McGuire Air Force Base, New Jersey, where he is a squadron commander. This work entails several trips to Europe each month. Colonel Johnson also serves as president of the credit union (a cooperative bank) at McGuire AFB., in addition to his other duties.

LT. COL. DOUGLAS D. JOHNSON

JOHNSON, Florence Salisbury, daughter of Ellis Davies Salisbury and Alice Sophia Stoddard, was born October 26, 1891, in Baker, Baker County, Oregon, and was known to all her kinsmen and friends as "Flossie." She was baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, August 2, 1901.

FLORENCE SALISBURY JOHNSON

Florence spent most of her girlhood years in Baker and Union Counties, Oregon. She was so fond of children that she became a "second mother" to the younger ones of the family.

She was married to Thomas Davis Johnson, February 24, 1915, in the LDS Temple at Salt Lake City, Utah. They became the parents of a fine family, two girls and three boys, all of whom survive her.

After her marriage she lived at La Grande, Pendleton, and The Dalles, Oregon, where her husband was shop superintendent for the Union Pacific Railroad Company. Later the family moved to Seattle, Washington, where Florence passed away on November 19, 1953.

JOHNSON, Monte Leatham, educator and scholar, son of Monta Devon Johnson and Edythe Rowena Leatham, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, April 2, 1922. He was baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, July 5, 1930, when eight years of age. He attended the Wasatch elementary School and the Bryant Junior High, in Salt Lake City. He later attended Henager School of Business where he was student body president.

In 1939, Monte graduated from West High School, and subsequently in 1949, graduated from the University of Utah where he received his B. S., degree. He also did two years post graduate work there, and has also attended the University of Colorado and the University of Southern California.

Monte saw service in the U. S. Marine Corps during World War II, and also in the Korean conflict. He enlisted in the Marine Corps, October 26, 1942, was later commissioned a second lieutenant, March 13, 1945, and went to the Pacific theater of war. He was released from military service, December 17, 1945, and recalled to active duty, February 27, 1951, soon after the Korean conflict broke out. He left the service as a captain, U. S. Marine Corps, on June 28, 1952.

On April 19, 1942, he married Lois Slight Garrison. Three children have blessed this union. (See family group record.)

Monte received his Master's Degree and at present holds a general elementary certificate for teaching in the State of California. He taught two years at the Midvale School in Salt Lake County; one year at Riverside School in Salt Lake City; and at the Addams School, Long Beach, California. Presently, he is head counselor in the Long Beach, California, Unified School District.

Monte holds membership in the A. C. E. ; Long Beach Teachers Club; California Teachers Association; National Education Association; and the Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education fraternity. He is a former member of the Marine Officer's League; Utah Teachers Association; Jordan Teachers Association, and the Salt Lake Teachers Association. He is working for, and hopes to obtain, his Ph. D. , in the not too distant future.

JONES, Mrs. Mildred Salisbury, daughter of LeRoy Gibbs Salisbury and Gwennie Blanchard, was born July 28, 1927, in Cache Junction, Cache County, Utah. She was baptized July 29, 1939 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints shortly thereafter. She graduated from North Cache High School in 1945; the Thomas Dee Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, 1948; and then fulfilled a honorable mission to Northern California, for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, returning home to Newton, Utah, May 19, 1950. Mildred and Dr. Edwin B. Jones, whom she married, June 27, 1950, take an active part in the LDS Church. Dr. Jones served as stake clerk in the Detroit LDS Stake, Detroit, Michigan and is now serving as a First Counselor to George W. Romney in that stake. He was former Bishop of the Pontiac Ward.

KENT, Mrs. Barbara Salisbury Maughan, nurse, daughter of Joseph Morgan Maughan and Frances Hoskin Salisbury, was born February 23, 1915, at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. She was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, on March 31, 1923.

Barbara received her elementary education at Floradell School and attended Wellsville Junior High; spent her freshman year of high school at Drummond, Montana, and graduated from South Cache High School, in Utah. She later entered nurse's training at Budge Memorial Hospital, Logan, Utah, and graduated from there in June, 1940.

BARBARA MAUGHAN KENT

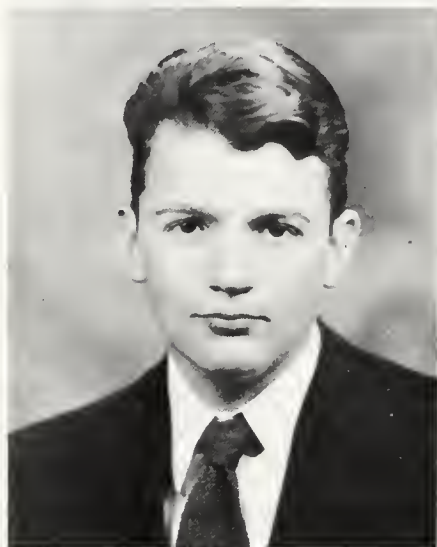

On November 27, 1940, while practicing nursing in Los Angeles, California, she married Howard Roy Kent. Later, they received their endowments and were sealed to each other and their first child, Barbara Jean, was sealed to them in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, on November 4, 1943. Five children, two girls and three boys, have been born to them. (See family group record.)

After graduating from nurse's training and passing her state board examinations, Barbara worked as a nurse for the LDS Hospital in Salt Lake City for a time prior to moving to Los Angeles, where she worked until her first child was born. Her husband, Dr. Howard Roy Kent, graduated from medical school in 1946, and Barbara currently assists him in his practice.

She has held many church positions, including first counselor in the Relief Society presidency, Relief Society president, Seagull teacher in Primary, Cub Scout teacher, and genealogy teacher. She currently teaches a Sunday School class of twelve-year-olds in the ward in which she lives.

Barbara has always done her best to make others happy. She "kept the home fires burning" and took full responsibility for raising her children while her husband was serving as lieutenant commander in the U. S. Navy from 1954-1956. She cared for her husband during his recent serious illness and recovery. Barbara and her family, at the present time, reside in Spring Valley, California, where Dr. Kent has his own practice.

KRANTZ, Darol Ray, fourth child of Henry Clarence Krantz and Ida Salisbury, was born July 11, 1936, in Holladay, Salt Lake County, Utah. He attended the Holladay Elementary school at the age of six. At the age of eight, he was baptized and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

DAROL RAY KRANTZ

He entered the seventh grade at Olympus Jr. High School and while there played trumpet in the school orchestra and also in the band. He attended Granite High School for two years and then graduated from the Olympus High School. On May 19, 1954, he also graduated from Olympus LDS Seminary.

Active in his church, Darol Ray received a citation "Testimonial of Individual Achievement", or individual awards for faithfulness as a deacon, teacher and a priest. He was ordained an Elder, August 21, 1955.

He attended the University of Utah for two years majoring mostly in general subject and also taking a few business classes. While there he played with the University of Utah Band and the Concert Band. With the University of Utah Mixed Choruses, he sang with the Book of Mormon Oratorio and Beethoven's ninth symphony in the Salt Lake Tabernacle. He joined the U. S. Army Reserve in 1956 and in 1958, he and his friend Bob Burgener established a business called, "Broadway Music Company" located in Salt Lake City, which he is operating at this time.

KRANTZ, Eldon LaVar, outstanding violinist, high school teacher, member of the Utah Symphony Orchestra, and son of Henry Clarence Krantz and Ida Salisbury, was born November 6, 1930, in Salt Lake City, Utah.

ELDON LaVAR KRANTZ

At the age of six, he attended the Holladay Elementary School. It was at this time he began his studies on the violin. He played in the school orchestra.

He later attended the Olympus Jr. High School (formerly called Irving Jr. High), where he also played in the orchestra. He sang in the chorus and was asked to sing one of the leading parts in the school operetta. He was concert master of the orchestra. In the spring of 1945 he graduated from Junior High.

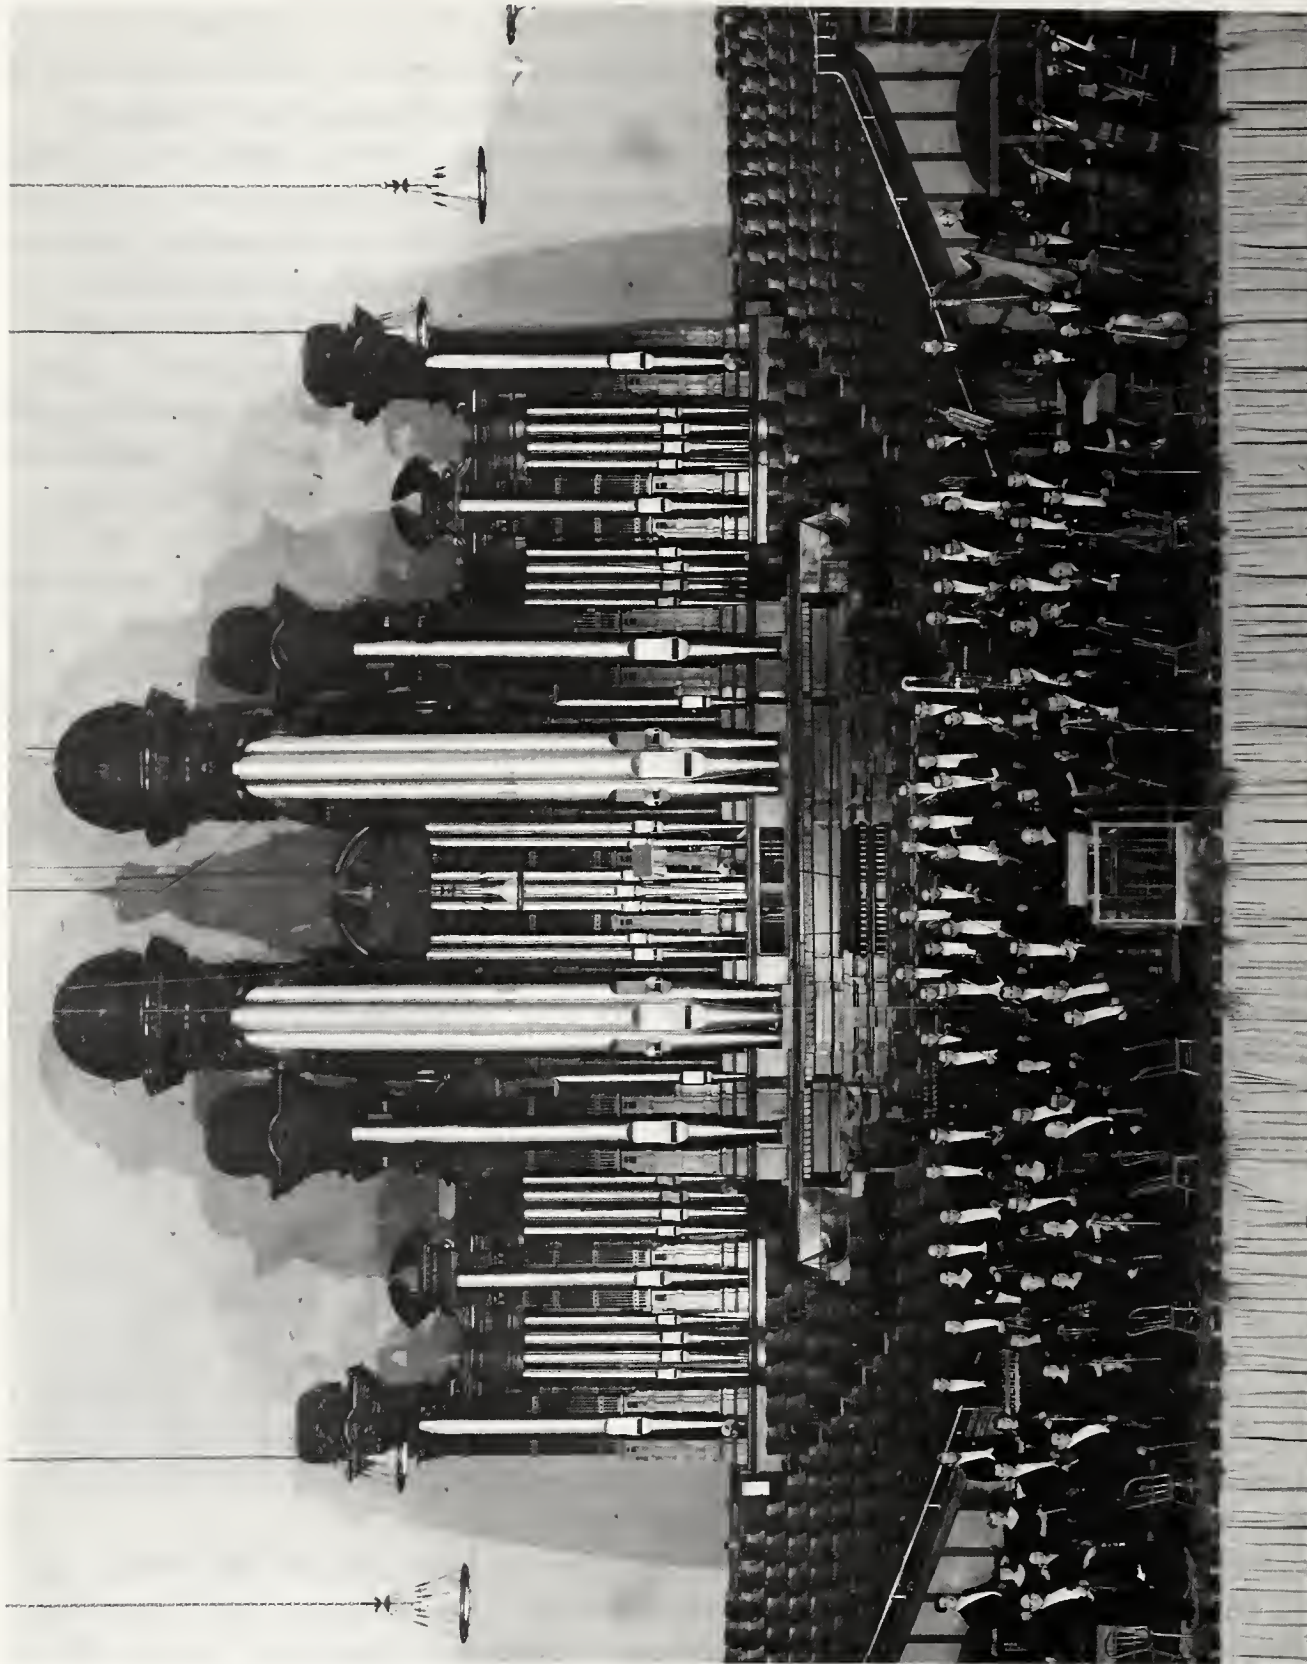

LaVar then attended Granite High School, where he was concert master of the orchestra. During his senior year, he and his sister Marlene won a cash prize for being first place on the talent assembly by playing "Marche Triumphal," a violin duet. They also won first place ($100.00) on a radio talent show, "Flight to Fame" at the Utah Theater in Salt Lake City.

All during LaVar's junior high and high school years, he played in a trio with his sisters, Marlene and Ardel, and played many solos for church services, civic programs, banquets, parties, etc. He also played with the McCune Symphony Orchestra during this time. In 1948, he graduated from both, the Granite High School and the Granite Seminary of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

LaVar entered the University of Utah in the fall of 1948, and in 1949 became a member of the Utah State Symphony Orchestra. In 1950, he was called into active duty in the U. S. Army and was assigned to the 115 Engineers Headquarters Group. At first he was sent to Ft. Lewis, Washington, and then went overseas to Stuttgart, Germany, and around that area. He was released from active duty in 1952.

When he returned from his military service he continued his studies at the University of Utah, and while there he entered the Music Competition at the Utah State Fair, (1954). Having won the talent contest, it gave him an opportunity to play a solo with the Utah Symphony Orchestra and also a tuition scholarship to the University of Utah, where upon graduating, he received his B. S. degree.

On June 4, 1957, LaVar married Alberta Gayle Clayton, daughter of Albert George Clayton and Phyliss Lambert. They were married in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, by President David O. McKay. To this union a daughter was born, August 15, 1957, and was given the name of Valerie Krantz. When Valerie was two month old, her mother passed away from complications following an attack of "Asian-flu."

Eldon LaVar Krantz is a member of this orchestra.

Valerie and LaVar are now staying at the home of LaVar's parents.

During the summer of 1958, LaVar attended the Academy of Music in Santa Barbara, California, and during the summer of 1960 he studied in Aspen, Colorado for two weeks with Anshel Brusilou, Concertmaster of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

KRANTZ, Henry Clarence, husband of Ida Salisbury, was born, June 18, 1903 to Carl Albin Krantz and Gerda Hoglund, in Salt Lake City, Utah. (Sixth Ward-Pioneer Stake)

He attended Jefferson Elementary School, Lincoln Jr. High School, and later was a student at the LDS Business College. He learned the printers trade and worked as a printer.

HENRY CLARENCE KRANTZ

Henry held the various offices in the Aaronic Priesthood and was early ordained an Elder, serving as secretary and class leader in the quorum in the Fifth Ward. He also labored as a teacher in the Sunday School and as a choir leader.

In November, 1923, he left for a mission to Sweden, where he first labored in the city of Goteborg. In the fall of 1924 he took charge of the choir in Stockholm and the following spring he was called to preside over the Stockholm Conference. As an item of special interest it may be mentioned that he, as far as is known, was the first Elder of the third generation of a Swedish family in the Church to be sent from Zion to labor for the spreading of the gospel in Sweden--his grandfather and father having filled similar missions. Henry returned home, January 1, 1925.

Upon his arrival home in Salt Lake City, he was called to direct the music in the Sunday School and the ward choir of the Fifth Ward, and was later called to the Pioneer Stake, Sunday School board.

On August 21, 1929, he married Ida Salisbury in the Salt Lake LDS Temple and they lived for a time in the Second Ward, Liberty Stake. In 1930, they moved to Holladay, Salt Lake County, Utah.

At the request of Bishop James E. Moss, Henry directed the choir in the Holladay Ward, Big Cottonwood Stake, during which time several yearly renditions of the "Messiah" were presented. Several years later he was appointed to the Cottonwood Stake Sunday School Board as music director.

After he was ordained a Seventy, he was made one of the seven presidents of the 172nd Quorum of Seventy. Next he was ordained a High Priest, and in 1951 was set apart as first counselor in the bishopric of the Holladay Second Ward. Mark A. Jackman was bishop and Don Archer was second counselor. At the present time he is ward choir director in the Holladay Eleventh Ward; Sunday School adult class leader and Stake music director of the Holladay Stake.

In 1947, Henry established a successful printing business known as the Hyland Press. The plant is located in back of his home at 4583 Highland Drive.

KRANTZ, Mrs. Ida Salisbury, an active member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, was born, January 10, 1905, to Joshua Edwin Salisbury and Jane Ann Freebairn, at 725 South 8th West, Twenty-Sixth Ward, Pioneer Stake, Salt Lake City, Utah. At the age of five, her father went on a mission to England for the Church and the family moved to the home of their grandmother, Janet (Jean) Freebairn, 426 West 7th South, in the Fifth Ward, Pioneer Stake, Salt Lake City, Utah.

MRS. IDA SALISBURY KRANTZ

At the age of six she attended the Lincoln School and at nine, went to the Grant School, then transferring back to the Lincoln where she graduated. The following year she attended the West Jr. High (now called, Horace Mann School), and after graduating from there she attended the LDS Business College.

Ida was appointed Primary organist at the age of eleven, helping her mother who was president of the Primary association at that time. She worked also as organist in the Fifth Ward Sunday School and then as ward organist, working together with her father who was choir leader.

At the age of sixteen she moved with her family to 4126 South 2nd West, and served as Sunday School organist for Millcreek Ward. Later on, her family moved to the Burton Ward, where Ida directed an operetta called, "Gypsy Rover". The following year she directed "Princess Chrysanthemum."

Ida was called to serve as a missionary for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the Northern States Mission, in 1923, and served for two years--September of 1925. Upon returning home, she directed the Burton Ward choir, then moved with her parents, who were supervising the Salt Lake County Boy's Detention Home, to the McKinley Ward.

It was on August 21, 1929, that Ida married her childhood sweetheart, Henry Clarence Krantz, in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah. George F. Richards performed the ceremony. Henry and Ida have been blessed with four fine children. (See family group record.)

In 1930, Henry and Ida moved to 4583 Highland Drive, at which time Bishop James E. Moss appointed Ida and her husband to direct the Holladay Ward choir. Ida acting as organist.

She was appointed president of the Young Women's Mutual Improvement Association, in 1943, and in 1945, was set apart as president of the Relief Society of Holladay Ward in Big Cottonwood Stake. Ida directed the "Singing Mothers" of Holladay Second Ward and also directed a youth chorus of sixty boys and girls. In 1957, she was appointed by the Holladay Stake MIA Board to be music director of that stake.

In June 1960, Ida was presented an "Honorary Golden Gleaner" certificate which entitles her to wear the Golden Gleaner insignia, by the General Board of the Young Womens Mutual Improvement Association.

It can truthfully be said, "Ida's life has been spent in the service of her fellowmen!"

L

LARSON, Mrs. Martha Salisbury, daughter of Ellis Davies Salisbury and Alice Sophia

Stoddard, was born July 20, 1897 at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. She moved to Oregon with her parents when a small girl and received her schooling there. She was baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints when about eight years of age.

After leaving high school she was employed at the Leishman Drug Company in La Grande, Oregon for about ten years.

She was married to Louis Larson on June 7, 1923 and continued to live in La Grande until 1933 when they moved to Bend, Oregon. After a few years in Bend, they moved to Medford, Oregon, where they resided until 1945 at which time they moved to Salem, Oregon.

Martha and Louis built new homes in La Grande, Medford and Salem and were living in the Salem home at the time of her death on February 26, 1951.

Martha was considered unusually successful in her career in the Drug store in La Grande, and although she was of a quiet nature she made many friends for herself and for her employers. Martha was anxious to help anyone she could and was unexcelled as a cook and housekeeper.

MRS. MARTHA SALISBURY LARSON

LEATHAM, Arthur Hunter, son of William Leatham and Martha Ann Salisbury, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, August 7, 1904. He was baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on August 31, 1912, by David M. Whittaker and was ordained to the Aaronic Priesthood in the Sixteenth Ward.

He attended the Jackson School, and when a boy, stumbled over a sharp scythe which was lying in the basement hallway of that school, cutting the front tendons of his foot just above the ankle. This injury caused a slight limp thereafter in his walk.

Arthur was always industrious. As a boy he worked as a clerk in a drug store after school and on Saturdays. He studied at the LDS Business College and became an accountant. He worked at this profession in Fresno, California, and in Utah.

On May 26, 1927, "Art" married Florence Blanche Snyder. They became the parents of one daughter, Dolores Jean Leatham.

Arthur has lived in California since 1931, working in the hotel business. He holds membership in the National Hotel Greeters' Association and lives in Los Angeles, California. The accompanying photograph was taken in his youth.

ARTHUR H. LEATHAM

LEATHAM, Mrs. Anna Grace Carn, daughter of Thomas Richard Carn and Almeda Ford, and wife of Louis Salisbury Leatham, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, May 30, 1906. She was blessed and baptized in the Fifth Ward, Pioneer Stake, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Salt Lake City, and has always been active in the church.

Grace was educated at Jefferson Elementary School, Lincoln Jr. High, and the LDS Business College, all in Salt Lake City. She was employed with Universal and Metro-Goldwyn Mayer Film Companies until the time of her marriage.

She has taught classes in the YWMLA; served as president of the "Gleaner Girls"; coordinator in the Thirty Fouth Ward Junior Sunday School; participated in the "Girls Youth program" of the church, and as an active member of the welfare committee. From 1952 to 1960 she was vice captain of Camp 34, Daughters' of Utah Pioneers, and is still a member of this organization. Her eligibility to membership in this organization stems from her maternal grandparents Alfred Ford and Matilda Rasmusson.

In 1946, Grace traveled to Europe with her children, living in Germany for three years with her husband who was an officer in the U. S. Army of Occupation. She lived in Mannheim, Wiesbaden and Heidelberg and had the opportunity to travel through Europe, Italy, France, Belgium, Austria and Switerzerland. She enhanced her cultural education by visiting the art galleries, museums, the opera houses and other places of interest. She also made a lovely collection of porcelain.

Grace has been a model example for her children. She has two sons, William Wallace, and Jon Paul, both of whom have served L. D. S. missions to Great Britain, and one daughter, Janet (Penman). At this time she has five grandchildren.

LEATHAM, Douglas Ralph, a twin son of Lee H. Leatham and Leneve Marie Simkins, was born in Fresno, California, June 2, 1944.

A good student, Douglas manages to be amongst the top scholars of his class. He is active as a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Fresno, and has taken trips with his boy scout troop. Douglas can play a good game of golf and is in the school orchestra.

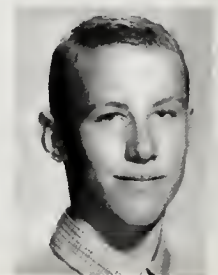

DOUGLAS RALPH LEATHAM

LEATHAM, Dwight James, great-grandson of Joshua Salisbury and a twin son of Lee H. Leatham and Leneve Marie Simkins, was born in Fresno, California, June 2, 1944.

Following in the footsteps of his older sisters, he is working very hard on his school studies. He and his twin brother Douglas, are also proving to be good businessmen by saving a large share of their earnings from a newspaper route for their future college enrollment.

Dwight is also active in his church work at the First Presbyterian Church in Fresno; in the Boy Scout program; as a member of the school orchestra; and in sports. He shoots a very good game of golf. After graduating from high school he plans to attend university.

DWIGHT JAMES LEATHAM

LEATHAM, Hyrum Lee, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, son of William Leatham and Martha Ann Salisbury. He received his early education in the Salt Lake City public schools and attended the LDS University. He has continued his learning through numerous college extension courses such as, engineering economics, electronics, mathematics, civil engineering, etc.

"LEE" LEATHAM

Lee's first business experience was working with the old National Copper Bank in Salt Lake City, and later at the First National Bank at Park City, Utah. He was a charter member of the Salt Lake Chapter of A.I.B. (American Institute of Banking), when first formed in Salt Lake City. In 1920, he went to California and worked for several banking institutions. Lee worked for the Madera Sugar Pine Lumber Company at their mill plant in the high Sierra's, as cashier and paymaster, 1922-25. During this time the mill burned down and Lee was exposed to some first class construction work under severe winter conditions as it was being rebuilt.

In January 1926, he joined the San Joaquin Light and Power Company (now Pacific Gas and Electric Company), as field clerk in the transmission high-line department, later moving into the division superintendent's office in Fresno, California. He has been continuously employed with this company with the exception of three years, 1950-1953, when he was located at the Kern Steam Plant near Bakersfield.

Although Lee was never in the military service, he assisted in the sale and collection of payments on all five of the War Bond Loan Drives in World War I, and he helped support local organizations during World War II.

In 1923 he joined the Masonic Order. At the present time he is a 32nd degree member of Fresno Lodge No. 247 F&AM and the Scottish Rite Bodies, at Fresno, California.

While living in Bakersfield he sang in the "Messiah" of 1952, a community annual choir and has continued singing in the church choirs and the Fresno "Messiah" presentations.

Lee was secretary of the Engineer's Club of Fresno, for two years, and also has served as Secretary of the Sequoia Chapter Central California Credit Union.

On July 12, 1940, Lee married Leneve Marie Simkins, an Oregon State College graduate. This union has been blessed with four children. (See family group record.) In his spare time, he can be found on the golf course or at home enjoying his family.

LEATHAM, Joshua Wesley, son of William Leatham and Martha Ann Salisbury, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, October 10, 1895. He was baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on August 31, 1903. In June, 1926, he was ordained an Elder and became a member of the Elders Quorum in the Thirty-Fourth Ward, Salt Lake City.

As a young man he saw service in both the Mexican Expedition and World War I. He enlisted in the U. S. Army to serve his country in February, 1916, and was a member of Troop D 13th Cavalry Punitive Expedition in Mexico during 1916-17, under the command of General John J. Pershing. At one time Wesley acted as Mexican interpreter.

J. WESLEY LEATHAM and his wife ALDA DECKER LEATHAM

In the meantime, the United States entered World War I, and Wesley was transferred to Battery B., 78th Field Artillery. He went to Europe with this outfit where he served with honor and distinction for thirteen months in France. Prior to his being sent overseas, he was engaged as an instructor of "horse-shoeing" at training camp. He held the rank of sergeant. On July 19, 1919, he received his honorable discharge from the U. S. Army and returned to his home in Salt Lake City, Utah.

For a number of years "Wes" was superintendent of water between Salt Lake City and Colorado on the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad system, with his office located in Salt Lake City.

During World War II, Wesley worked on defense projects such as the Alcan Highway in Alaska and in the oil refinery in Saudi, Arabia.

He married (1st) Alvira Spencer Stewart on June 23, 1926, and (2nd) Alda Mae Decker on November 10, 1941.

Wesley has been employed for a number of years by the State of California and has been assigned on the landscape projects at the Capitol Building ground in Sacramento.

LEATHAM, Jon Paul, missionary, hunter, scout, and member of the National Rifleman's Association, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, Sunday May 28, 1939, son of Louis Salisbury Leatham and Anna Grace Carn. He was baptized in the Rhine River at Mannheim, Germany, and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, on the river bank by his father, on August 2, 1947. He was ordained a deacon, June 10, 1951 and served as president of the Deacon's quorum in the Thirty-Fourth Ward, Salt Lake City. He was ordained a teacher, May 30, 1954; priest, May 29, 1955, and on March 1, 1959 he received the Melchizedek Priesthood and was ordained an Elder under the hands of his father, Louis S. Leatham, who also officiated in all of the above ordinances with the exception of the ordination to the office of priest, which was performed by his brother, William Wallace Leatham.

Jon attended the Jackson Elementary School, Salt Lake City, until November 1946, and then went to Germany with his mother, brother and sister, where he attended the U. S. Army dependent's school in Mannheim, Wiesbaden and Heidelberg.

For three years, 1946-49, Jon lived with his parents in Germany. His father was serving with the U. S. Army of Occupation. While living in this environment, he learned to speak and understand the German language and made many friends amongst the native people as well as the army personnel. He traveled in Switzerland and France and saw many of the art galleries and interesting sights of Europe. Jon also studied fine art, painting under the tutorship of Walter Eimer, Kunstmaler in Heidelberg, Germany.

Jon graduated from the West High School, Salt Lake City, Utah, in 1957. He also attended the LDS Seminary and was a student at the University of Utah for two and one-half years prior to going on a mission to England for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in December, 1960.

He is active in Explorer scout work; he holds the rank of an Eagle Scout with forty-odd, merit badges; the Deseret Recognition Club Award, which is the highest LDS Church award for scouting; and was awarded the "Duty To God" citation, in addition to many Aaronic Priesthood individual awards for faithfulness and achievements in his priesthood duties. During 1960 Jon was a member of the Thirty-Fourth Ward Sunday School superintendency, a member of the Elder's Quorum presidency and assistant scout master.

Jon's hobbies are many and varied. They include the sketching and studying of birds, hunting, fishing, baseball, tennis and football. In 1953, he played with the "Cop's" baseball League, in Salt Lake City, and was captain of the "Dad's Club" basketball team in Heidelberg, Germany, in 1949. In 1954 he was awarded a trophy for the out-standing player on the Thirty-Fourth Ward, Junior softball team; he was the pitcher. He is an active member of the Utah Audobon Society.

On December 4, 1960, Jon left Salt Lake City, via plane, for England to serve as a missionary for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Upon his arrival at mission headquarters he was assigned to labor in the Hull District. At the present (April 1961) he is assigned to the Durham district.

LEATHAM, Linda Joyce, daughter of Hyrum Lee Leatham and Leneve Marie Simkins, was born in Fresno, California, on June 12, 1941.

LINDA JOYCE LEATHAM

She attended the Fresno Public Schools and graduated from the Fresno High School in June 1959. She plans to attend Fresno State College.

Linda was very active as a high school student, having taken part as section leader in the CHORALEERS, and as a member of the swimming group of SYNCHRONETTES, also the Latin Club, SILVER SPOONS, and POTIA, a literary group.

Linda plays the piano quite well and also takes an active part in the youth work at the First Presbyterian Church, where her mother teaches a Sunday School class.

ANCESTORS

If you could see your ancestors
All standing in a row,
Would you be proud of them or not,
Or don't you really know?

Some strange discoveries are made
In climbing family trees,
And some of them you know
Do not particularly please.

If you could see your ancestors
All standing in a row,
There might be some of them perhaps
You wouldn't care to know.

But here's another question: which Requires a different view,
When you shall meet your ancestors
WILL THEY BE PROUD OF YOU??

LEATHAM, Louis Salisbury. There are many roads to success, and many degrees of attainment; but the best combination of ingredients for effective usefulness is to be constantly doing the right thing at the right time--and doing it unusually well. This truth is illustrated in the life of Louis Salisbury Leatham, whose consistent and effective accomplishments have accumulated with smooth regularity throughout his life.

Born November 16, 1902, in the Sixteenth Ward, Salt Lake City, Utah, the son of Patriarch William Leatham and Martha Ann Salisbury, Louis had an excellent start, being the son of goodly parents and possessed of a keen mind and a pleasant personality. (Like President David O. McKay he stems from Scotch ancestry on his paternal side and Welsh on his maternal side). Louis quickly demonstrated the necessary ingredients to success by his alertness and willingness to work. As a boy, he sold newspapers and helped sweep out the classrooms after school. He also helped on his uncle Joseph H. Salisbury's farm in Cache Valley during summer vacations. He took a job later at the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad machine shops, Salt Lake City, but soon shaped his career toward another field. His first business experience was acquired as cash boy at a local mercantile store, after which he became a bank messenger and worked at the stock exchange, stock brokerage houses and at other jobs. He showed talent and interest in the banking business, and thus his career began to take shape, while he earned his way and learned the habits and methods of industry.

His religious life likewise got off to an early start. At the age of ten, he was reported to the police as missing from home. They found him in the Public Library reading the Book of Mormon. He was baptised in the Salt Lake Tabernacle Font February 4, 1911, by George Davis and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints in the Sixteenth Ward by George R. Emery. He received the Aaronic Priesthood and was ordained a deacon January 3, 1916 by Alfred Winn; The Melchizedek Priesthood was conferred upon him and he was ordained to the office of Elder May 25, 1925, by Bishop LeGrande P. Backman; and he was ordained a Seventy, August 31, 1927, by Pres. Rulon S. Wells, just prior to going on a mission to Great Britain. He was ordained a High Priest May 28, 1939 by Marcus O. Funk, and immediately made Secretary of the Salt Lake Stake High Priests' Quorum.

MARCUS O. FUNK was ordained a High Priest 30 March 1894 by Levi P. Helm. (San Luis Stake)

LEVI P. HELM was ordained a High Priest 14 February 1892 by Marriner W. Merrill.

MARRINER W. MERRILL was ordained an Apostle 7 October 1889 by Wilford Woodruff.

WILFORD WOODRUFF was ordained an Apostle 26 April 1839 by Brigham Young.

BRIGHAM YOUNG was ordained an Apostle 14 February 1835 by the three witnesses to the Book of Mormon (Oliver Cowdery, Martin Harris and David Whitmer), "who were blessed by the laying on of hands of the Presidency (Joseph Smith, Jr., Sidney Rigdon, and Frederick G. Williams) to choose and ordain the Twelve Apostles" (D&C 18:37; History of the Church, Vol. 2, pp. 187-188), after which the Presidency laid their hands upon them and confirmed their blessings and ordinations (Times and Seasons, Vol. 6, pp. 868).

JOSEPH SMITH and OLIVER COWDERY received the Melchizedek Priesthood in 1829 from Peter, James and John.

PETER, JAMES and JOHN were Apostles and Angelic Ministers of the Lord Jesus Christ, chosen and ordained by Him in the meridian of time. (John 15:16)

JESUS CHRIST was chosen and given his authority by God the Father in The Council in Heaven before the world was. (Book of Abraham 3:27 -- Pearl of Great Price.)

During his experience as a Mormon missionary in Great Britain (1927-29), he preached the restored gospel in both England and Scotland, traveling extensively and serving in various capacities. At different times he was President of the Aberdeen Branch in Scotland, and Clerk of the Sheffield District in England. During his labors, he served under three well-known and outstanding mission presidents: Elders James E. Talmage; and John A. Widtsoe, of the Council of the Twelve, and Elder A. William Lund, who later became Assistant Church Historian. Before returning home, he traveled extensively through the continental countries of Europe and arrived in New York City and Wall Street at the time of the great stock market crash of 1929.

After returning home from his mission, Louis was married in the L. D. S. Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, September 24, 1930 to Anna Grace Carn, daughter of Thomas Richard Carn and Almeda Ford. This was the beginning of a union which has been richly endowed with blessings and accomplishments. They have two sons and one daughter: William Wallace, an officer of the Walker Bank & Trust Company in Salt Lake City; Jon Paul, now serving on an LDS Mission to Louis S. Leatham with the skippers cap on, 14 July 1928--on the North Sea--while serving as a missionary in Scotland.

Great Britain; and Janet, who is married and active as an officer and teacher in the L. D. S. Primary Association and the M. I. A. The Family has been enriched by a wholesome religious, social, and educational life in which parents and children have participated. Activity in the church has been a basic source of growth and happiness. Other activities have also helped the family to gain recognition for qualities of leadership and character.

Church and civic responsibilities have come to Louis regularly, along with advancement in his chosen profession--banking. Since he was a young man, he has been interested in genealogical and temple work. He served from 1935 to 1940 in the Presidency of the Salt Lake Stake Genealogical-Temple Committee; and he has for a number of years been Secretary and Vice President of the Leatham Family Association; a teacher in the Sunday Schools, M. I. A.; and priesthood quorums. He was Chairman of the Committee which compiled the first ward book of remembrance in the church. (1932). Other assignments have included Stake Clerk and High Councilman in three different Stakes.

He was Chairman of Division Ten of the first Covered Wagon Days parade in Salt Lake City, 1931; and was a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce (1935-36).

He was Cashier and Assistant Secretary of the National Savings and Loan Association of America, 1930-33; he helped organize the Park Fairfield Mining Company and served as its secretary and director (1931-36).

Following the bank holiday of 1933, he became a member of the Utah State Banking Department, helping to liquidate three Building and Loan associations and twenty-three commercial banks which the Department was forced to take over at that time. He also served for a short time as an auditor for the Presiding Bishopric of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

When the USA became involved in World War II, Louis was called from the Officers Reserve Corps, of which he was a member, into active military duty and with his usual forthright application to the duty at hand, and his diligence in the service of his country, he rose to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. During the course of his military duty, he participated in three of the European battles, and at one time was with General Patton's celebrated Third Army. After the war he returned with his family to Germany, living three years (1946-49) at Wiesbaden, Mannheim and Heidelberg.

During his stay in Germany he was appointed Chief

He helped in the reformation of the German currency and the final organization of the German equivalent of our Federal Reserve System. Meanwhile, he gave a series of lectures in the universities and schools of Hesse on the American Banking System.

In 1949, when finances were turned over to the new German Government, Col. Leatham became a staff officer on the General Staff of General Lucius D. Clay, European Command Headquarters in Heidelberg. He took part in planning the logistics of the now famous Berlin Air Lift.

During his military duty he has completed the Command and General Staff Associate Course requiring three years and has attended the War College Field Mobilization school in 1952-53 and 1958. He is now a member of the Reserve Officers Association of the United States. His military decorations are: National Defense medal; American Theater of War Ribbon; European, African, Middle East Medal with three battle stars; WW II Victory Ribbon; German Occupation Ribbon; Armed Forces Reserve Medal with hour glass device and other unit citations, including three over-seas gold bars.

Politically, Louis has been active in the County and State units of the Republican Party, having been secretary of the Salt Lake County Republican Club, 1931-34; and later of the Republican Club of Utah. He was Assistant Secretary of the County conventions in 1934 and 1936, and a member of the State Central Committee of the party in 1936-37.

After his extended service in the United States Army, he became a State Bank Examiner and Chief Savings and Loan Examiner for the State of Utah. He was appointed Bank Commissioner of the State of Utah in 1951 by Governor J. Bracken Lee and was re-appointed for a 4 year term in 1953 with the approval of the State Senate. In 1953 he was Chairman of District Five of the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks at their annual convention in Philadelphia. The District comprised seven Western States and Hawaii. In 1954 he conducted the annual District Five convention in Salt Lake City. Louis has also given many lectures on banking and bank supervision to the Banking and Finance classes at the University of Utah and was President of the State Depository Board (1951-56).

In 1955 Louis compiled and published the Letham or Leatham Family Book of Remembrance a 1080 page book which drew high praise from many sources. It is reposing in libraries of 8 foreign countries and each of the fifty states of the Union. It bears the Library of Congress Catalog Card number 55-6431.

Louis S. Leatham, after serving as President of the Bank of Kearns from 1956 to 1959, has now moved up to become Executive Vice President and Director of the new BEEHIVE STATE BANK of Salt Lake City. As usual he has many varied interests, some of which are: member Salt Lake Clearing House Association; member, American Bankers Association; member Utah Bankers Association; member Kearns Lion's Club; Associate member Utah Security Dealers Association; member Utah Historical Society; member Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce; Public Representative of the Utah State Public Employees Association; member Kearns LDS stake High Council.

The "Who's Who in the World" section of The International Year Book and Statesmen's Who's Who, published by Burkes Peerage in London, England, 1957-58-59 and 60 editions, devotes generous space to Mr. Leatham's accomplishments both in Europe and America.

Obviously, this Mormon boy, who kept the faith and devoted his life to doing many things well, has risen from the ranks into a place of trusted responsibility; and his power of leadership will continue to grow for years to come, thus fulfilling the prophetic words of his father, uttered years ago in giving him a patriarchal blessing:

"Thou shalt be called upon to fill responsible positions both in your state and in your Church, and God will magnify you and make you great".

TUNING IN WITH THE INFINITE

*Elder Louis S. Leatham

Riverside Stake, Salt Lake City, Utah

August, 1956

BY the flip of a switch, many of us today may see and listen to television or radio programmes—some of high quality.

But unless the switch is turned and the proper station tuned in, we do not get the programme we may want.

How similar it is being tuned in with the infinite!

A striking example is given in the Book of Mormon (III Nephi 11: 3-6.) The people on the American continent at that time, called the Nephites, had just witnessed awesome signs and destruction as predicted to come at the time of the crucifixion of the Saviour. A great multitude were gathered around the Nephite Temple in the land called Bountiful.

While there together they heard a voice "as if it came out of heaven." These Nephite people did not understand the voice. We are told that it was not a harsh voice. Neither was it loud, but notwithstanding it was a small voice it "did pierce them that heard it to the centre", yes, it "pierced them to the very soul and caused their hearts to burn."

They heard the voice a second time but understood it not.

And again the third time they heard this small piercing voice. This time, however, they understood it for they apparently had TUNED IN. They had opened their ears to hear it. They had concentrated. They had figured it out in their minds. Their eyes were towards the sound of this voice. They were looking steadfastly toward heaven. Yes, this time they really understood the voice and heard it say unto them—"Behold my Beloved Son in whom I have glorified my name—hear ye him." They had heard the sublime voice of our Heavenly Father. Before their very eyes they then saw a man in white robe descending out of heaven. They thought at first it was an angel. But it was the Saviour of Mankind, the Risen Lord!

Stretching forth his hand he declared unto them: "Behold, I am Jesus Christ whom the prophets testified shall come into the world . . ."

This great manifestation given to these Nephite people was now understood, because their spirits were in tune with the Infinite.

We, as Latter-day Saints at all times should keep in tune with the Church Authorities and with heaven—through our thoughts, our desires, our actions and our prayers. If we do this the gift of the Holy Ghost will in reality be ours and the Holy Ghost who is a revelator will be our shield and our buckler. He will, by a still, small voice, keep us informed of impending personal dangers or prompt us in our thoughts and actions when we are in tune. We will be helped to surmount mountains of difficulty and enabled to keep ourselves clean and unspotted from the sins of the world if we get and keep in tune with God's Holy Spirit!

MY PRAYER

By Dorothy F. Kress

Take my money, take my wealth;
Give me friends and give me health.
Take my prestige, take my fame,
But always leave me my good name.
Take the words that I might rue,
And give to me a tongue that's true.
Take from me all thoughts of vile;
Let my deeds be free from guile,
May I have a humble heart
To keep deceit far from my heart.
May I be a friend to all,
And God's love ever o'er me fall.

The Stick of Joseph in the Hand of Ephraim

by LOUIS S. LEATHAM

MANY Latter-Day Saints do not fully understand how the "stick of Joseph" (the Book of Mormon) can be said to be "in the hand of Ephraim".

Lehi and his sons, according to the Book of Mormon record, are descendants not of Ephraim, but of Ephraim's brother Manasseh.¹

The passage in question, Ezekiel 37: 15-17, reads as follows:

"The word of the Lord came again unto me saying: "Moreover thou son of man, take thee one stick, and write upon it for Judah, (the Bible) and for the children of Israel his companions: then take another stick and write upon it for Joseph (the Book of Mormon) the stick of Ephraim and for all the House of Israel his companions:

"And join them into one stick; and they shall become one in thine hand".

Continuing, Ezekiel 37: 19 reads:

"... Behold I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellows, and will put them with him, even with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in mine hand".

Our Church proclaims that these scriptures are fulfilled by the coming forth of the Book of Mormon. We have put it with the Bible and they are one in our hand, each corroborating the other and the two bearing witness of Christ's divinity.

Certainly the Stick of Joseph, the Book of Mormon, is in the hands of Ephraim today because most of our Church members, as revealed by our Patriarchs are of the seed of Ephraim. But the book itself—or accounts from which it was compiled—apparently was written by descendants of Manasseh. "The majority of the people who have been first to receive the gospel and priesthood of the Latter-Day dispensation are descendants of some of the House of Ephraim scattered among the nations"² and the Book of Mormon is in their hands.

The following information sheds some light on the subject. It was taken from an article by President Franklin D. Richards.

President Richards says:

"...one day in the autumn of that year (1843) I observed... the prophet (Joseph) inside (the Nauvoo Mansion) conversing with one of the brethren... It being a public house, I ventured to walk in, and scarcely had more than time to exchange civilities, when this brother said: 'Brother Joseph, how is it that we call the Book of Mormon, the Stick of Joseph in the hands of Ephraim, when the book itself tells us that Lehi was of the lineage of Manasseh? I cannot find in it about the seed of Ephraim dwelling on this land at all'.

"Joseph replied: 'You will recollect that when Lehi and his family had gone from Jerusalem out into the wilderness, he sent his son Nephi back to the city to get the plates which contained the law of Moses and many prophecies of the prophets and that he also brought out Ishmael and his family,³ which were mostly daughters. This Ishmael and his family were of the lineage of Ephraim and Lehi's sons took Ishmael's daughters for wives⁴ and this is how they have grown together, "a multitude of Nations in the midst of the earth".

"'If we had those one hundred sixteen pages of manuscript which Martin Harris got away with, you would know all about it, for Ishmael's ancestry is made plain therein. The Lord told me not to translate it over again, but to take from Nephi's other plates until I came to the period of time where the other translation was broken off, and then go on with Mormon's abridgement again. That is how it came about that Ishmael's lineage as well as Lehi's was not given in the Book of Mormon'".⁵

Now, in the light of this explanation by Joseph the Prophet and Seer, and with what is said in the Book of Mormon itself about the union of these two families in marriage—Lehi and his family, of Mannasseh, Ishmael and his family, of Ephraim—and the marriage with each other it is seen that the prophecy has been fulfilled. Joseph Smith, publisher of the Book of Mormon, we are told, was a true Ephraimite.⁶

PLUS ULTRA

by Louis S. Leatham

The emblem of old Spain was a shield across the Strait of Gibraltar—the gates of the then known world. After Columbus, there appeared on the ancient emblem the Latin words “PLUS ULTRA”. They mean “more beyond”.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints goes PLUS ULTRA or “more beyond” any other church in its organizational set-up, doctrine, and authority. The ultimate goal for every member is eternal progress. Our horizons extend far beyond the present.

Our Church provides the means for successfully combating the Adversary. Members of the Church need only reach out and make use of the facilities of the Priesthood and auxiliary organizations which have been set up to assist them toward spiritual advancement and happiness.

Non-members of the Church, when they come into the true fold of Jesus Christ, retain all the truth and virtue they have already acquired. They discard only error and untruth. This is because the restored Gospel includes all truth.

Specifically, to enter the Church, a person must go “more beyond” his previous sphere or perimeter and enter into the PLUS ULTRA of light, truth, and knowledge. Baptism by immersion by one holding authority is the doorway. This is followed by bestowal of the gift of the Holy Ghost, which is the spirit of revelation, leading and pointing souls toward the Celestial Kingdom of God.

The courage and stick-to-it-iveness of Christopher Columbus should be emulated by the youth of the Church.

When one is weary before the goal is reached, he should remember Columbus's determination: “Sail on! Sail on! and on!” When filling a Church or other assignment, go the extra mile. When adjusting sights in life, try to see the forest and not just one tree ahead. When worried about realizing immediate blessings or results, look “more beyond” into the celestial promises of our Heavenly Father. PLUS ULTRA! PLUS ULTRA!

LEATHAM, Mrs. Martha Ann Salisbury, wife of Patriarch William Leatham, was born September 15, 1867 in the old LDS tithing office at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah, the daughter of Joshua Salisbury and Elizabeth Hoskin. Two hours after her birth it was discovered that she had been born with small holes in the lobes of her ears, ready for earrings.

She was married to William Leatham on October 23, 1885, in the Logan LDS Temple. Her first child was born seven years later and she became the mother of eight children, one of whom died in infancy.

Martha Ann Salisbury Leatham was a great story-teller. When her children were young they heard the story of Joseph Smith, told in a way that was impressive and never forgotten, thus instilling in the minds and hearts of her children a knowledge of the Gospel and its restoration. On occasions when she attended a vaudeville show at the old Orpheum Theater in Salt Lake, she would tell her children about each and every act in such detail that it was almost like seeing the show in person for her children.

In the early days of her marriage, she lived in Salt Lake City with a couple named Little. Jimmie Little and his wife treated Martha like one of the family. Martha was an attractive woman who liked nice clothes and was noted for the beautiful hats she wore. Mrs. Little had Martha accompany her whenever she went to town or to Saltair and was proud that Martha was so fastidious and had the knack of wearing her clothes so beautifully.

Martha had a keen memory and could tell of many things that happened when she was a child. She could also describe things in detail that were purchased years before, and could give the exact cost of such articles.

When rearing her family in Salt Lake City, she became a wonderful manager, cook and housekeeper. She baked bread every other day (twelve loaves at a time) plus a pan of biscuits. She canned hundreds of quarts of fruit each year; made pickles, chili sauce and catsup; cured hams and bacon; made lard and soap; and did many things to help in supporting the family. Her strength of character and rare good sense were a bulwark for her husband in times of stress and struggle in rearing the family. Often she would play hymns on the family organ for her children.

Martha died on September 29, 1938 in Salt Lake City, where she had made her home since 1904, from complications resulting from a fall in the home two years previously.

LEATHAM, Maxine Elaine, daughter of Lee H. Leatham and Leneve Simkins, was born in Fresno, California, on February 5, 1943.

MISS MAXINE ELAINE LEATHAM

A very studious girl, Maxine has attended the elementary schools of Fresno and is now a student at the Fresno High School.

Active in her church she takes part in the youth program of the First Presbyterian Church where she directs the youth group in narthex where they sing just before entering the sanctuary and where the organist-director is playing.

Maxine is quite serious about music. She takes piano and is now playing for youth groups; plays oboe in the school orchestra; clarinet in Kiwanis orchestra, Thursday nights; and English horn in the tri-county honor orchestra. With Maxine's strong determination to accomplish these things she is really making a versatile musician out of herself.

LEATHAM, Mrs. Rhoda Mae Britt, daughter of Keith Britt and Hazel Dell Reynolds, was born June 6, 1935 in Tacoma, Pierce County, Washington. She was baptized November 2, 1946 in Tacoma by Frankling H. Harris and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, November 3, 1946 by Bird E. Anderson.

Rhoda attended the public schools and completed grades one to eight in Milton, Washington. She graduated from the Fife High School in Tacoma, Washington, after which she attended Knapp Business College, majoring in typing, comptometer operation and business English.

Her employment includes, bookkeeper for a woolen company; collection manager for a Tacoma store; legal stenographer and secretary for a Tacoma law firm; saleslady for J. C. Penney Company and sales supervisor for Beauty Counselor products.

Rhoda has talent in music and renders much service singing solos and playing the organ and piano for the various LDS Church auxiliary organizations. She started playing the piano and organ for the Auburn (Washington) Branch of the LDS Church when only twelve years of age.

Studying voice under the tutorship of German Opera Star BIERDIEN KLOEPPER,

MRS. RHODA MAE BRITT LEATHAM

Tacoma, Washington, 1949-52, and was rated as "excellent" in various solo and ensemble contests during 1952-53. She was guest artist on the radio station in Puyallup KPUY's Talent Parade, 1952, and KMO's Radio station in 1953. As a result of her activities and interest in music, she was offered scholarships in music to three Washington colleges, viz: Central College of education, Ellensburg; Eastern College of Education, Cheney; and Western College of Education, Bellingham.

In 1952 and 1953, Rhoda was selected from the Fife High School as the outstanding senior girl musician by MU PHI EPSILON and presented in public recital.

On June 3, 1955, Rhoda married William Wallace Leatham in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, the ceremony being performed by President Joseph Fielding Smith. At the present time (1961) they live in Salt Lake City and have two fine sons.

Currently, Rhoda is a member of the Primary Stake Board, University West Stake, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Youngest son of Rhoda Mae Britt Leatham--
MICHAEL KEITH LEATHAM--age 7 months.

LEATHAM, Wallace Britt, 2nd great-grandson of Joshua Salisbury, was born July 11, 1956 in Salt Lake City, Utah, son of William Wallace Leatham and Rhoda Mae Britt. He possesses a strong healthy body and an active intelligent mind.

WALLACE BRITT LEATHAM

Britt attends Sunday School and Primary in the LDS East Twelfth Ward, University West Stake, Salt Lake City, Utah, and takes his part well on the programs whenever called upon to pray or give a short talk. He looks forward to being baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints when he becomes eight years of age and plans to start attending school in 1962.

Britt has made several trips with his parents to Tacoma and Auburn, Washington, to see his maternal grandparents and has proven to be a good traveler.

LEATHAM, William Wallace, banker, "Mormon" missionary, soldier and athlete, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, June 16, 1931, son of Louis Salisbury Leatham and Anna Grace Carn. As a member of the Thirty-fourth Ward, Salt Lake City, he was baptized July 1, 1939, in the Salt Lake Tabernacle Font and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, July 2, 1939. His father officiated in both ordinances.

WILLIAM WALLACE LEATHAM

Upon attaining the age of twelve years he was ordained a deacon, June 27, 1943 by Kenneth Horsely; a teacher, July 14, 1946, by Charles G. Wright; a priest, August 14, 1949, by Louis S. Leatham; and an elder on November 27, 1950, by his father.

Wallace was called to serve as a "Mormon" missionary to Great Britain on December 13, 1950, for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints by President George Albert Smith.

Leaving Salt Lake City, January 17, 1951, he arrived in England aboard the "S. S. Queen Mary", January 26, 1951.

He was assigned to labor in the Birmingham District during his entire two year tenure. He visited Ireland, Scotland and Wales while there, and also several European countries enroute home.

In his youth, Wallace was active as a boy scout and attained the rank of Eagle Scout, receiving a complimentary letter from Earl J. Glade who was then Mayor of Salt Lake City, along with his Eagle Badge, in 1947.

During the years 1946 to 1949, he lived with his parents in Germany, attending High school in Heidelberg, Germany, and graduating from the Wiesbaden U. S. Army Dependents' High School in 1948. His travels include, four trips across the Atlantic, most states in the United States, England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, France, Italy, Berlin, Switzerland, Belgium and Canada. In fact as of 1953, one fourth of his life had been spent in Europe.

Prior to filling a mission for the LDS Church, Wallace attended the University of Utah for one and one half years, and upon his return, completed his education at that institution, graduating in 1957 with a B. S. degree in Banking and Finance. He also attended the LDS Business College for a short time in 1953.

Just twenty-eight days after his arrival home from his mission he was inducted into the United States Army, March 28, 1953 and he served for two years with the 2nd Infantry Division as a corporal. He took his basic training with Company "G" 123d Infantry Regiment of the 44th Infantry Division in Fort Lewis, Washington. He also attended supply school at Fort Ord, California. Previously he had served for eighteen months (1949-51) as a corporal in the Utah Air National Guard with the 191st Fighter Bomber Squadron, in Salt Lake City, under the command of Colonel Alma G. Winn.

Wallace has always been interested in sports and was active in basketball and track. In 1949, while a student, he participated in the U. S. Army track meet at Heidelberg, Germany, where he won first place in the 400 meter race; second place in the 200 meter dash and in the 100 meter dash, competing against several thousand U.S. soldiers.

While in Germany he appeared in the cast of the movie, "I Was A Male War Bride," starring Cary Grant and Ann Sheridan, which was filmed near Heidelberg. He also took part in the making of the film, "To Hell And Back," starring Audie Murphy during 1954, while with the army in Ft. Lewis, Washington. This picture was made in Yakima, Washington.

While attending the University of Utah, Wallace worked part-time at the Walker Bank and Trust Company, Salt Lake City, and upon graduation started as a full-time employee with that institution. Advancing steadily, he is now an official of that institution, having been appointed Assistant Trust Officer in January 1961. He was elected Treasurer of the Trust Division of the Utah Banker's Association, May 16, 1961.

Active in his church, Wallace served as ward clerk of the East Twelfth Ward, University West Stake, Salt Lake City, Utah - 1957 to 1960, and is presently a member of the presidency of the Elder's quorum in that ward and is a teacher in the "parent and youth" class of the Sunday School.

On June 3, 1955, Wallace married Rhoda Mae Britt in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah. President Joseph Fielding Smith, officiated. Two fine sons have blessed this union and the family home is maintained in Salt Lake City.

MAUGHAN, Alton Salisbury, farmer, rancher, missionary and churchman, son of Joseph Morgan Maughan and Frances Hoskin Salisbury, was born February 27, 1905, at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. On June 28, 1913 he was baptized by John Perkins and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, July 2, 1913 by Walter W. Jones.

ALTON SALISBURY MAUGHAN
as a young man.

He received his elementary education in Wellsville, graduated from South Cache High School, and attended Utah State Agricultural College, Logan, Utah, for one year before going to Montana to work.

On August 31, 1934, he married Ruth Elizabeth Dunlap, a school teacher whom he had baptized into the LDS Church nine months earlier. They were married in Hall, Montana, and on January 2, 1935, they received their endowments and were sealed to each other in the LDS Temple, Logan, Utah. They are the parents of six children. (See family group records.)

In March, 1929, Alton accepted a call to fulfill an LDS mission to Great Britain. He went first to Birmingham, England, and then served for thirteen months in Wales and eleven months in the Sheffield District before being honorably released in 1931.

From 1931 to 1934 he was a member of the Sunday School superintendency of his ward in Montana, and from 1931 to 1946 he served as a stake missionary. In 1949 he was set apart as Sunday School superintendent of the Allendale Ward in Drummond, Montana, which position he still holds. He and his wife have always been active church members and have encouraged their children along the same lines. Alton is currently a successful farmer in Drummond, Montana. His son Gary served six years as a paratrooper in the U. S. Army in Germany; his son Tommy served as an LDS missionary in the Canadian Mission (1958-59); a son David is now a missionary for the LDS Church in Germany; a son Philip has been active as ward chorister, and a daughter Julia Rae is Sunday School organist.

MAUGHAN, Mrs. Frances Hoskin Salisbury, daughter of Joshua Salisbury and Elizabeth Hoskin, was born September 3, 1874, at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. She was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on September 2, 1882.

MRS. FRANCES H. SALISBURY MAUGHAN

On April 20, 1892, she married Joseph Morgan Maughan in the LDS Temple, Logan, Utah. They became the parents of eight children. (See family group record.)

Frances was active during her entire life in the auxiliary organizations of her church and served as president of the Wellsville Ward Relief Society for several years.

She maintained a real home where relatives and friends were always welcome and received warm hospitality and friendship.

Frances died on January 23, 1934, in a Salt Lake City hospital, of complications following an operation and was buried four days later in Wellsville, Utah.

The following poem by Mary H. Mitton of Wellsville, Utah, was read and dedicated to her memory at her funeral services held January 27, 1934, in Wellsville, Utah.

HELP ME TO SERVE.

Help me to serve thee Lord I pray,
Help me to walk thy narrow way,
While in this life of sin and strife
Help me to gain Eternal Life.

Help me to see the sun's bright ray,
Dispelling clouds from out my way
Help me to see the blooming flowers
Casting away the thorns and briars.

Help me to see the good in man,
Giving service where ere I can,
If I should ever go astray
Lead me back, Oh Lord I pray.

Help me to serve with all my power,
Gaining thy blessings every hour,
Help me to serve in thy great plan
Bringing happiness unto man.

Help me sustain a liberal heart,
That I may ever do my part,
To cheer the sad and feed the poor,
And comfort all who leave my door.

Help me the good in life to see
While loving all humanity,
That through thy power I may find grace
And in thy kingdom find a place.

From the old family album - Joseph Morgan Maughan and his young bride Frances Hoskin Salisbury soon after their marriage.

MAUGHAN, Irvine Salisbury, son of Joseph Morgan Maughan and Frances Hoskin Salisbury, was born November 19, 1893 at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. He was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on November 30, 1901 and confirmed December 1, 1901.

from the "old family album."

His elementary and junior high school days were spent at Wellsville and he attended one year at Brigham Young College Logan, Utah. During his school days, he was active in sports, especially basketball and wrestling.

Irvine married Hilda Carolyn (or Caroline) Clawson and they became the parents of seven children. (See family group record.) Their marriage was later solemnized in the LDS Temple, Logan, Utah, March 30, 1921.

They lived in Wellsville, Utah, until 1924, after which they moved to Baker, Oregon.

Irvine suffered a serious illness during their stay in Oregon and following his recovery the family moved back to Utah; then to Dayton, Idaho, and finally back to Wellsville. Irvine is now a resident of Salt Lake City, Utah.

MAUGHAN, Joseph Morgan, successful retired farmer, son of William Harrison

Maughan and Barbara Morgan, was born September 26, 1872 in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. He was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in May, 1881.

On April 20, 1892, he married (1st) Frances Hoskin Salisbury in the LDS Temple, Logan, Utah. Eight children were born to them. (See family group record.) His wife Frances, died January 23, 1934, and on February 14, 1945 he married (2nd) Laura Elvina Christenson Gyllenskogg in Logan, Utah. Since that time he has lived in Smithfield, Utah, and performs vicarious work in the Logan LDS Temple and is active in other phases of church work.

MAUGHAN, Joseph Salisbury, World War I soldier, athlete and agronomist, son of Joseph Morgan Maughan and Frances Hoskin Salisbury, was born September 26, 1898, at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. He was baptized November 3, 1906 by William H. Maughan and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on November 4, 1906. He was ordained an Elder August 6, 1917 by George Perkins.

JOSEPH SALISBURY MAUGHAN as a young man.

His elementary and junior high schooling were received in Wellsville and he attended South Cache High School for two years, graduating in 1917 from Brigham Young College, Logan Utah. In 1923 he received his Bachelor of Science degree in agriculture from Utah State Agricultural University, now Utah State University, Logan. Joe played guard on the college football team.

On April 26, 1926, he married Jeanne McGaven in Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Serving in France with the American Expeditionary Forces during World War I, he received his discharge in January, 1919.

Following his graduation from university he taught and coached at South Cache High School and Preston, Idaho, High School for two years each. This was followed by a teaching and coaching job at Lyman, Wyoming, High School, after which he coached and played one year of track and football on a semi-professional basis for the Union Pacific Railroad at Green River, Wyoming. For the following two years he taught and coached at St. Anthony, Idaho, High School.

In 1931, he and his wife moved to Boise, Idaho, where he served as district manager for the Maytag Company. In 1935 he joined Oakley Electric Company and served as manager, as well as having a partnership in the firm. In 1942, after the United States entered World War II, he was assigned to the Department of Agriculture and managed four F. S. A. labor camps in Idaho, Oregon, and California. In 1943 he became county supervisor for F. S. A. in Malheur County, Oregon, and is now serving his third term as county committeeman there. In 1944 he accepted a special appointment with the Amalgamated Sugar Company, Nyssa, Oregon, and works with some 200 farmers, supervising their beet crops and financing their needs. In 1958 his station received over 201,000 tons of beets, valued at more than two and one-half million dollars.

In 1955 he received a one year appointment from the United Nations, to serve as agronomist for Israel. He accepted the appointment but his request for a leave of absence from Amalgamated Sugar Company was turned down, due to their need for his services. In February, 1959, he received a special invitation from the Israeli government to attend their Agronomist Symposium, celebrating the tenth anniversary of the founding of their country, but was unable to accept because of the pressure of his duties with his company.

Joe and his wife Jeanne are noted for the unselfish service they constantly render to their fellowmen.

McCARTHY, William Earl, son of James Tujios and Martha Vera Leatham, was born August 3, 1912 in Salt Lake City, Utah. He was baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, April 30, 1921.

He received his elementary and secondary education in the public schools of Salt Lake City and graduated from West High School in 1930. While attending West High School, "Bill" was active in Reserve Officers Training Corps and in May 1930 was chosen as the most efficient platoon commander, being awarded the Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce R. O. T. C. Medal. He was promoted from lieutenant to captain after parading and demonstrating his platoon before Governor George H. Dern, who later became U. S. Secretary of War. He was tendered an appointment to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point but due to a broken ear-drum was unable to pass the physical requirements.

For several years he worked as a tax accountant and office manager for the Utah State Tax Commission and is at present an auditor for one of the national finance companies operating in Utah.

WILLIAM E. McCARTHY

On September 10, 1937 he married Naomi Hovey in Salt Lake City, Utah. The marriage was later solemnized in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, on October 16, 1958. They have five children, all of whom have been sealed to them in the LDS Temple. (See family group record.)

Bill is active in church work and serves as the clerk of the Twenty-First LDS Ward in Salt Lake City, Utah. The family resides at 539 Seventh Avenue, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Douglas Neal Suffers Fatal Injury as Car Slices Telephone Pole

PAYETTE — Douglas Neal, 18, son of Robert Neal, Ontario, was fatally injured shortly after midnight Friday when the car in which he was riding left Highway 30N-95 north of the Payette river bridge and sheared off a telephone pole.

Neal and the driver of the car, Edward Thomas Pierce, 18, were taken by ambulance to Holy Rosary hospital at Ontario.

Neal succumbed to his injuries about 10 a. m. Saturday. Pierce, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Pierce, Ontario, route 2, was discharged from the hospital Saturday morning.

Investigating officers said Pierce's car passed a vehicle and grazed an oncoming car, going out of control and off the road against the pole. The north-bound car was driven by Larry Hjorth, Fruitland, who was uninjured.

Decision on whether or not there will be an inquest will not be made until after Monday, Prosecuting Attorney Dwaine L. Welch said Saturday afternoon.

Douglas Vern Neal was born July 13, 1942, and had resided at Ontario for five years, graduating from Ontario High school in 1960.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by a brother, Larry, and his grandmother, Mrs. Scio to Salisbury, Salt Lake City.

Services will be announced by the Beechler chapel, Ontario.

NELSON, Mrs. Elizabeth (Bessie) Salisbury Maughan, daughter of Joseph Morgan

Maughan and Frances Hoskin Salisbury, was born November 17, 1901 at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. She was baptized December 4, 1909, by Richard Brenchley and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on December 5, 1909 in Wellsville, Utah, by Heber Parker. On October 2, 1924 she married Lowell S. Nelson and they became the parents of two children, Elaine and Lowell Blaine. (See family group record.)

As a child, Bessie lived near her mother's parents, Joshua and Elizabeth Salisbury, and learned from them to have a great love for the Lamanite people. This affection stood her in good stead when, as an adult, she received the assignment to teach Relief Society theology lessons to the Lamanite women of Bannock Creek Branch, West Pocatello LDS Stake. Other church positions she has held include Sunday School teacher, Primary teacher, Relief Society social science teacher, and Improvement Era director. She has done vicarious temple ordinance work in the LDS Temple in Cardston, Alberta, Canada; Idaho Falls, Idaho; Logan, Salt Lake City, Manti, and St. George, Utah; Mesa, Arizona; Los Angeles, California, and Laie, Hawaii.

Among her faith-promoting experiences, which include visits to the Sacred Grove and other places important in early LDS Church history, she describes the following experience at the dedication of the Relief Society Building in Salt Lake City on October 3, 1956. "Out of a packed house, there were two reserved seats by me, unoccupied by mortals; yet I felt the presence of my grandmother Elizabeth Hoskin Salisbury who had served eighteen years as president of the Wellsville Ward Relief Society, and my mother who had served several years in that capacity also. At the close of the meeting, President David O. McKay said, 'We have had unknown spirits here with us today.'"

Bessie has a strong testimony of the gospel and has always done her best to impart it to others by precept as well as through example and the life she lives.

She and her husband now reside at 277 South Hayes, Pocatello, Idaho.

LOWELL BLAINE NELSON

He was born January 14, 1932, at Smithfield, Cache County, Utah. Blaine was baptized March 2, 1940 by Ned Miles and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on March 3, 1940 by Elder Merlin T. Van Orden.

He spent his first school year in Drummond, Montana, but received the remainder of his elementary schooling in Smithfield, Utah. His junior high school and high school days were spent in Logan, Utah. He served as junior high school studentbody president and during his senior year at the Logan High School, he received a scholarship to enable him to attend college. He received his Bachelor of Science degree in mechanical engineering, at the Utah State University on June 6, 1955.

On March 8, 1957 Blaine married Joyce Marie Wolfersberger in the LDS Temple, Laie, Oahu, Hawaii.

During his youth he was active in the 4-H Club and won many awards for his farming abilities. Music and athletics also played an important part in his life, but the most vital part of his life was the Church and his faith in the Lord. According to his mother, even when suffering from polio and other sicknesses, he never lost faith in his Heavenly Father, and when offered the scholarship to college, he immediately asked his stake president and bishop for their opinion as to whether acceptance of the scholarship might keep him from going on a LDS mission.

On June 3, 1955 he was made an ensign in the U. S. Navy and on November 1, 1956 he was designated Naval Aviator Lieutenant. He spent two and one-half years in Hawaii with the U. S. Navy.

He and his wife are currently living in Salt Lake City, Utah, where Blaine teaches part-time at the University of Utah in addition to taking classes and working for the Upper Air Research Project Experiment Station.

NELSON, Lowell S., son of George Alvin Nelson and Lydia Gertrude Low, was born in Cardston, Alberta, Canada, December 9, 1900. In 1907 he moved to Smithfield, Utah, where he attended school and learned to operate his father's farm. He became an employee of the Union Pacific Railroad in 1947 and moved to Pocatello, Idaho.

Lowell married Elizabeth (Bessie) Salisbury Maughan, October 2, 1924, in Farmington, Utah. The marriage was later solemnized in the LDS Temple, Logan, Utah, on February 10, 1926.

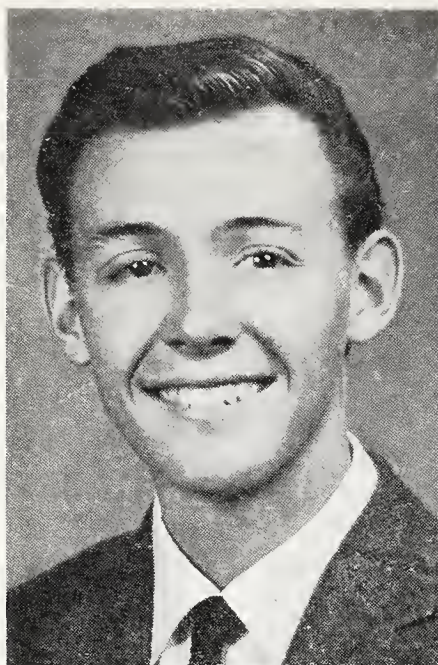

Always active as a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, he has served in many positions in the wards and branches where he has lived.

NIELSEN, Mrs. Marlene Krantz, musician, and member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, was born November 30, 1932, at 2000 South State Street, Salt Lake City, Utah. She is the second child of Henry C., and Ida Salisbury Krantz.

MRS. MARLENE KRANTZ NIELSEN

She began her first grade school studies at the age of five, at the Holladay Elementary School, Salt Lake County, Utah. She also started at this time to study the violin with her aunt Lucile Kimball Salisbury and was a member of the school orchestra.

Marlene began her seventh grade studies at the Olympus Junior High School where she was a member of the Glee Club and school orchestra. She was concert mistress of the orchestra when she was in the ninth grade and also sang one of the leading parts in the schools Christmas Cantata.

She attended Granite High School and enjoyed sewing classes, along with her musical interests. She was a member of the mixed chorus there, and also the orchestra. She participated in many of the operettas and musical programs at that school.

Marlene and her brother LaVar, won a cash prize for first place on the talent assembly by playing "Marche Triumphal" a violin duet. They also won first place and $100 on a radio talent show "Flight To Fame" at the Utah Theater.

At the age of five, she commenced her musical career by playing "Ava Maria" by memory, for a Christmas program in the Holladay LDS Ward and since that time has played for many LDS services, civic programs, banquets and parties. In 1946, when she was in the eight grade, she played with the McCune School of Music Junior Symphony, and played with this group for several years thereafter. She graduated from the Granite High School and the LDS Seminary, in 1950.

She attended the University of Utah in 1951-52 and '53, majoring in music. She was also a Sunday School teacher at this time and taught the eight year olds, for a number of years. While at the Institute of Religion, on the campus of the University, she was a member of Chi Chapter. In 1952, Marlene became a member of the Utah State Symphony and played first violin for three years with them, while, at the same time, she played for quite a few of the Utah Opera Productions. In 1953 she became the wife of Robert B. Nielsen and the following year he was taken into the U. S. Army and soon thereafter, she went to Fort Ord, California, to join him. Subsequently they went to Fort Belvoir, Virginia, where he was stationed for a year and a half. Her first child was born May 21, 1955, at the Fort Belvoir Hospital and was given the name of Giselle. Returning to Salt Lake City in 1956 they lived at 1325 East 8425 South, Sandy. Marlene divorced Mr. Nielsen in 1958 and has since made her home with her parents in Holladay, Utah. At the present time, she is a member of the Utah Symphony Orchestra.

P

PARKER, Mrs. Edna Salisbury Maughan, The following is her personal history as told by her daughters, Marie and Karen: The daughter of Joseph Morgan Maughan and Frances Hoskin Salisbury, Edna was born June 25, 1895 at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. She was the second child of a family consisting of three brothers and three sisters. Her early life was filled with happy times in a happy home where relatives and company were always welcome.

Beloved in her memory were the memorable visits to her grandparents, Joshua and Elizabeth Hoskin Salisbury. Her grandmother Elizabeth Hoskin Salisbury often quoted a maxim that whatever you wasted you would want for someday. This philosophy she incorporated into her life, and she tried to instill frugality into her children. Her other grandparent, grandfather William H. Maughan, along with his wives, often came to her mother's home for dinner. The hospitality of her mother was another trait that she has patterned her life after.

Her education began in Wellsville. She graduated from Brigham College in Logan, Utah, at the age of nineteen. After graduating she chose to teach school at Avon for one year and then at Wellsville for two years.

When she was seventeen, she was chosen "Queen of the May" for the May Day celebration and it was there that she first attracted the attention of her future husband. At the age of twenty-two, she married Fred Cooper Parker in the LDS Temple in Salt Lake City, Utah, on June 5, 1918. Soon thereafter the couple left for a honeymoon in Montana via the parks, losing her two suitcases containing her personal things and trousseau. Bereft of items needed to make her life more pleasant, she nevertheless decided to be the best possible wife, mother, and neighbor in this mixed community of Methodists and Catholics to make her life a light that would shine toward her non-mormon neighbors.

Fred and Edna Parker became the parents of eight children, two boys and six girls. Three children, Mildred, Maureen, and Lynn, died in childhood. One other daughter, Anna Lou, along with her husband and baby, was killed in an airplane crash in 1957. The other four children grew to maturity and completed their college education in Utah.

Edna has been active in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints throughout her life. She taught Sunday School when she was fifteen years old and soon thereafter was enlisted to be a Primary teacher. For nineteen years she served as president of the Relief Society of the Allendale Branch, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, in Drummond, Montana. Her abilities as an executive also gave her the position of president of the Primary for three years and she also served as president of the YW-MIA for three years. As the Allendale Branch was a small one, she, as did many others, held several positions. She served on a stake mission in Montana and one with her husband on their return to Utah in 1955. Since returning to Utah, she has served on the Stake Relief Society Board and the Stake Genealogy Committee. She and Fred have spent many days during the winter months doing temple work in the Logan Temple and they have gone through all the LDS Temples in the United States and Canada.

Service to her church has not exceeded her service to her fellow men. Her home has always been open to missionaries and anyone who was alone at church on Sunday would be invited for dinner. She is an excellent cook and was always willing to share that which she had with those who were in need. If anyone was sick, she would be sure to help with food, care and comfort. Many people came to her for a salve she made, the recipe having been given to her by an old man who in turn had received it from an English nurse.

She has never hesitated to discuss the gospel with whomever she came in contact, regardless of their position or the circumstances. A recent experience exemplifies this quality. In October, 1960, two escaped convicts from Montana State Prison came to their home in Montana with a loaded gun and asked to be fed. Always afraid of a gun, she told them she would fix something for them if they would put the gun outside. While they ate, she read them a talk by President J. Rueben Clark and afterwards had them write a letter to their mothers. Both she and her husband told them that they would be much better off if they would turn themselves in and, five hours later, after midnight, they drove them back to the prison, thirty-two miles away. Fred and Edna have visited the boys in prison and gave them a Book of Mormon. The money they received for turning them in was sent to the families of the two men.

At the present time, November, 1960, she spends her life as she has done in the past, serving her family, her fellow men, and her church.

PARKER, Fred Cooper. The following is his personal history as told by his daughter, Karen: Fred was born in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah, December 27, 1888, the ninth child of a family of eleven, to Heber Thomas Parker and Sarah Ann Cooper. He grew up in Wellsville, Utah, and attended the old rock school house in the south end of town until the fourth grade. He then went to the Central school and continued his education until the eighth grade but did not graduate because he thought it was too cold to march. He later attended the Brigham Young Academy for a year prior to going on a mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

He spent his early years working on the farm with his father and three brothers. The farm was a large one and his father was in a partnership with his brother, Willard. In the spring Fred helped milk sixty or seventy cows at Mud Springs, six miles south of Wellsville. He began his lifelong pastime of fishing, early in life, and would ride with his brother Heber to Paradise on horseback, to fish. As do many young boys, he teased his sisters and remembers being chased by his sister "Teen" because he would come in on her clean scrubbed floors.

Fred received a missionary call for the LDS Church during the summer and left on a mission to England in the fall of 1909. The trip by sea was a long one, and seemed especially long to Fred as he was seasick much of the time. Upon reaching England, he though he would stay there rather than travel back the same way, but was ready again, two years later, to return. He labored in Ripon, Yorkshire, England, for nearly a year; then was transferred to Harrogate for a few months and then to Halifax. He was called to Bradford and was president of the Leeds conference the last eight months of his mission. He was met by President Charles W. Penrose, president of the European mission when he arrived in England, and he was also personally visited in Bradford by President Rudgar Clawson, who succeeded President Penrose. Fred thought England was a beautiful country and could not imagine the Garden of Eden more beautiful.

He returned to Wellsville in February, 1912, and worked there until the following fall when he went to McGill, Nevada, and worked there at a smelter. While in Nevada he lived with his brother and his wife, Harry and Ella. He returned to Wellsville for spring work and lived at home for a year.

In June of 1914, his father died just before the completion of his new home, two blocks north of the present home of Fred and Edna Parker. In the fall of 1914 the partnership was dissolved with his uncle Willard and the rest of the estate was divided between his mother who received one-third and the rest was divided into various pieces and a set value put on them. If one of the children wanted a particular section he would have to bid higher than the others. Each child was to receive between $8000 and $9000 and if one of them went over in his bid, he would have to pay those who were under their share.

Although they had grown up in the small town of Wellsville, the six and one-half years difference in their ages prevented Fred from meeting Edna Maughan until he returned from his mission. He first noticed her when she was queen of the May. He took her on buggy rides until he bought his first car, an Oldsmobile, in 1915.

In December, 1915, Fred went to Montana with John Hill and several others. By the next spring he had bought 228 acres of land and had shipped cattle there in the spring of 1916. That fall he bought more land, the site of his home ranch. He went deeply into debt in acquiring the land, as land was then high and dollars were scarce. In the spring of 1918, he was going to buy one place for $12,000, but he went to Utah for six weeks, during which time he became engaged to Edna, and when he returned the price had risen to $15,000.

He married Edna Salisbury Maughan, June 5, 1918, in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah. They bought a new Page car which they drove to Montana, but which was nearly worn out by the time they went through Yellowstone Park and reached the ranch in Montana. They have made many trips in their lifetime between Montana and Utah and they continue to travel between the two places.

Fred has been active in the LDS Church and has served in many positions. He was in the Sunday School superintendency for several years before he went to Montana. When he first moved to Montana the branch did not have a chapel and the members met in the homes of the members for two years.

The branch was organized in 1917 and the first chapel was built in 1918. He was made branch president in 1921 and served until 1929 when he, with his family, returned to Wellsville for two years. After returning to Montana he was branch president from 1937 to 1954 when they again returned to Wellsville.

During the last few years, he has served as a stake missionary and on the high council of the Hyrum Stake.

Since their return to Utah, both Fred and Edna have tried to attend the temple at least one hundred times a year. They have also attended all of the LDS Temples in the United States and Canada.

Fred has been active in many organizations, so many that Edna calls him "Andrew H. Brown!" He was chairman of the Board of Allendale Irrigation Company for nearly twenty-five years; trustee of school in Drummond and Hall, Montana; president of the Drummond, P. T. A., chairman of the AAA program for many years, and director and later president of the Deer Lodge National Loan Association.

Although he remembers his father saying that he could walk to New York and back before Fred could get out of bed in the mornings, he changed his habits when responsibility came and has made it his rule to get up when the sun comes up--very early in the summer and later in the winter.

He has always been a hard worker who could outwork those around him. He has a great love for ranching and likes to walk out to see his stock. He believes in living off the goodness of the land and has loved to go fishing and hunting throughout his life. His neighbors and friends have noted him as being able to catch fish when no one else can, although he attributes his skill to "holding his mouth right."

Although he ended his formal education early in life he has always read religious, political and current literature and news, which has given him a liberal education, more than equivalent to the college education he provided for his children.

On April 13, 1961, Fred passed away in Montana and was buried, April 17, in Wellsville, Utah, after a beautiful funeral service in his memory. He is mourned by his loved ones and all who knew him.

PARKER, Karen Frances, daughter of Fred Cooper

Parker and Edna Salisbury Maughan, was born in Hall, Montana, January 9, 1935.

When eight years of age she was baptized by Alton Maughan and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. She grew up on the family ranch and attended Hall Grade School for eight years, Drummond High School for four years and Girls State during her junior year at high school. She was valedictorian of her class at high school graduation exercises. Karen continued on with her education, graduating from the Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, in 1956, with a B. S. degree, a major in English and a minor in music.

She taught school in Ely, Nevada for two years and after the first year she took a trip to Europe on a BYU tour and traveled in fourteen countries during the two months visit.

Karen also taught English at Oakdale, California for two years and then returned to the Brigham Young University for graduate work while teaching freshman composition.

Active in church she has served in the Mutual Improvement Association as chorister, speech director, Stake music director, Stake Gleaner leader and ward activity counselor and has served as chorister and teacher in the Sunday School.

Karen has a lovely voice and has participated and sang in both solo and choral performances.

PENMAN, Franklin Lewis, architectural designer, athlete and churchman, was born in Bountiful, Davis County, Utah, June 1, 1928, the son of Franklin Henry Penman and Johanna Edwards. He was baptized June 6, 1936 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints the following Sunday.

FRANKLIN LEWIS PENMAN with his son
Lewis Leatham Penman in his arms.

Lewis received the Aaronic Priesthood, being ordained to the offices of Deacon, Teacher and Priest in the Thirty-Fourth Ward. On August 29, 1954, he was ordained an Elder by Louis S. Leatham of the East Riverside Stake High Council, who was soon to become his father-in-law.

Educated in the public schools of Salt Lake City, viz: Jackson Elementary, Jackson Junior High, and West High Schools, Lewis pursued architecture at the University of Utah. He was also enrolled at the Salt Lake Area Vocational School where he studied rendering and design. Here he won First Prize, for his home design in school-wide competition.

Being an ardent lover of the arts, he has won several First and Second place ribbons at the Utah State and Salt Lake County Fairs, with his watercolors. Recognized for his ability he is invited to exhibit at the Art Barn in Salt Lake City. For the past six years he has worked with William E. Nelson, AIA Architect, and hopes to apply for his licence as an architect in the near future.

Lewis served his country in the Armed Forces of the United States from November 1950 to October 1952. He was sent to Europe, where he spent sixteen months with the 2nd Armored Division in Germany.

On September 3, 1954, Elder Penman married Janet Leatham in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah. Three lovely children have blessed this union, Lewis Leatham Penman, Laura Penman, and Leslie Ann Penman. In October 1959, the family moved into a new home located at 474 West 5465 South, Murray, Utah, where there is ample room for family living and room where Lewis can draft and paint.

He served on the Riverside Stake Board of the YMMIA in 1955, prior to his moving to the Sixteenth Ward. There he served as President of the Second Quorum of Elders and as Age-Group Counselor in the YMMIA (1955-58). He was then called to become assistant clerk of the Riverside Stake, serving in this capacity until moving to Murray, (1958-59). In the Murray Second Ward, he serves as ward clerk. In addition to these positions, Lewis is a faithful-ardent-zealous teacher, teaching classes in the Priesthood, Sunday School, and MIA. He achieved the Master M-Men Award in 1958.

Lewis's activities are many, and in the sports world his first love is basketball. Softball also holds his interest and he participates in this seasonal game every year. He has played in the All-Church Basketball and Softball Finals. He also plays a good game of tennis.

F. Lewis Penman is a devoted husband and father and takes much pleasure in the company of his family.

At the present time Lewis is an associate member of the firm of William E., and William H. Nelson, Architects.

PENMAN, Mrs. Janet Leatham, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, April 14, 1933, the daughter of Louis Salisbury Leatham and Anna Grace Carn. She was baptized May 3, 1941 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on May 4, 1941.

Janet had a happy childhood and busied herself playing school, dancing, dressing up, playing with dolls, etc. Eager for learning, she enjoyed preparation of food and housekeeping which has developed in her motherhood years, blessing her children and husband with homemaking abilities.

In 1946 she traveled with her mother and brothers to Germany, where they joined their father who was an officer in the U. S. Army. Here she attended the U. S. Army Dependent's Schools in Mannheim, Heidelberg and Wiesbaden, taking an interest in languages (German & French), the Arts and extensive travel to other countries. She mingled with the native people who taught her appreciation for other cultures and she spent many week-ends with the local people, participating in their church activities, local dances or other customs.

While in Europe she took classes in painting and photography in the local schools. She designed her own clothes for her dressmaker to make, and appeared in the Wiesbaden news paper in one of these designs. It was in 1949 that Janet returned to Utah.

After graduating from West High School in Salt Lake City, in 1951 Janet attended the Brigham Young University for one year and the University of Utah for two years where she majored in education and English. She took a six week course at Henager

School of Business. In 1952 she graduated from the West High LDS Seminary. After graduating from high school, Janet passed the U. S. Civil Service Test and went to work at the Clearfield Naval Base as a clerk-typist. When she had saved enough money (saving being one of her virtues), she entered the Brigham Young University, living at the Amanda Knight Hall in Provo, Utah.

While attending the University of Utah, she worked a part-time job at the YWMIA General Offices and after her marriage she worked at the Utah Air National Guard to help send her husband to architectural school.

Janet was married in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, on September 3, 1954 to Franklin Lewis Penman. President Joseph Fielding Smith of the Council of the Twelve, officiating. Following the rites the pair was feted at the Hotel Temple Square with a wedding breakfast given by Lewis's parents, Mr. & Mrs. Franklin Henry Penman. In the evening a reception was held in the East Riverside Stake Center.

Interested in writing, Janet has written several stories and many verses. She was a writer for the Jackson School paper and editor and artist for the Mannheim School publication. She is hoping to pursue this field further when her young family permits.

In the meantime she enjoys reading and keeping active in the Church. She has served the Primary as ward and stake Sunday School secretary; YWMIA speech director; Primary in-service teacher; YWMIA president; Gleaner teacher; Primary counselor; Young-Marrieds, instructor; and Relief Society visiting teacher. She is presently on the Murray M. I. A. Stake Board. In 1956 Janet received the Golden Gleaner Award subsequent to the other MIA awards.

Being interested in political as well as civic affairs, she was elected vice chairman of District 182 in 1958-59. She was also a Judge of Election in 1959 and assumes her duty in all good civic projects and activities.

Homemaking and the comfort of her family have been the main objects in Janet's life. Being the mother of three fine, healthy children, Lewis Leatham, Laura and Leslie Ann, she believes in Eternal Life and is teaching her children to live the Gospel to its fullest.

PENMAN, Lewis Leatham, was born December 20, 1955, in Salt Lake City, Utah. He is the first son of Franklin Lewis Penman and Janet Leatham. He was blessed and received his name by his father in the Sixteenth Ward, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Salt Lake City, Utah.

LEWIS LEATHAM PENMAN

Quick to learn, Lewis was responding to questions at ten months of age. He could speak about ten words and give the sounds of several animals when shown pictures or asked.

At five years of age he is an extremely fine artist for a youngster and is meticulous with details. He knows the letters of the alphabet and is keen to remember facts and figures.

Lewis enjoys participating in Primary and Junior Sunday School of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He is anxious to serve the Lord and wants to keep His commandments. He is desirous of going on a mission for the LDS Church, when he is old enough, idolizing his uncle Jon Paul Leatham who is presently serving the Church as a missionary in England.

RIGBY, Julia LaRee Salisbury, daughter of LeRoy Gibbs Salisbury and Gwennie Blanchard, was born September 5, 1935 in Logan, Utah. She graduated from North Cache High School in 1953, and attended Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah, for one year.

On December 3, 1954, she married Vaughan Dale Rigby in the LDS Temple, Logan, Utah. This union has been blessed with a daughter, Tina Lynette, and a son Glen Dale. (See family group record.)

She accompanied her husband who is in the U. S. Air Force to England for two and one-half years, visiting many places of interest including cities where her ancestors came from.

She was baptized, December 3, 1943 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

SALISBURY, Byron, son of Ellis Davies Salisbury and Alice Sophia Stoddard, was born November 1, 1889 at North Powder, Union County, Oregon. He was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, about 1898. At the age of nineteen, he died of Typhoid fever on December 2, 1908, at Union, Union County, Oregon.

SALISBURY, Clarence J., son of Joshua Edwin Salisbury and Jane Ann Freebairn, was born March 12, 1902, in Salt Lake City, Utah. He was baptized at Salt Lake City, April 30, 1910, by Nephi L. Cottam, and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the Twenty-Sixth Ward, May 1, 1910, by his father. He was ordained a teacher in the Aaronic Priesthood, February 28, 1916, by Bishop Jesse R. Pettit of the Fifth Ward. On September 23, 1918, he was ordained a priest by his father.

Clarence attended the Salt Lake City public schools. In 1929 he married. Shortly thereafter he divorced and he never remarried. At one time he operated a small lunch stand and confectionery store near the Madison School on State Street in South Salt Lake, and in the late 1930's he operated the Broadway Roller Skating Rink in Salt Lake City. Shortly after the outbreak of World War II, he moved to California where he worked as a welder in the shipyards. He was a resident of San Francisco and Salinas, California until his death on December 17, 1955.

CLARENCE J. SALISBURY

DALE KIMBALL SALISBURY

SALISBURY, Dale Kimball, Mormon missionary and musician, second son of Orin F. Salisbury and Lucile Kimball, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, on July 20, 1938.

He attended the Whittier Elementary School, Lincoln Junior High, and South High School. He is at present (1958) a sophomore student in the College of Pharmacy at the University of Utah. He is employed at the King-Jolley Drug store, where he earns the means to keep himself in school.

He was baptized at Salt Lake City, Utah, by Glen L. Littlefield, on August 31, 1946, and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the Browning Ward, Wells Stake, by his father, Orin F. Salisbury. He was ordained a deacon, August 6, 1950; a teacher, August 2, 1953; a priest, October 17, 1954; and an elder, July 28, 1957. All ordinations were performed by his father. Dale has held various offices in the Aaronic Priesthood quorums in the Browning Ward, and is a faithful ward teacher. He has earned his Individual Award each year, and in addition has received the "Duty to God" Award. He has served as organist for the Browning Ward Sunday School since 1951.

He is a Life Scout and holds the Deseret Recognition Club Award.

Dale has studied music for many years. He plays piano, organ, drums, and trombone. In 1954 he won second place in the intermediate division, State Fair piano contest. He plays piano and trombone in the family orchestra, and has played in several other orchestras and bands.

Woodworking is another hobby which Dale enjoys. In 1954, at the Utah State Fair Hobby Show, he won a Sweepstakes trophy and a second place ribbon on articles he had made. He was awarded another second place ribbon in 1955.

Dale received a call to serve as a missionary for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and left in August of 1958 for the Swiss-Austrian Mission and has labored mostly in the country of Austria. Upon the completion of his ministry, he met his parents in Glasgow, Scotland (March 1961) and after touring Europe, they returned to Salt Lake City, together, arriving home the fore-part of April 1961.

Dale is now serving a six month tour of duty with the Armed Forces, after which he will revert to reserve status.

SALISBURY, Daniel Norman, (N. D.) banker, World War II artillery officer, Mormon missionary, Boy Scout executive, member of school board and University Board of Trustees, was born January 30, 1891, in the little town of North Powder, Oregon. His parents, Hyrum Hoskin Salisbury and Annie Marie Hancock, were amongst the early settlers of that part of the State of Oregon.

NORMAN D. SALISBURY

Over the years Norman has been known as Norman D. Salisbury or N. D. Salisbury, which is a reversal of his given names.

Norman attended elementary schools in Baker, Union County, Oregon, and graduated from Brigham Young College, Logan, Utah, in 1910. He was called to serve a mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints to South Africa in 1911. Because of the extreme prejudice against the Church at that time, he was deported from Capetown, South Africa, three days after his arrival. Upon his return to the European headquarters in England, he was assigned to labor in the Swiss Mission-later the French Mission. He labored in Lyon and Paris, France, and was the first secretary of the French Mission. Later, Norman was appointed as branch president in Laus - anne, Switzerland. He served also at the branch in LaChaux de Fonds, Switzerland.

Upon returning home from his LDS mission he was employed by Thatcher Brothers Banking Company in Logan, Utah. Employment was interrupted by service in the Utah National Guard on the Mexican border. Later, during World War I, he served as an army officer of Field Artillery, for three years, spending about one and a half years in France as first lieutenant, United States Army.

Thatcher Brothers Bank was later acquired by the First Security Corporation and Norman served with the Thatcher interests for eight years at Preston, Idaho, as cashier of a controlled bank there, which is now a member of the First Security System of Banks.

Presently Norman is Vice-President and Manager of the Logan Office of the First Security Bank of Utah, N. A., having had forty-five years of banking services with them and their predecessors. He has been active in the Utah Banker's Association and served as president of that association for one term.

He has served as stake superintendent of YMMIA in Oneida Stake, Idaho, and also the Logan Stake; President of Cache Valley Boy Scouts of America; and a member of the Rotary Club, for thirty-six years. He has served both as its secretary and president.

Norman married Eliza Pamela Hubbard on July 22, 1920, in the LDS Temple at Logan, Utah. Three children blessed this union. (See family group record.)

In November, 1960, at the 38th Annual Convention of the Utah School Boards Association, Norman was cited for his service as a member of the Logan, Utah, Board of Education since 1941, and received the association's annual "OUTSTANDING SERVICE" Award. In June 1961, he was appointed by George D. Clyde, Governor of the State of Utah, as a member of the Board of Trustees of Utah State University, Logan, Utah.

Clipping from the Deseret News dated June 16, 1961.

New Members Appointed To USU Board

A Logan banker and a Salt Lake businessman were appointed Friday as members of the Board of Trustees of Utah State University.

Named by Gov. George D. Clyde were Norman D. Salisbury, a Logan bank official for 47 years, and Sid H. Eliason Sr., president of several Salt Lake business firms.

Mr. Salisbury will fill the post vacated by the recent resignation of O. C. Hammond, Ogden. This term runs to July 1, 1963.

SALISBURY, Darwin LeRoy, son of LeRoy Gibbs Salisbury and Gwennie Blanchard, was born, March 22, 1921, in Logan, Utah, at 595 West 2nd North - home of his mother's parents, Thomas Blanchard and Amelia Jane Davis. He was baptized and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the Logan Temple, April 30, 1929.

DARWIN L. SALISBURY

Darwin was ordained to the office of Deacon, December 31, 1933; Teacher, April 26, 1936; Priest, May 29, 1938; Elder, May 26, 1940. On August 17, 1952, he was ordained a High Priest by Apostle Mark E. Peterson. He has served in the following LDS Church callings: Presidency of Teachers' quorum, Newton Ward, Smithfield Stake, Utah; secretary of Priests' quorum, Newton Ward, Smithfield Stake; scoutmaster, Grandview Ward, Sharron Stake; Provo Third Ward, Provo Stake, Utah, (1947-1949); Deacon's quorum advisor, Ogden Thirteenth Ward, Ogden Stake, Utah, (1949-1950); general secretary of the Aaronic Priesthood, Ogden Thirteenth Ward, Ogden Stake, Utah, (1950); Sunday School teacher, Ogden Twentieth Ward, Ogden Stake, Utah, (1950-1951); second assistant Sunday School superintendency, Ogden Twentieth Ward, Ogden Stake (1951-1952); second counselor to Bishop David A. Richards, Ogden Thirty-Sixth Ward, East Ogden Stake (1952-53); Genealogy Committee chairman, Lakewood Ward, East Long Beach Stake, California, (1953-1954); Sunday School Teacher Training instructor, Lakewood Ward, East Long Beach Stake (1953-54); first counselor to Bishop Laurence E. Macdonald, Lakewood Ward, East Long Beach Stake, (1954-56); Ward Teaching division supervisor, Lakewood Ward, East Long Beach Stake (1956-57); general secretary of the Aaronic Priesthood, Lakewood Ward, East Long Beach Stake (1956-57).

Darwin spent his early years on the family farm at Cache Junction, Utah. He attended the Cache Junction Elementary School through the sixth grade and completed the seventh and eighth grades in Newton, Utah. He completed four years at North Cache High School, Richmond, Utah, graduating in May 1939. From 1939 to 1942 he attended Utah State Agricultural College at Logan, Utah, studying Radio Technology.

In March of 1942, following the involvement of the United States in World War II, he was chosen as a radio instructor for the Naval Radio Training School, established at Utah State Agricultural College. After teaching sailors and marines in the fundamentals of electronics for two years, he was called into the United States Navy, where he served as an Electronics Technician. He was graduated from Navy Electronics and Radar schools at Chicago, Illinois; Del Monte, California; Treasure Island, San Francisco, California; Massachusetts Institute of Technology Radar School, Boston, Massachusetts. It was during the six months he was stationed in Boston that he met the young lady, Lorna Grix, who later became his wife. Before receiving his honorable discharge from the Navy, June 1, 1946, he spent several months in charge of a radio transmitting installation on the island of Guam.

In June 1946 he resumed his studies at Utah State University, graduating with a Bachelor of Science degree in Radio Technology in June of 1947, but not without his bride of six months, who stood at his side to receive her Bachelor of Science degree in Vocational Home Economics. They were married on the Twentieth of December 1946 in the LDS Temple, Logan, Utah, by President ElRay L. Christiansen. Lorna Grix was born, June 24, 1925, at Ogden, Utah, the daughter of Arthur William Grix and Violet Celia Hall.

Following graduation Lorna and Darwin spent five months in Vernal, Utah, where he worked as engineer-announcer for Radio Station KJAM. The next year and one-half was spent in Provo, Utah, where he served as chief engineer for KGSU. In May of 1949, the family moved to Ogden, Utah, where he continued in radio work until July 1953, when they moved to Long Beach, California. There he worked at Douglas Aircraft as associate engineer and designer, establishing calibration standards for electronic instruments. On February 6, 1956 he became a member of the technical staff, Electronic Instrumentation Division of the Ramo-Woolridge Corporation at Los Angeles, California, engaged in electronic research and development.

Three beautiful daughters have blessed this home: Susan, Darla (adopted at birth), and Nancy. (See family group record.)

The family resides at 26640 Lightfoot Place, Palos Verdes Estates, California.

SALISBURY, David Alan, second great-grandson of Joshua Salisbury, first saw the light of day April 2, 1944, in Chicago, Illinois, where he was born to John Duggan Salisbury and Shirley Patricia Brown.

DAVID ALAN SALISBURY

He is a boy of many interests which include playing the clarinet and piano. He is a bright student who has been continuously on the honor roll in high school.

David is a sport enthusiast and plays football, baseball and basketball. He also enjoys bowling. He has settled down to a favorite sport "basketball."

Livermore, California, has afforded him many opportunities, being a small community of mostly scientific people where he was able to take advantage of an accelerated program not yet three years old in the local high school.

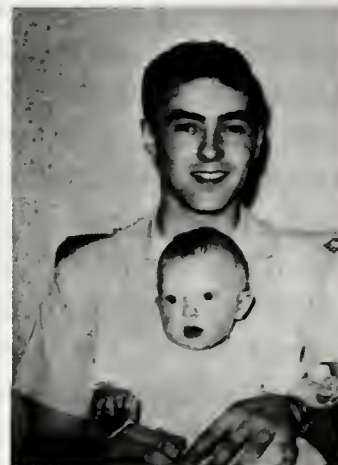

At present he seems to be the average teen-ager with all the problems and joys that seem to go along with this time of life.

SALISBURY, Don Ray, first son of Orin Freebairn Salisbury and Lucile Kimball, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, on December 30, 1935. He was baptized at Salt Lake City, Utah, by James S. Schoenfield on January 29, 1944, and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Browning Ward, Wells Stake, by his father, Orin F. Salisbury. He was ordained a deacon in January 1948; a teacher in January 1951; a priest, January 11, 1953; and an elder, October 17, 1954.

Don Ray has held various offices in the quorums of the Aaronic Priesthood in the Browning LDS Ward, and has been active as a ward teacher. Each year that he was a member of the Aaronic Priesthood he earned his Individual Award. At the present time (1958) he is assistant superintendent of Sunday School in the Poplar Grove Ward. On March 30, 1958, he was appointed to the presidency of the Elder's Quorum in the Poplar Grove Ward, Pioneer Stake, Salt Lake City, Utah.

As a youth, Don was active in Scouting, and holds the rank of Life Scout. For some time he acted as junior assistant scoutmaster.

He attended the Whittier Elementary School, Lincoln Junior High and South High School. After his graduation he completed the prescribed course of instructions for barbers at the Salt Lake Area Vocational School. He served his apprenticeship in various shops in Salt Lake City, and now works with his father in the Salisbury Barber Shop at 905 West 7th South, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Having come of musical parents, Don was early exposed to a musical education. He has become quite proficient on the clarinet and saxophone, and also plays drums. He has made many appearances in public as a member of the family orchestra. He has played in various other bands and orchestras, and was drum-major for the Junior Optimist Club Band, the South High School Band, and the All-City Band.

On May 12, 1954, he and his high-school sweetheart, Joan Young, were married in a civil ceremony at Woods Cross, Utah. The marriage was later solemnized in the Salt Lake LDS Temple, on October 27, 1954, by Elder Spencer W. Kimball.

Don and Joan have four lovely children, two sons and two daughters. (See family group record.) At present (1961) he is secretary of the YMMIA in the Poplar Grove Ward.

SALISBURY, Mrs. Elizabeth Hoskin, (See page 34.)

SALISBURY, Ellis (Davies), pioneer, farmer and churchman, son of Joshua Salisbury and Martha Davies, was born on August 4, 1851, in Llanasa, Flintshire, Wales.

ELLIS DAVIES SALISBURY

According to the records of the Church in Llanasa Parish, Wales, he was just named Ellis Salisbury, but always during his lifetime he used the middle name Ellis Davies Salisbury.

His parents joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints about the time of his birth and left for America when he was about three years old. A cousin describes this event in a letter to Ellis many years afterward. (See pages to inclusive.)

Upon reaching the United States of America, Ellis, with his parents, settled first in Illinois where his father worked in the coal mines to outfit themselves for the long trek across the "Plains" to Salt Lake City. While there his mother took sick and died, leaving Ellis and his sister, motherless. His father married (2nd), Elizabeth Hoskin, a widow with three children, and together they all crossed the plains, arriving in Salt Lake City, September 1, 1860, as members of the John Smith Company of LDS pioneers. Ellis was about nine years of age when the family settled in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. He was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in 1860, but due to the fact that the original records were lost, or not kept, he was re-baptized, August 19, 1875.

On February 28, 1884, Ellis married Alice Sophia Stoddard of Wellsville, Utah, in the LDS Endowment House, Salt Lake City, Utah. Ten fine children were born to them. (See family group record.)

Soon after his marriage, Ellis and his wife answered a call of President Brigham Young to assist in colonizing St. Johns, Arizona. After helping in this project for sometime they returned to Wellsville, Utah. Ellis learned farming from his father and spent most of his life in that occupation. For awhile he did some logging in Oregon, and in about 1888, he and his family moved to Oregon, establishing their home in Baker and North Powder. They returned several times to Wellsville, Utah, but after 1900 he spent the remainder of his life in Oregon, living in Baker, Alicel, Union, La Grande and Wallowa County.

Ellis was always active in his Church. He was ordained a Bishop and a High Priest and set apart to preside over the Alicel Ward, Union Stake, Oregon, for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on June 10, 1901 by Matthias F. Cowley of the Quorum of the Twelve. He served in this position about six years. (See certificate below.)

Ellis purchased a one hundred sixty acre farm four miles east of La Grande, Oregon, in 1908, and lived there until his death on February 1, 1915. After a lovely funeral service he was buried in the Latter-day Saints section of the Masonic Cemetery in La Grande, Oregon.

He was faithful to the Church throughout his entire life and led an honest and industrious career. He possessed a friendly nature and was loved by all who knew him.

The following item is quoted from a Deseret News clipping of February 20, 1915:

"Logan, February 19th. Word has been received here of the death of Ellis D. Salisbury, at one time a resident of this section and well known to all old time citizens of Cache Valley. He passed away after under-going an operation for hernia.

Mr. Salisbury was a native of Wales and came to Utah in 1860, walking almost the entire distance across the plains, although he was but a child. He was 64 years of age at the time of his death. He lived in Wellsville for many years."

37 Kirkland Avenue
Birkenhead, England

January 22, 1914

Mr. Ellis D. Salisbury
Wellsville, Cache County,
Utah Territory, North America

Dear Cousin:

I, Mary Fletcher, have to introduce myself and my object in writing to you by referring you to an instance in the life-time of your late dear mother, who was well known and remembered by my mother, Harriet Fletcher.

My mother is alive and the first cousin to you. Your mother, Martha Davies, was my mother's aunt, being a sister of Mary Davies (your aunt Mary Jones by marriage). You were a little boy staying with your aunt and uncle Jones in Brook St. Birkenhead when you were sailing to America I believe. My mother remembers you and your beautiful mother so well even on the day of your departure and the terrible wrench between the dear Welsh sisters, viz, your Mother (Martha), Catherine, Mary, etc.

My mother remembers your little sister also whose photograph she has here at home and which really is the actual instigation of this letter. We happened to be overhauling some photographs and once again she begged me to write and find if you are well and can remember the eventful day when you departed, and if you remember a tall cousin in a crinoline seeing you off and trying to pacify your broken-hearted mother.

The cousin was my mother. She loved your mother very much and has often wondered if you children were well. A few years ago we spent a holiday with your uncle Jack Davies of Mostyn and cousin Annie. It was she who gave us your address. We wrote you, but are afraid the letter did not reach you.

Of course your aunt Mary and uncle Jones are both dead. That aunt Mary was my grandmother, you will gather from my attempt at genealogy. She died with us at 90 years of age. Mother is 77, but very well manifests the real Welsh type of health and intellect. Of course we ourselves do not remember your mother, we were not born then. Our mother must have been in her "teens" when you left here, but she has always talked so much of you and is so proud of the refinement and evidences of real British (ie true Celtic) pride of the Davies line in her family, that she longs so much to know if the "little boy" who wept clinging to his mother, remembers that last episode of his life. "Aunt Martha" is quite a common name in the home.

It would give my mother the greatest pleasure to know you are well (if still spared the joys of life). I write at her special request and after very many of them, as of course you will understand the claims of the rush and business of survival in modern times, gives one little time to claim acquaintance with unknown relatives and especially when it might be imagined certain reliance may be mutual. At any rate, I do feel sure as a true "Davies" you will, if you happen to get this letter, write to your cousin just to say how you are and if you have any recollection of the old relatives and the links of your boyish memories.

Some years ago, I was spending a month or so near your old home in N Wales. Saw the Cottages in the old Bryn-Glas, the farm of your grandmother Davies. Now it is in ruins and possibly demolished altogether, but I had the pleasure of seeing the stairway into the upper chamber where my granny fell down when she was peeping at her elder sisters who were allowed to stay "up late". I have very vivid recollections of the wonderful stories and incidents told us by granny Jones, and can well imagine the old beautiful life led by the Ancestors of our family. We are all advancing to the inevitable, but not so rapidly to shut our eyes and ears to the claims of blood and race, and, if even you may be too busy an individual to write to my mother, you will possibly agree silently that each one of us is but the expression of just a passing stage in the history of some human life which had its beginning in the ages past and which surely in some inter-connected way will continue to some far distant destiny.

May you as a Davies enjoy all you wish, is my mother's message--who sends also the note of her honest love for your late mother.

With kind wishes, I remain

Your cousin,

S/ MARY FLETCHER

My dear Cousin Ellis:

Just a line to ask you if you received my letter and parcel of photographs which I posted in the 2nd week in March. Also, the King visited Birkenhead on March 25 and I posted a Newspaper describing the event. My letter was in response to your request to "Write Soon," and the photos a collection of cards which I had in the home.

I have been looking forward to your recognition of the above from week to week, ever since, and feel sure something must have happened to my letter etc - unless - perhaps - you have been very busy or away. I should be glad to know if you did get them. It was a great pleasure to hear from you and also to write to you and send our little group of photos.

I am at present spending a holiday in North Wales, but give my Home Address as by the time you are able to reply I shall be back in Birkenhead. I am staying with my daughter until the holidays are over at a very pretty spot near Llangollen, not anywhere near the spot where once stood the old homes of our ancestors.

I think I mentioned in my last letter when we come to Wales, we have always to take lodgings as there are no relatives with whom we could stay.

I hope you and your wife and children are all well. It was a great pleasure to hear from you. I do hope my letter reached you.

Yours affectionately

S/

Harriet Fletcher

Mr. Ellis D. Salisbury

My dear cousin:

I was very overjoyed to get your letter this week, and felt that I should like to have sat down there and then to answer you and to thank you for writing so promptly. However, I thought I would wait till today till my daughter could type it, as you would not be able to read my writing so well and I am sure the letter would not be so long and clear. Now I must first say how thankful I am to hear you are yet spared to live on this world with all its ups and downs. I was astonished to find that you did not know that your dear mother had sisters and brothers, but dying so early as she did, and then your father marrying again, would cut off the associations naturally and you would adapt yourself to your new surroundings.

I hardly know how to begin to tell you all that I think a human being would like to know who suddenly finds out he has so near a relative as a cousin. It is as sweet to me as to you. I was so pleased to have your photos. At 30 you were like my eldest son-curly hair. You both take after your grandfather Davies. I believe his hair was jet black and as curly as a negro's, but longer of course.

Now your face seems the image of my mother, your aunt. You will think so from the photo. But first I must refer to your big family. No, as you remark you do not believe in race suicide. I was so pleased to have all the accounts of the children. What a fine group they must be. I have all sorts of questions to ask that I do not know where to begin. You sent me a splendidly thought out letter, so that I am looking forward to hearing more of you all.

I wonder if your children are all at home. You say you live on a farm. Is it pasturage or growth or what? I am very ignorant about the far west, but life must be very different from English life. We are cramped I am afraid in this country.

I must hurry first to ask about your wife, for of course I include her as my cousin. Is she well? I expect she is a real American. Perhaps you will let me have her photo as well as any of your family. I see you have all sorts of names, some I recognize as "Martha", "Sarah". I wonder if your eldest daughter is married or at home or near you, and indeed all sorts of imagination besets me. I feel as if I want to know what every one is like and doing. To think after all these years - it is like a voice from a dead past.

Why, our grandmother Davies had 14 children in all--boys and girls. Twins twice over. My mother Mary and her twin sister Harriet--were the elder ones and those twins nursed another pair of twins. YOUR MOTHER AND CATHERINE. This is why my mother residing in Birkenhead at the time of your departure to America, had your mother and you two little ones to stay with her for a night or so to be near the boat. How well I at 18 remember the event. I went down to the boat with the little group all weeping to see you go away. Your mother was the most beautiful girl in North Wales, and imagine her sister, your aunt Catherine, collapse at the boat side when her beloved twin was taken away with her lovely babies. You wept for the flowers and the fields because Birkenhead was all bricks and back yards at the docks. "Let me go back to Wales"--you said in Welsh. None of you could speak English. Your mother spoke fairly well because your grandmother Davies had been very carefully educated in her girlhood day even in the wilds of Wales. You must understand that in her teens, she was the daughter of very proud gentleman Farmers. Was sent 14 miles on horseback to Chester to school daily. Indeed, long years after her marriage she was the Letter Writer in English and Welsh for the whole country side I believe.

No, her farm of the Bryn Glas is demolished altogether. Has been a ruin, roofless and crumbling for 60 years. You see, she married from her parent's farm and vexed them by wedding the Houseman and then took to the Brynglas Farm where her 14 children were born. Her parents died after sad losses, cattle plague, etc, etc., so my mother used to say (this is all family tradition) and she brought her family up in the Brynglas.

My mother, her twin, and other brothers all went out into the world to earn their livings. All are dead. Not one of the 14 alive. My mother married my father a Jones--a bootmaker and migrated to Birkenhead, then a young mushroom town. One of the brothers of your mother--Uncle Jack Davies (you are quite right) survived all the others. He was a gardener to a Baronet until his death. The whole family must have scattered years ago and many died fairly young. Uncle Jack Davies married a woman named Salisbury, strange to say. Perhaps there was in North Wales some family relationship between the Salisbury's, because you are the son of a Salisbury. I wonder if you knew that Uncle Jack's wife was a Salisbury. But all are dead.

That is partly my reason for finding you out. Like you, I was brought away from Wales by my parents, rarely saw the relatives. When my father died at 79, my mother came to end her days with me. So when you look upon her sweet face you will see her as she was just when she had lost my father after a Darby and Joan existence IN THE VERY SAME HOUSE AT THE DOCKS WHERE YOU SLEPT BEFORE GOING ABOARD.

She is like you I think. Often she talked in her broad Welsh of her "poor little curly headed nephew Ellis, who went out to the "Merica" and you note that is how I came into possession of your sister's photo. I have no idea how my mother got it, but she had it in her letter box and worshipped it very much. "My dear sister Martha's daughter", she used to say with tears in her eyes.

My mother has been dead about 13 years. That photo was taken before, about 2 years. She was 89. A great many of your other uncles' children died of consumption or chest complaints.

Hearing so much from my mother about Wales, from time to time, I who had married in Birkenhead, used to hope I would be able to visit the place and see some of the old spots she loved. For many years my husband was delicate and it was not convenient for me to get there, but when he was called away about 26 years ago, I was left with a family of 7, some grown up and able to support me. We had our first holiday in Wales to explore the land the old places where as a little girl I had been born of course, and played about.

The old Farm was in ruin, roofless, and overgrown with weeds. Not a habitation for 3 miles around the heap of bricks, but we tore through the bracken and got inside the big kitchen and saw the old stairway where my mother (your aunt Mary) used to peep when the young men came along courting her twin sister Harriet, or other events. She used to sit on the top of the quaint trap-door, she said, with Martha in her arms hushing her to sleep.

It seemed as if the Brynglas had previously been cut into two cottages and then permitted to ruin. You see, there was no one to carry out the farming. Your grandmother Davies lost her husband very young, also she had 14 children. A fairly young widow she failed in the farm and lost her cows and had to retire to a small cottage. I saw her once in this cottage- The Old Swan in Llanasa, N Wales.

She was very tall, very stern, proud and refined. Had traces of a saddened life, but as dignified and above her surroundings as one could imagine. She eventually died in the home of Uncle Jack in Gwespyr, but as I say I was never able to go to Wales on account of my large family and my husband's business and then delicacy and death. Then we went every year for our summer holidays. Always took lodgings in some little country or seaside spot. I went about, to be disappointed in finding any one of the family. There was a cousin or two who died. I am alone like you, my mother's only daughter.

We found out Uncle Jack once, and went to lodge with his daughter who left her situation to keep house for him when his wife died. We found him a perfect gentleman, wending his way to his gardening to and fro from his little home with all the dignity of a true Davies. He was a beautiful character Christian and devoted to his little mountain home and chapel. He died about 7 years ago. I have not heard of our cousin, his daughter, since. She in the meantime married, tho later in life, a young--very young miner, who lived in a cottage near her father's old home. She shifted about a little and I lost sight of her.

There, -all the connections of that large generation seem to have separated and vanished from existence. You will realize what it means when for 25 years we have been visiting Wales, and always stayed in apartments or boarding houses.

The very loneliness of it and the fact that I had your old address from Uncle Jack 20 years ago, I think, and the little photo of "Sarah" made me just on the spur of one moment say to my daughter "Do write again to Utah to see if that dear little "Ellis" is alive, for I feel often as if there is a kindred spirit in the world". So we wrote and this is the issue.

Now to my family, for I am sure you will want to know. --
My husband died 30 years ago, left me with 7 children, the eldest 23 and the youngest 5. You will imagine the struggle we had to bring up the children after the loss of a splendid father, but the Davies pride and grit and added to the Fletcher, we had placed our children fairly well and with the help of Almighty God are all spared but one.

1. My eldest son is Thomas, 53, a head schoolmaster in Liverpool. Married with 2 children.
2. Mary, 50, not married. At home with me. A head schoolmistress near home. A very large Council School.
3. Elizabeth. (Betty) 48. At home also. Not married. In a large business drapery house in Liverpool.
4. John (Jack) 45. Married in B Head. 3 children. A Government land valuer.
5. Harriet Sophia. 43. Married. Been a teacher, Now resides in LONDON. 1 daughter. I will send one or two of her articles to you. She and her husband write for a hobby in their spare time Both are very literary.
6. Jane. Died 27 years ago.
7. Alfred, 38. Foreman of a large printing works here. Been to Canada for 3 years, but came back preferred home. He is the only "boy" at home so we call him the "Master of the House".
8. George, 33. Just married. 1 baby.

Now you will observe I am with my 2 daughters at home and my son Alfred. We are just 4 of us and the servant. I am 77 on the 21st of May, in splended health, sight, hearing and capabilities very keen, thanks to God. My children will not allow me to work of course, so I organize the home for them, do my own shopping and mind our little home. I call my "three" my husbands and we are very happy. I have 7 grandchildren also.

Yours must be a fine farm. I was amused at the comparison. One of my grandchildren, the son of Tom the schoolmaster, was here the day your welcome letter come. He is rather delicate, 22 years of age. Has just started a poultry farm in the country to which his father has gone to live for the son's sake. The father cycles to school 9 miles daily. We were amused at the size of his little acre to your large place. I am longing to know all sorts of things about your children. Lovely girls as you say. How do they go to school in the wild country? O, and all sorts. But I suppose we will learn of each other as we hear more. No, I will not go back on my cousin. We are only humble folk, but we respect our kin and if you like to hear from us we will write of course. Yes, we may meet some day as you say. It would give us great happiness would it not? But, whatever is in-store--God is good in giving us this wonderful means of getting in touch with our honourable flesh and blood links.

My daughters Mary and Betty are in with me tonight, Mary is typing this for me and by our fireside talking of the old associations. Me telling them of Wales and all the story over again, looking at your happy photograph and feeling very happy in the knowledge of the newly found cousin and send a true prayer for the welfare of a kinsman and his fine family whom we want to hear about so much.

Please give first our united love to your wife, our cousin Alice and all the children.

Your loving cousin,

Signed Harriet Fletcher

LIVER, CUNARD, AND DOCK BUILDINGS, LIVERPOOL, ENGLAND.
It was from here that the SALISBURY FAMILY sailed for America.

SALISBURY, ELLIS STODDARD, son of Ellis Davies Salisbury and Alice Sophia Stoddard, was born August 20, 1887, at Wellsville, Utah. He was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on September 3, 1896. Most of his schooling was received in Oregon, however, he attended Utah State Agricultural College at Logan, Utah. Because of failing eyesight he was unable to finish. After returning to Oregon he worked in construction, helping to lay the first pavement on the streets of the city of La Grande.

ELLIS STODDARD SALISBURY
as a young man.

He was married to Scioto Huff in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, April 8, 1910. They became the parents of six children, five of whom survive. The oldest child, a girl, died when five weeks old. (See family group record.)

He was successful in proving up on a homestead at Weiser, Idaho, later moving to Perry, Oregon, where he was employed in the lumber business with Grande Ronde Lumber Company.

About the last fifteen years of his life Ellis was entirely blind, his blindness being caused from cataracts of the lense, however, he would not give up, and was an agent for the Fuller Brush Company until his death in January, 1948.

Ellis remained faithful in his church duties and was a High Priest at the time of his death. Much credit should be given his wife who was his dear constant companion and helpmeet.

SALISBURY, Fred Robert, athlete and construction contractor, son of Wilford Gibbs Salisbury and LaVon Emma Toone, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, May 3, 1939, the second son and the fifth child of his parents. He was blessed and named at the Mill Creek LDS Ward, July 2, 1939 by his maternal grandfather, Clements Fredrick Toone.

Fred was baptized by his father in 1947 on his eighth birthday in the Big Cottonwood Creek which runs through the family farm in Salt Lake County, and subsequently the following day was confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, also by his father.

FRED ROBERT SALISBURY

Fred grew up with an appreciation for work, keeping busy on his father's farm, milking cows, riding horses, driving tractors and trucks. He always seemed interested in machinery and spent much time repairing automobiles, farm machinery or his own motor scooter.

He received his education by attending the Lincoln Elementary School. It was at this school that he met his future wife, Sharon Dee Stagg.

At Granite High School in Salt Lake County, Fred was active in sports and played on the first-string football team. He later attended the Dixie College in St. George, Utah, for two years on a football scholarship and served as "captain" of their football team in 1958-59 and made the All-Conference team.

On May 15, 1959, he married Sharon Dee Stagg in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah. Elder Marion G. Romney of the Council of the Twelve performed the ceremony. This union has been blessed with a fine son, Douglas Fred, born June 12, 1960.

Always active in his church, Fred was ordained a Deacon, September 9, 1951; a Teacher, May 9, 1954; a Priest, May 15, 1955, and an Elder in 1959. All ordinations were performed by his father, Wilford G. Salisbury. He served as quorum president of both the Deacons and Teachers quorums. Other church positions held include assistant Scout Master and class teacher. In 1957 he graduated from the Granite High Seminary. He also has been the recipient of the Deseret Recognition Award and the Duty To God citation. At the present time he is a partner in the S & C Construction Co.

SALISBURY, George LaMar, son of LeRoy Gibbs Salisbury and Gwennie Blanchard, was born February 22, 1929 in Logan, Utah.

He was baptized March 1, 1937, and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, shortly thereafter.

He graduated from North Cache High School and attended Utah State University, Logan, Utah, for one year, before serving two years in the United States Army. Seventeen months of his army service was spent in Germany.

George is now farming at Othello, Washington.

GEORGE LaMAR SALISBURY

SALISBURY, George Oral, son of Ellis Davies Salisbury and Alice Sophia Stoddard, was born March 5, 1893, at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah.

While still a youngster he moved with his parents to Oregon, back to Wellsville and then again to Oregon, where he received his schooling.

He was baptized on August 2, 1901, and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, August 4, 1901.

When George was but twenty-one years of age, his father passed away, leaving him with the responsibility of operating the large family farm at La Grande, Oregon, and supporting the younger members of the family who were still living at home. He became one of the best farmers in Grande Ronde Valley and was well thought of for his honesty and good judgement.

In 1927, he married Mary Ellen "Mamie" Alexander of Elgin, Oregon. They raised a foster daughter, Dovey Buckner, who is now Mrs. Creston Shaw. There are two grandchildren.

Mamie was an excellent helpmate and most attentive to George during his long years of illness prior to his death on August 30, 1948. She still lives on the family farm.

SALISBURY, Grant Wesley, son of LeRoy Gibbs Salisbury and Gwennie Blanchard, was born November 22, 1931, at Cache Junction, Utah. He was baptized December 9, 1939 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints the following day.

He graduated from North Cache High School in 1950.

On September 20, 1950, Grant married Peggy Jean Taggart in the LDS Temple, Logan, Utah, and they are the parents of three fine children, David Jay, Floyd Grant and Joyce. (See family group record.) Grant is associated with his father on the family farm in Cache County, Utah.

GRANT WESLEY SALISBURY

SALISBURY, Hyrum Hoskin, one of the pioneer settlers of Baker County, Oregon, was the son of Joshua Salisbury and Elizabeth Hoskin. He was born in Wellsville, Utah, on September 15, 1865, and grew up in that pioneer farming community under the loving care and guidance of his staunch and faithful parents. He was always active in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, having been baptized in Wellsville, Utah, by Robert Leatham on July 18, 1875, and confirmed a church member the same day by Samuel Mitton.

Hyrum held the various offices of the priesthood and was ordained a High Priest by Apostle Melvin J. Ballard on September 20, 1925.

He married Annie Marie Hancock on December 27, 1889, in the LDS Temple, Logan, Utah. Apostle Marriner W. Merrill, officiating. They became the parents of six children. (See family group record.)

In 1908, Hyrum received an official call to serve as a missionary for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and left for England, his field of labor that same year. He served faithfully and successfully for two years and returned home in 1910.

Always active in the affairs of the LDS Church, he served in various capacities amongst which were: Sunday School superintendent and as a high councilman of the Union Stake in Oregon.

His main occupation was railroading and logging for the Oregon Lumber Company in Baker County, Oregon. He also did some mining on his own. Hyrum built an extremely fine home in Baker City for his lovely wife and family. It was open to relatives and friends who came to visit and partake of their hospitality and friendly spirit.

After a life of service to his fellowmen, he died in Baker, Oregon, on August 21, 1941, and was buried there August 24, 1941, leaving a splendid posterity to carry on and perpetuate his many christian virtues and unblemished character and name.

SALISBURY, Mrs. Ivy Vivian Petersen, wife of Joseph Gibbs Salisbury, is the tenth child of Knud Petersen and Elvine Swensen. She was born January 5, 1896, the year Utah was made a State. She was born at 559 East Fourth North, Logan, Cache County, Utah, and was one of twelve children born to her mother, Elvine (Swensen) Petersen.

Her home was built by her father Knud, who was one of the first pioneers to settle Logan.

Ivy remembers her childhood with mixed emotions. The joy of frolicking in the country fields filled with wild flowers with her loving brothers and sisters. The sorrow associated with the memory of her brother Oliver Odin, who died by being thrown from a horse, riding for a doctor to save the life of his little sister Ivy.

While she was yet a young lady, Ivy's father died, and she helped her mother run a boarding house. A few years later she met and married the dashing, handsome, returned missionary Joseph Gibbs Salisbury. They were married in the LDS Temple, Logan, Utah, on December 22, 1915.

Ivy exemplifies true womanhood by her virtuous gracious life. She has devoted her time, energy and possessions to the raising of her family and the loyalty and support she has given her husband. She became the mother of seven children... three boys and four girls. (See family group record.) Two of her lovely daughters died in infancy but the other five children grew to maturity to honor her name.

Ivy has been very active in civic affairs and organizations. She was the President of the Elk's Ladies Club in 1945-46; President of the Alpha Delta Pi Mothers Club; a member of the Utah Federation of Music Clubs since 1947. She has helped in U. S. War Bond Drives, Cancer Drives and other community activities.

She has always loved singing, and has been in choris since her early childhood in the Logan Fifth Ward. She also wrote the history of her father Knud Petersen, and placed it in the Archives of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers Building... establishing her father as being one of the early Utah Pioneers. Her D. U. P. membership number is 21754.

Mrs. Salisbury has a firm testimony of the Restored Gospel of Jesus Christ and is a staunch believer in the power of prayer. Her life has been a full one, continually busy... she has never known idle hands. She is very talented in handiwork, needlecraft such as crocheting lovely afagans, making rugs, quilts and many more articles which were made to give unselfishly to her family, friends and those in need. She has always been a friend in need, to all, and her neighbors have often remarked, "Ivy's the grandest neighbor one could ever ask for!" She truly has the love and admiration of her family, neighbors and friends and has God's blessings to buoy her up always.

The accompanying photo is a reduced reproduction of one that appeared in a Salt Lake City newspaper in 1947 during National Music week, May 4-11; when she was chairman of the annual state convention of Utah Federation of Music Clubs held at the Hotel Utah.

SALISBURY, Jane, daughter of Orin Freebairn Salisbury and Lucile Kimball, was born July 23, 1945, in Salt Lake City, Utah. She was baptized at Salt Lake City by her brother, Don Ray Salisbury, on August 1, 1953, and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the Browning Ward, Wells Stake, by her father. She was graduated from the Browning Ward Primary on July 28, 1957, and awarded a Service Pin in recognition of her efforts as a Junior Teacher in Primary.

MISS JANE SALISBURY

Jane began her study of music at about the age of six, but showed considerable interest in musical activity before then. She was so anxious to "get in on the act" whenever the family orchestra played, that her Daddy treated her violin bow with what he called "hokum powder" (it really was talcum), enabling her to "play" without being heard. (See photo of family orchestra on opposite page--Jane is sitting on piano.)

She is studying piano and violin and has also began to play the saxophone, and is now a bona-fide member of the family orchestra. She plays the piano for the congregational singing in the Browning Ward Sunday School, and also accompanies the Sixth and Seventh Grade choruses at the Whittier School, where she was a student. (1958.)

Jane likes to sew, and although at the early age of twelve, and just a beginner, she made several articles of clothing for herself, and embroidered quite a number of things such as tea towels and pillow cases.

In 1959 she received the Honor Bee Award, and in 1960, the Mia Joy Award.

At this writing (1961), she is an expert in tailoring and makes many of her own dresses and other wearing apparel. She is assistant Sunday School organist in the Browning Ward and is enrolled at the LDS Business College.

THE ORIN F. SALISBURY FAMILY ORCHESTRA, appearing on "TV" in Salt Lake City, Utah (1950)

SALISBURY, Mrs. Jane Ann Freebairn, was the fourth of eight children of Archibald Freebairn and Jean (or) Jane Smith. She was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, on August 26, 1872. Her parents were Utah Pioneers who came to the United States from Scotland, and walked a thousand miles across the plains to Utah, carrying their first son who was then an infant, in their arms.

She was baptized on July 5, 1880, and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints shortly thereafter.

By nature, Jane was generous and self-sacrificing. She was very fair-minded and could not tolerate bullying of any kind. When she was in the fifth grade at school, she was expelled because she rallied to the defense of her youngest brother who was being abused by the teacher. She never returned to school after that.

She became an expert seamstress, and as a young woman was employed as a dress-maker and a furrier, and also made drapes. She worked for some time for a taxidermist, as well as in a tent-and awning factory. Her sewing talent was such that after looking at an expensive dress in a store window, she could make an exact copy without the use of a pattern.

She was a lady of large build, and was very kind and sweet, yet at the same time very strict. When her children needed correcting, she was usually the one to do it.

Joshua Edwin Salisbury claimed her as his bride on October 11, 1894, in the

MRS. JANE F. SALISBURY

LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah. They became the parents of five children: Estella, Leo Edwin, Clarence J., Ida, and Orin F. (See family group record.)

Jane devoted her life to her family. Before her marriage she helped to support her widowed mother and younger brothers and sisters. After her marriage to Joshua, she continued to be of service to her mother and brothers and sisters, in addition to taking the best of care of her husband and children. She never complained. Her mother was ill and lived in Jane's and Joshua's home for the last seven years of her life with Jane as her devoted nurse and constant companion.

In her later life, Jane served for ten years as Matron of the Salt Lake County Detention Home for Boys.

Jane F. Salisbury died of injuries sustained in an automobile accident on August 23, 1941, just three days before her sixty-ninth birthday. She and Joshua were on their way to Oregon to attend the funeral service for Hyrum H. Salisbury. Just before daylight, the car struck the rear of a large coal truck which was stalled on the highway just out of Tremonton, Utah, and although her husband was not hurt, Jane was fatally injured.

All who knew Jane will remember her with love and affection. Her friends and associates in the Church will recall the capable enthusiasm with which she performed her duties as President of the Fifth Ward Primary Association and in her Relief Society activities. Her children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren have many pleasant memories of her genuine delight in their company and of the talent she had for entertaining the kiddies with games of her own invention.

Mr. & Mrs. J. J. Salisbury

SALISBURY, Mrs. Jean Audrey Taylor, wife of Richard Odin Salisbury and daughter of Hollis R. Taylor and Bertha Herman, was born May 21, 1927, in San Gabriel, California.

She graduated from East High School, Salt Lake City, Utah, in 1944, and is at present, completing her schooling at the University of Utah.

On January 18, 1947, she married Richard Odin Salisbury in Salt Lake City, Utah, and in 1955, she was baptized and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, at Seattle, Washington.

SALISBURY, Mrs. Joan Young, daughter of Melva Myrl Ellis and James Tyler Young, Jr., was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, on September 8, 1936. She was baptized at Salt Lake City, Utah, by William R. Pratt on November 18, 1944, and confirmed by member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints by Harold R. Boyer.

She was educated in Ogden and Salt Lake City public schools, and was graduated from the South High School, Salt Lake City, in 1954. She has worked at the S. H. Kress and the J. C. Penney stores in Salt Lake.

While attending junior high school, Joan learned to play the viola, and played in various school and civic orchestras. She was a majorette for the South High and All-City bands. After her marriage she taught herself to play the bass violin in order that she might join the Salisbury Family Orchestra, of which she has since become a member.

She was married to Don Ray Salisbury in a civil ceremony on May 12, 1954, and the marriage was solemnized in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, on October 27, 1954, by Elder Spencer W. Kimball. She is the mother of two sons, Don Ray, Jr., and Kevin Wade, and two daughters, Tracilyn and Suzanne.

Joan has been active in the LDS Church, having been a Sunday School teacher in the Mountain View, Beacon, and Poplar Grove Wards, and a Primary teacher in the Poplar Grove Ward. She was a member of the Browning Ward Choir for two years.

She is a good cook and enjoys sewing, having made many lovely articles for herself and for her family. (See her photo with family group records on another page.)

SALISBURY, John (Jack) Duggan, World War II veteran, and scientist, the son of Joseph Gibbs Salisbury and Ivy Vivian Petersen, was born in Boise, Idaho, where he lived until he was four years old. At that time he moved to Salt Lake City, Utah, with his parents, where he started school and ultimately graduated from the University of Utah with a degree in Electrical Engineering in June 1948.

JOHN D. SALISBURY

He was baptized on June 30, 1928, and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Salt Lake City, Utah.

In the meantime he served as an officer in the United States Navy during the entire period of World War II. He received his commission in May, 1941. Most of this service was in submarines during which time he was awarded the "Silver Star" (about the third highest award for gallantry of the Navy) as a torpedo data computer aboard U. S. S. Bonefish, which was No. 51 submarine lost to the enemy during World War II.

In June of 1943 he married Shirley Patricia Brown to which union has been born one child, David Alan, on April 2, 1944.

At the conclusion of the war, Jack returned to Salt Lake City and to college, and after receiving his degree he worked at the Denver Fire Clay Co., in Salt Lake City, until February of 1951 at which time he moved to California and took employment with the Standard Oil Company as an electrical engineer on the Mark I Linear Accelerator at the University of California in Berkeley. In December of 1951, he moved to Livermore and what is now the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory to continue work on the same project. In July of 1954, Standard Oil dissolved their subsidiary and Jack was hired by the University of California and continued in the same work for them.

At the present time he is working at the Laboratory as a group leader in charge of Radio Frequency Microwaves and Automatic Control.

SALISBURY, John (Jack) Ernest, member "Millionaire C-L-U-B" of the Beneficial Life Insurance Company, and Mormon Bishop, was born July 11, 1905, on a farm about one and one-half miles northeast of Alicel, Union County, Oregon, a son of Ellis Davies Salisbury and Alice Sophia Stoddard.

JOHN (JACK) ERNEST SALISBURY

At about one year of age he moved with his family to a farm between Enterprise and Joseph, Oregon. One year later the family moved back to Union County settling in the town of Union where they spent the winter. This was an extremely hard winter and most of the family was ill with diphtheria. His brother Byron, died of typhoid fever at the age of nineteen.

In the spring of 1908 the family moved to a farm four miles east of La Grande, Oregon. This was where Jack grew to manhood. His father died in 1915 when he was a boy of nine years.

On August 3, 1913, he was baptized and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, at La Grande, Union County, Oregon. Charles L. Spiker performed the baptism and Jack's father, the confirmation.

He was educated in Grange Hall

School and the La Grande High School. After his mother passed away in 1925, he worked on the family farm with his brother George until 1927 when he left the farm and went to Winchester, Idaho, to work in the logging department of the Craig Mountain Lumber Company. He stayed for approximately four and one-half years working in various jobs in the logging department with his brother Wilbur, who was logging superintendent. In 1929 the great depression "hit" and closed most of the lumber industry. Jack then worked for a short time for the Blue Mountain Fruit Exchange at La Grande. While employed there he made a trip to Kansas City, Missouri, in charge of a shipment of fruit.

In June 1930, he enrolled at the Moler Barber College at Portland, Oregon and after completing his barber training he worked in La Grande, Oregon; Lewiston, Idaho; and Nampa, Idaho. During his residence at Nampa, Idaho, Jack married Nedra Bradshaw at Vancouver, Washington, April 4, 1933. This marriage was later solemnized in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, October 4, 1943. One son, Todd Blaine, was born to them on April 27, 1934, at La Grande, Oregon, where they were then living.

JOHN (JACK) ERNEST SALISBURY AS A YOUNGSTER WITH HIS

In 1934 he purchased the O. K. Barber Shop in La Grande from Ben W. Noyes and continued to live in La Grande until July 1945 when he and his family then moved to Salem, Oregon where he purchased a motel and operated it for one nearly one year.

Jack was ordained a High Priest by Joseph L. Wirthlin on September 8, 1940.

In June 1946 he became an agent for the Beneficial Life Insurance Company where he is still employed. By his industry and effort he has qualified for thirteen convention trips to Western Canada and the United States and has been on the "Marathon" application per week club, since joining Beneficial Life Insurance Company.

The first LDS Chapel to be built in the City of Salem, Oregon, was erected under his supervision and was dedicated in September 1951. The people residing in the neighborhood of the chapel site were much opposed to the building of the chapel, but through Jack's efforts in negotiating with the City Council, permission was finally granted and construction went forth. During these years in service to the Church, he has experienced many interesting and faith-promoting things.

Church positions he has held include the following: Era director; MIA superintendent and first counselor in bishopric, La Grande First Ward; member Elders Quorum Presidency and MIA Stake Superintendency, Union Stake; Aaronic Priesthood supervisor, Salem Ward. He was ordained a Bishop by Elder Marion G. Romney and set apart to preside over the Salem LDS Ward, March 9, 1947, and served in this capacity until July 1955, then taught a Sunday School class until December 1957 when he was called to serve in the Willamette Stake Sunday School Superintendency, which position he now holds.

JOHN E. SALISBURY

SALISBURY, Joseph Gibbs, a son of Joseph Hoskin Salisbury and Matilda Jane Gibbs, was born in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah, on the 16th of October 1888. He is the eldest of five children born to his parents. He was baptized on October 16, 1896 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

"Joe" lived in Wellsville until he was twelve years of age. At that time the family moved to Baker City, Oregon; there his father became a rancher. Two years later, they moved to Imbler, Oregon where his father became a dry farmer, with Joe helping with the farm work.

In 1906, when he was eighteen years of age, they moved back to Logan, Cache County, Utah. There he entered the Brigham Young College and completed his high school education; also, the first two years of University. He was active in sports and became the State Wrestling Champion in the 135 lb. division.

He filled a mission to the Swiss-German Mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in 1910-1913; and after returning home, completed his education at the Utah State University majoring in Agriculture.

On December 22, 1915, he married a beautiful young lady....Ivy Vivian Petersen. in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah. Their marriage has been blessed with seven lovely children. (See family group record.)

In 1920, his employment required that he transfer to Boise, Idaho. While there he was the Bishop of the Boise Second LDS Ward, Boise,Stake, Idaho from March 1923 to October , 1923. He was ordained a High Priest and Bishop, March 4, 1923 by Rudger Clawson.

In 1923 he moved to Salt Lake City, Utah where he was a salesman for the Investor Syndicate, and later became the General Agent for that financial institution in all of Utah and Idaho. In 1929 he raised rabbits and had the largest rabbit farm in the U. S. A. (about 40,000 pens and breeding does.)

He has resided in Salt Lake City for the past thirty-eight years and is now the owner and manager of an apartment house and is doing some sales work.

"Joe" Salisbury, as his friends affectionately call him, is a broad-shouldered, straight-backed man. He has been an example of honor and dignity to his children and all who have known him. His three sons have served honorable terms of service in the

His eldest daughter, Ruth Beatrice Salisbury, is married to Harold Earl Van Wagenen, the former mayor of Provo, Utah. His other two daughters died in infancy. They were Ivy Maurine and Helen Jeanine.

Joseph and Ivy his wife, have been married forty-five years and are eagerly awaiting their Golden Wedding Anniversary. They are the proud grandparents of seventeen beautiful grandchildren. "Joe" has lived an interesting and rich life...loved and esteemed by all who know him and call him their friend.

SALISBURY, Joseph Hoskin, successful farmer, LDS Temple ordinance worker, and Bishop, was the son of Joshua Salisbury and Elizabeth Hoskin. He was born August 3, 1863 at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah. Baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, June 10, 1872. Educated in district school at Wellsville, Utah.

On January 1, 1885, in the LDS Temple, Logan, Utah, Joseph married Matilda Jane Gibbs. They became the parents of five sons and one daughter. His wife Matilda died, June 3, 1935. He married second, Mary Maude Davis Reynolds, August 2, 1937 in San Francisco, California. (See family group records.)

Mr. Salisbury himself, built his first family home in Imbler, Oregon and moved back to Logan, Utah in 1909. After retiring from the arduous duties of a farmer, he moved to Salt Lake City in 1929 and spent the remainder of his life there.

He began farming in his boyhood and assisted his father in operating the first Utah dry farm near Wellsville at about age thirteen. Later he successfully operated his own dry farm near Cache Junction, Cache County, Utah for many years before moving to Salt Lake City.

Civic position held: Wellsville City Councilman. LDS Church positions: Served an honorable mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints to Great Britain from 1891 to 1893; labored in the Leeds, Cheltenham and Harrowgate Districts; MIA, secretary and superintendent; secretary of the Twenty-Eighth Quorum of Seventy; president of Imbler LDS Branch, Northwestern States Mission, Oregon; ordained a High Priest and Bishop by Elder Matthias F. Cowley, June 10, 1901, and served as Bishop of Imbler Ward until leaving Imbler in 1907; second counselor in bishopric of Logan Second LDS Ward for four years; stake missionary from Logan Fifth Ward; ward teacher in all wards he has lived in; served as an ordained Temple worker in the

DESERET NEWS AND TELEGRAM, Salt Lake City, Saturday, August 6, 1955

92-Year-Old S.L. Man Recalls Oxen, Donkeys

Although his memory reaches back to the time he drove an ox team from Cache Valley to Salt Lake City 92-year-old Joseph H. Salisbury wouldn't want to go back to the days of oxen and donkeys.

"I couldn't get along with donkeys and oxen for transportation now," the trim and spritely oldster commented Saturday. He had taken the bus to town from his home at 263-6th Ave., and then walked to the Deseret News and Telegram office to say has was celebrating his 92nd birthday.

The lifelong farmer said he could remember the changes in grain harvesting from sickle to header and to day's modern mobile harvesters.

"There been many other changes too, and for the better," he said. Today's atomic age is a far cry from the days when a corral was maintained for ox teams near where the Hotel Utah now stands," he noted.

He was born Aug. 3, 1863 at Wellsville, Cache County, a son of Joshua and Elizabeth Hoskins Salisbury. On Jan. 1, 1885 he married Matilda Gibbs in the Logan Temple, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Mr. Salisbury came to Salt Lake City about 20 years ago. Mrs. Salisbury died in 1935.

He married Maude Reynolds Aug. 2, 1937 at San Francisco.

Besides LeRoy, Mr. Salisbury has two other sons, Joseph G. Salisbury, 407 E. 3rd South, Salt Lake City, and Wilford G. Salisbury, Murray. He has 16 grandchildren and "at least 27" great-grandchildren.

Letter of Appointment.

Elder Jos. H. Salisbury

BELOVED BROTHER,-

This is to certify that you are appointed to labor in the Seeds Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, under the direction of Elder Joshua B. Bean. It is your duty to preach the Gospel, and administer the ordinances thereof which pertain to the office of an Elder, and assist your President in discharging any duties which he may require of you, for the welfare of the cause where you are appointed to labor.

Dear Brother, keep the commandments of God, honor the Covenants you have made with the Lord and your brethren, observe the counsels of those who are placed over you; live pure, be humble and prayerful, resist temptation, eschew the very appearance of evil, that the Holy Spirit may accompany your administrations—that the power of your Priesthood and calling may increase upon you—the hearts of the people be opened to receive your testimony and minister to your necessities; and you will then be instrumental, in the hands of God, of turning many from the errors and follies of the world to the knowledge of the Truth.

 to return home on the steamship Alaska, which sails Sept. 16 1893

Your labors in the ministry in this land have been satisfactory to the Presidency, and no doubt they will result in much good to the people who have listened to your testimonies and given their minds to the contemplation of the Gospel truths presented to them through your instrumentality.

We pray that the blessings of our Eternal Father may attend you during your journey, and that your life may be spared to reach home in peace and safety, there to enjoy the society of loved relatives and friends, at the gathering place of the Saints.

We beseech you, dear brother, to continue your faithful labors in Zion, as directed by the servants of the Lord, to establish the Church and Kingdom of God upon the earth.

Worker In Church Dies In S.L. At Age Of 94

Joseph Hoskins Salisbury, 94, native Utahn and active worker in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, died Sunday at 10 p.m. at his residence, 263-6th Ave., of causes incident to age.

Mr. Salisbury was born at Wellsville, Cache County, Aug. 3, 1863, a son of Joshua and Elizabeth Hoskins Salisbury.

Mr. Salisbury

Mr. Salisbury spent most of his younger life in Wellsville, where he was engaged in farming and ranching. He moved to Oregon for several years and then came to Salt Lake City upon his retirement 30 years ago.

Mr. Salisbury married Matilda Jane Gibbs in the Logan Temple in 1885. She died in 1935. He then married Maude Davis Reynolds Aug. 2, 1937, at San Francisco.

A former Church missionary to England, Mr. Salisbury was also president of the Imbler Branch, Western States Mission in Oregon, and later served six years as bishop of the same branch.

DESERET NEWS AND TELEGRAM, Salt Lake City,

Monday, November 4, 1957

Mr. Salisbury was a counselor in the Logan Third Ward bishopric and was a member of the Salt Lake North Eighteenth Ward at the time of his death. He had been an active temple worker for 12 years.

Surviving Mr. Salisbury, besides his widow, are three sons, Joseph G. Salisbury, Salt Lake City; LeRoy G. Salisbury, Newton, Cache County, and Wilford G. Salisbury, Murray.

Also surviving are 16 grandchildren, 33 great-grandchildren, five stepdaughters, a stepson, 14 step-grandchildren and a brother, Joshua Salisbury, Salt Lake City.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 11 a.m. in the North Eighteenth Ward Chapel, 101 A St., with Bishop Harvey R. Durrant officiating.

Friends may call at 4330 S. Redwood Rd., Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. and at the Ward chapel, Wednesday, one hour before services. Burial will be in the Logan City Cemetery Wednesday at 3 p.m.

SALISBURY, Joshua Edwin, the seventh of the eight children born to Joshua Salisbury and Elizabeth Hoskin, Utah pioneers. He was born November 22, 1872, at Wellsville, Cache County, Utah.

JOSHUA EDWIN SALISBURY

As a boy, he learned responsibility early. For example, when he was but twelve or fourteen years of age, his father sent him alone with a wagon and team of horses on an overnight trip into the mountains to haul down a load of logs.

He received his early education in Wellsville. The school he attended was a one-room building of rock construction which his father had helped build. There were six grades in this one room, with a total of about one hundred pupils who were instructed by two teachers.

He was baptized January 5, 1880, and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

When he was fifteen years of age, he went to Salt Lake City to attend the Social Hall Academy, where he studied for one year. The following year he entered the University of Deseret (now University of Utah), planning to become a teacher. However, because of financial difficulties, he was unable to complete his normal training, and left the University at the end of the first year. For a short time he studied violin with Willard Weigh.

His first job after leaving school was that of motorman for the Rapid Transit Street Car in Salt Lake City. He felt very uneasy while thus employed, as the necessity of working on Sundays caused him to miss his Church meetings. So, after working for the street-car line for two and one-half years, he took a job at the Co-op Furniture, although it meant a drop in monthly salary from $100 down to $40. During the year he was at the Co-op, he was married to Jane Ann Freebairn on October 11, 1894, in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah. Joshua and Jane were blessed with five children. (See family group record.)

Following his job at the Co-op, Joshua worked ten years in Salt Lake City for ZCMI. He later took his wife and children to Oregon where he tried his hand at farming, but soon returned to Salt Lake City where he bought a small grocery store on Eighth West and Ninth South.

In 1910, The store was leased and some other properties were sold in order to provide the means whereby Joshua might fill a mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He served as a missionary to Great Britain from June 1910 until October 1912, leaving his wife to care for the children at home as was the custom.

After returning from his mission, he worked for various business concerns in Salt Lake City. Later he worked for five years in the Salt Lake County Recorder's office, engaged in farming in Murray for several years, served four years as a Deputy Sheriff for Salt Lake County, and was Superintendent of the Salt Lake County Detention Home for Boys for ten years.

His dear wife Jane died of injuries sustained in an automobile accident on August 23, 1941, when the two of them were on their way to Oregon to attend the funeral service for Joshua's brother, Hyrum.

On September 14, 1942, he was married 2nd to Hulda Garff Mickelsen, a widow near his own age, who was a worker in the Salt Lake Temple.

Joshua has been a faithful servant in the LDS Church. On December 29, 1901, at the organization of the 26th Ward in Salt Lake City, he was ordained a High Priest and set apart as a counselor to Bishop Louis G. Hoagland by Elder Charles W. Penrose. He has since served in there bishoprics, and has been chorister in several wards, as well as having held various other offices. And now, at a vigorous eighty-six years of age (1958), he has served for more than fifteen years as an ordinance worker in the Salt Lake LDS Temple, where he has also led the singing in the morning meetings for about twelve years.

He is loved and revered by his numerous posterity, which includes, at this writing (1958), sixteen grandchildren and twenty-three great-grandchildren.

Joshua Edwin Salisbury died in Salt Lake City, Utah, on January 7, 1959, at the age of 87.

DESERET NEWS AND TELEGRAM, Salt Lake City, Saturday, November 23, 1957

Family Party To Honor S.L. Man, 86

Joshua E. Salisbury, 68 Wood Ave., observed his 86th birthday Friday and he will be honored by his family Sunday with a dinner at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. Robert B. Nielsen, 1325 E. 8425 South.

He was born Nov. 22, 1871, in Wellsville, Cache County, a son of Joshua and Elizabeth Hoskin Salisbury. He has been a resident of Salt Lake City since he was 15 years old. He attended the Social Hall Academy and University of Deseret.

Mr. Salisbury has been employed with the Salt Lake County Recorder's office, served four years as deputy sheriff for Salt Lake County and ten years as superintendent of the Salt Lake County Detention Home for boys. He has also been engaged in farming in Murray.

He married Jane Ann Freebairn Oct. 11, 1894, in the Salt Lake Temple, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. She died Aug. 23, 1941. On Sept. 14, 1942, he married Hulda Garff Mickelsen.

Active in the Church, Mr. Salisbury filled a mission to Great Britain. He has been a member of several bishoprics and chorister in a number of wards. At present he is a worker in the Salt Lake Temple, where he has served for more than 15 years.

He is the father of five children, three of whom are now living. They include, Mrs. Herbert E. (Estelle) Allen, Mrs. Henry C. (Ida) Krantz and Orin F. Salisbury, all of Salt Lake City. There are 16 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren.

South Temple Friday from 6 to 8 p.m. and Saturday at the ward chapel one hour prior to services. Burial will be in the Salt Lake City Cemetery.

SALISBURY, LeRoy Gibbs, successful farmer and Mormon Bishop, was born in Wells-ville, Utah, March 3, 1891. His parents were Joseph Hoskin Salisbury and Matilda Jane Gibbs. He was blessed and named by his grandfather, Joshua Salisbury in the Wells-ville, LDS Ward. When he was six years of age his father left to fill a mission to England for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

LEROY GIBBS SALISBURY

On his eighth birthday they drove to the Wells-ville Creek with a team of horses and sleigh where he was baptized by Richard Brenchley. He was confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on March 5, 1899 by Bishop William H. Maughan of Wellsville Ward.

Soon after his eighth birthday the family moved to Baker, Oregon for one year and then to Imbler, Oregon, where his father was Bishop of that ward. Because of the ill health of his mother, the family moved back to Logan, Cache County, Utah, and engaged in farming.

LeRoy enlisted in the U. S. Air Corps in WW I., on December 13, 1917. He returned home the following year on December 24, 1918. Five months of his military duty were spent in England.

Upon his return home he married Gwennie Blanchard in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah on June 4, 1919. They settled on the family farm at Cache Junction, Utah. He was superintendent of the LDS Ward Sunday School there, and also operated the public school bus for a number of years, bringing the children to the school in Newton, Cache County, Utah. After he and his family moved to Newton, LeRoy served in the Presidency of the Ward MIA and at the time he was called to be the Bishop of the Ward he was in the Sunday School Superintendency.

On February 11, 1940, LeRoy was sustained as Bishop of the Newton LDS Ward and served in this capacity for eight and one-half years. During his incumbancy as bishop he helped with the construction of the Smithfield LDS Stake House and also saw the completion of the Newton Ward Chapel which had stood for nineteen previous years, uncompleted. After his release from the office of Bishop he served for six and one-half years in the Smithfield Stake High Council. His occupation is farming. He is the father of seven fine children, two girls and five boys. The first child Ivan, died when an infant. (See Family group record.)

SALISBURY, Mrs. Letitia Mary Ann Hale, (See page 48.)

SALISBURY, Lincoln Joseph, son of Joseph Gibbs Salisbury and Ivy Petersen, was born February 12, 1922, in Boise, Idaho. He was baptized March 1, 1930 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He graduated from West High School, Salt Lake City, Utah in June 1940.

On May 14, 1942, Lincoln married Thella Langford Cook, in the Beehive House at Salt Lake City, Utah. He entered military service in October of that year and was assigned to the Air Corps. While still in the United States he attended Technical School in Los Angeles, California. He was also stationed at Westover Airfield, near Holyoke, Massachusetts and at an airfield near Norfolk, Virginia.

Lincoln departed for overseas duty in March 1944 and saw duty in Southern England, France, Belgium, Holland and Germany. He was in the service of his country for three years...one and one-half years of it on overseas duty. After the war he returned home and took employment with his former employer, the Tracy-Collins Trust Company, Salt Lake City, and worked in the Insurance Department of that bank.

Entering Sea Scouting in 1937, when he was fifteen years of age, he was still an active member upon his entry into the Military service, five years later. He worked through the ranks to become a "Quartermaster" and "mate" on the Sea Scout Ship "Bonneville" in Salt Lake City and also attended several Regattas in California and boated on Great Salt Lake.

Lincoln is an Elder in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and currently is a Ward Clerk in the Holladay Seventh Ward, in charge of statistics and historical records.

He spent nearly nineteen years with the Tracy-Collins Trust Company with three years out for military duty. In February of 1959 he changed positions and became Special agent for the Commercial Union Group of Insurance Companies. In this assignment he supervises the company's interests in Utah and Southern Idaho and travels over the two states.

Lincoln and his wife Thella have been blessed with two sons, Alan Langford and Brian Kent. (See family group record.)

Lincoln's son, Alan, is active in all sports and plays "Little League" baseball. He is the "catcher" but also pitches and plays third base. Brian has an active mind and a lively imagination.

SALISBURY, Louine Jane, (now Mrs. David Richard Kezerian) was born on Monday, July 29, 1929 in Salt Lake City, Utah the daughter of Wilford Gibbs Salisbury and LaVon Emma Toone. She grew up and lived on the family farm at 4126 South 2nd West, Murray, until she was married.

LOUINE JANE SALISBURY

Her parents considered her a gift from heaven and her birth an answer to their prayers. With her two grandfathers standing in the circle with the Ward Elders of the church, she was named and blessed the first Sunday in September 1929, by her father.

She received her elementary education at the Lincoln grade school on 39th South and 5th East. Louine was baptized July 31, 1937 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints on August 1, 1937. She has always been active in her church duties, attending Primary and YL-MIA as she grew to womanhood.

She graduated from the Granite High School in Murray, Utah in 1946 at the age of 18 years. During her attendance at high school she worked part-time at the Murray Bakery to help herself financially. Later, after her graduation, she worked as a stenographer and bookkeeper at the Granite Furniture Store in Murray, and as an IBM operator at the Bennett Glass & Paint Company.

Always active in her church she served as Ward MIA Secretary and member of the Stake Sunday School Board. It was while doing this work that she met her future husband, who was then a member of the Stake Sunday School Superintendency and had filled an LDS mission to the New England States during 1948-50.

They were married in the Salt Lake City LDS Temple on January 19, 1951 with Elder Harold B. Lee officiating and left soon thereafter for Baltimore, Maryland where her husband continued her studies. After their return to Salt Lake City, they moved into their own home at 4062 South 2nd West. Four fine children have blessed this union. (See family group record).

Louine continues to find time for activity in the church and has served in many capacities including President of the Valley Center 1st Ward Relief Society, while her husband David Richard Kezerian, served as a member of the Millcreek Stake High Council for four years until 1960 and is now working as a clerk of the Stake.

SALISBURY, Mrs. Lucile Kimball, musician and teacher, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, on December 8, 1914, a daughter of Harold Clive Kimball and Zella Taylor.

All eight of her great-grandparents were Utah Pioneers. All of her life, until her marriage, she lived with her parents, whose home was located on ground which was once a part of the farm of President Heber C. Kimball.

LUCILE K. SALISBURY

She was baptized January 7, 1923 at Salt Lake City, by Joseph Gill, and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints by her grandfather in the Burton Ward, which was then in Granite Stake.

Lucile attended the Madison Elementary and Junior High, and the Granite High School, from which she graduated at the top of her class at the age of sixteen (two years younger than most of the other graduates.) She was awarded a "G" Medal for scholarship, and was the class valedictorian. She also attended the University of Utah.

She has always been an active member of the Church. For the past fifteen years she has served as ward organist. She was a counselor for four years and then president for two years, of the Browning Ward Relief Society (Wells Stake), and at the present time (1958) is a member of the board of the Wells Stake Relief Society.

At an early age, Lucile began to study music, and became an accomplished violinist. While in her teens she won first place in several different talent contests. She was concert-master of the Granite High and University of Utah orchestras. It was because of her performance in a recital when she was eleven years old, that a young violinist named Orin Salisbury asked her to join him in playing a violin duet on a program.

That first duet led to many more. While Orin was away on a mission for the Church, Lucile busied herself with school and more musical activities. Upon Orin's return, they became engaged, and were married in the Salt Lake LDS Temple on March 16, 1935, by Joseph Christenson. Although their firm resolve to "practice an hour before breakfast every morning" has not been kept, they have continued their music-making, and hope to be able to do so for years to come. Much of the music they play is especially arranged by Lucile.

Their four children, Don Ray, Dale Kimball, Lynn Orin, and Jane, have learned to play several instruments each, and all are now members of the Salisbury Orchestra. Their daughter-in-law, Joan, is also a member of the orchestra. As soon as the four grand-children, Donnie, Traci, Kevin and Suzanne, are old enough, it is expected that they, too, will join in the fun.

Among her other hobbies, Lucile especially enjoys sewing, making many of her own clothes and those of her daughter.

She is an active member of the Whittier Camp, Daughters of the Utah Pioneers.

In 1961 she went to Great Britain as a member of the "Singing Mothers" of the Relief Society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, where this group joined a group of native British LDS Singing Mothers, giving concerts in Albert Hall, London and other cities for a month as "singing missionaries." They also sang at the dedication of the Hyde Park LDS Chapel in London on February 26, 1961.

Lucile was sustained as counselor in the Wells Stake YW-MIA presidency on May 15, 1959. and is of now (1961) a member of the Stake Relief Society Board.

The following is an editorial from the Relief Society Magazine. Lucile was a member of this group.

Singing Mothers to Present Music at Dedication of Hyde Park Chapel in London

AT the invitation of the First Presidency, two hundred and fifty Relief Society Singing Mothers, under the direction of Dr. Florence Jepperson Madsen, will present music for the dedication of the Hyde Park Chapel in London in February 1960. Two hundred of these Singing Mothers will represent the British Mission, the North British Mission, and the Manchester Stake. The remaining fifty Singing Mothers will come from America to join their British sisters at the dedication. Dr. Frank W. Asper will accompany the Singing Mothers on the new 2,535 pipe organ, one of the finest and most flexible organs in London. President Belle S. Spafford will officially represent Relief Society. Following the dedication of the chapel, the Singing Mothers, accompanied by Dr. Asper, will appear in concert at the Royal Albert Hall in London, the Free Trade Hall in Manchester, and will present concerts in Scotland and Wales. Among the featured soloists will be Annette Richardson Dinwoodey, formerly of Salt Lake City, now living in London, and Jean Taverner, a noted English lyric soprano.

The chapel, located in the cultural center of London, will be eighty-seven feet tall, surmounted by a gold spire reaching another thirty-six feet. In the center of the tower will be a lovely stained glass window forty feet high. An invitation to the thousands of passersby to hear the gospel message is provided near the entrance to the chapel where a button can be pressed which releases a loud speaker that presents in brief and beautiful words the history of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

It will indeed be joyful tidings to Relief Society women throughout the world to know that their voices and their ideals will be represented by their sisters on the occasion of the dedication of the lovely chapel in the heart of this world-famous city. It will be a time of rejoicing for the world-wide sisterhood.

SALISBURY, Lyman Blanchard, was born November 27, 1922 in Cache Junction, Cache County, Utah, son of LeRoy Gibbs Salisbury and Gwennie Blanchard. He was baptized and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on March 3, 1931 in the Logan LDS Temple.

He attended elementary schools at Cache Junction and Newton, Utah. In June, 1941 he graduated from North Cache High School, and in the fall of 1941, entered Utah State Agricultural College, Logan, Utah, majoring in engineering.

March of 1943 he entered the U. S. Army at Fort Douglas, Utah, and served during World War II. From Fort Douglas, he was sent to Camp McQuaide, California and later attended the University of Illinois and Kalamazoo College for specialized training. On November 4, 1944 he left for overseas, landing in Liverpool, England, ten days later. He entered combat on December 7, 1944, under the command of General George Patton in the U. S. Third Army and was engaged in battle until the end of the war in Europe, May 9, 1945. He was a member of a 155 Howitzer crew.

LYMAN B. SALISBURY

Upon discharge from the service at Fort Devens, Massachusetts in 1946, he re-entered college and graduated in 1949 from the Utah State University, Logan, Utah with a B. S. degree in Business Administration. Prior to graduation he received a commission in the Air Force Reserve where he has been active and now holds the rank of Captain, U. S. A. F.

Lyman married Margaret Russell from Leominster, Massachusetts, on January 24, 1947. That same year she joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and their marriage was solemnized for time and eternity in the Logan LDS Temple on February 2, 1949. They became the parents of five children, three boys and two girls. Their first son, Kent Russell, was born October 23, 1947, and died seventeen days later. (See Family group record.)

For two and one-half years, Lyman worked for the Logan U. S. Post Office. After that, he was a salesman for Prudential Insurance Company in Logan, Utah and also in Long Beach, California. Later on he sold for Farmer's Insurance Group.

In February of 1957, he took his family to Mesa, Washington where he acquired a farm under the Bureau of Reclamation Project.

Church offices he has held include: Priesthood, Elder; Newton LDS Ward, worked in various priesthood groups and ward activities; Logan Third LDS Ward, counselor YM-MIA 1947; Logan Seventh Ward, counselor YM-MIA 1947-50; Elder's Quorum presidency, 1950-51; Lakewood California Ward, Sunday School teacher, 1954-56; Sunday School superintendency, 1953-56; Long Beach Third Ward, Deacon's Quorum instructor, 1954; etc.

SALISBURY, Lynn Orin, third son of Orin Freebairn Salisbury and Lucile Kimball, was born at Salt Lake City, Utah on March 27, 1941. He was baptized at Salt Lake City, by Willard E. Knibble on April 30, 1949 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the Browning Ward, Wells Stake, by his father, Orin F. Salisbury. Lynn was ordained a deacon, April 12, 1953; a teacher, April 10, 1955; and a priest, April 14, 1957. All ordinations were performed by his father.

LYNN ORIN SALISBURY

He has attended the Whittier Elementary School, Lincoln Junior High, and the South High School. After his graduation from high school (South High), he hopes to study pharmacy.

Lynn has held various offices in the Aaronic Priesthood quorums in the Browning Ward, and has earned his Individual Award each year. He holds the rank of First Class Scout. (1958.) For some time he has served as an organist in the Browning Ward Sunday School, and is a faithful ward teacher.

Like the other members of the family, Lynn has studied music since he was just a little fellow. Before he was old enough to study an instrument, he learned to sing many songs. His voice was clear and true, and his memory exceptional. In addition to piano and organ, he plays violin, saxophone, and drums, and has been a member of the family orchestra since he was about ten years old. He has also played in various other bands and orchestras throughout the city.

Among Lynn's other hobbies are... woodworking and model-building, and in the last few years, "water-skiing" in which field he has become quite an expert.

He was ordained an Elder, by his father, on April 17, 1960.

This year (1961), Lynn has completed two years of his studies in Pharmacy at the University of Utah.

SALISBURY, Marlow Wilford, son of Wilford Gibbs Salisbury and LaVon Emma Toone, was born August 6, 1932 at his home, 4126 South 2nd West, Murray, Utah. His red hair and blue eyes made him a popular and beautiful baby. He was blessed and named by his father in the Mill Creek LDS Ward, September 6, 1932.

Marlow was baptized September 28, 1940 in the font at the Salt Lake Tabernacle on Temple Square and subsequently confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the Mill Creek Ward, Cottonwood Stake.

He attended the Lincoln grade school; Granite Junior High School; and entered the Granite High School in 1948, graduating in 1951. He also graduated from the Granite LDS Seminary in 1951.

Joining the U. S. Air Force in January, 1952, he left for his first assignment at Lackland Air Force Base and then after three months was sent to Texas; then to Biloxi, Mississippi, where he attended radio school. Graduating in 1952, he was assigned to the Korean Theater of War and sent via boat, to Japan, landing there in February 1952 and then by plane to Korea, arriving in Seoul. He was in Korea one year before being transferred to Cal Air Base and later to Neah Bay Air Force Base in Washington. He was honorably discharged from the Air Force in January 1956.

Marlow was ordained an Elder on December 22, 1952 by his father. He participated in administering to his mother who was critically ill and witnessed the power of the Priesthood in her miraculous recovery.

Marlow was called to serve as a missionary for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and left December 13, 1956 for his assignment to the North Western States Mission. He was honorably released from his mission in December 1959 and returned home at that time. He then attended the B. Y. U. at Provo, Utah.

On August 28, 1959, Marlow married Helen Jeanne Gillette in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, and established their home in the Salt Lake Valley. This union has been blessed with one son, Don Marlow, born May 20, 1960. (See family group record)

SALISBURY, Mrs. Martha Davies, (See page 28).

SALISBURY, Mrs. Matilda Jane Gibbs, wife of Bishop Joseph Hoskin Salisbury, was born in Willard, Boxelder County, Utah, December 16, 1863, the daughter of Patriarch John Duggan Gibbs and Julia Ann Thompson, both early Utah pioneers. Mrs. Salisbury was of a most refined nature and spent her life in the service of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and in doing good among her fellowmen.

MRS. MATILDA JANE GIBBS SALISBURY

With the exception of seven years, when she resided at Imbler, Oregon, where her husband presided as Bishop of the Imbler LDS Ward, her whole life was spent in Utah. Mrs. Salisbury began her Church activities in the Portage Ward prior to her marriage in the Logan LDS Temple, January 1, 1885. She subsequently became an officer in the Wellsville MIA; president of the Imbler Ward Relief Society; an officer in the Logan 2nd Ward YWMIA, and president of the Logan 5th Ward YWMIA. While residing in Salt Lake City she was active in the Mill Creek, Forest Dale and 20th Wards Relief Societies, giving of her sound judgment and mature wisdom.

She and her husband celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on January 1, 1935. She was also an active officer of the Daughters of the Utah Pioneers organization.

Exemplifying the words, "God could not be everywhere, so He sent mothers," she became the mother of five children, namely, Joseph Gibbs, LeRoy Gibbs, Wilford Gibbs, John Duggan and Julia Elizabeth. Two of her sons have filled missions for the Church and one son rendered service to his country overseas in the U. S. army during World War I.

Mrs. Salisbury was truly a fit candidate for the Celestial Kingdom, having a life long record of service and devotion to the Church and to the principles of the gospel of Jesus Christ. She breathed a spirit of love and affection which inspired all with whom she associated. After a life well lived and full of good deeds, Mrs. Salisbury passed from this life in her 72nd year, survived by her husband, three sons and 14 grandchildren, on June 3, 1935, at Salt Lake City, Utah. After a most impressive funeral in the 20th Ward, Salt Lake City, interment took place in Logan, Utah.

"Loving and kind in all her ways,
Upright and just to the end of her days,
Sincere and true in heart and mind,

SALISBURY, Norman D. or "N. D.". (See page 159).

SALISBURY, Norman Junior, a Major in the United States Army and an instructor at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, New York, was born November 29, 1922, in Logan, Cache County, Utah, the son of Daniel Norman (N. D.) Salisbury and Eliza P. Hubbard.

He was named and blessed in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on December 29, 1922, by Elder Joseph B. White; baptized January 6, 1931, by William Z. Winn; confirmed a member of the Church, January 6, 1931, by John J. James; ordained a Deacon, January 28, 1935, by William Morley; a Teacher, January 10, 1938, by Ben Roberts, and a Priest, January 28, 1940, by his father.

On the 21st day of October 1951, Norman married Lois Palmer in Washington, D. C. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Esplin of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. They have been blessed with three children. (See family group record.)

Norman Junior graduated from the Logan Senior High School, attended the Utah State University for one year, and served one year in the United States Army prior to receiving an appointment as a student at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

He graduated from the Military Academy with the Class of 1947, and subsequently served five years with the United States Army (24th Infantry) and (ADC I Corps) during two assignments in Japan, during the years 1950-53, he was with the 3rd Infantry at Ft. Myer, Virginia.

Norman graduated from the United States Army Command and General Staff College, Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas in 1958. He was with MAAG in Vietnam from 1958 to 1959.

At the present time he is an instructor at the U. S. Military Academy.

NORMAN JUNIOR SALISBURY
Major-U. S. Army

SALISBURY, Orin Freebairn, Mormon Bishop, missionary and musician, was born April 17, 1908, in his parents' home at 725 South Eighth West, Salt Lake City, Utah, the youngest child of Joshua Edwin Salisbury and Jane Ann Freebairn. All four of his grandparents were Utah pioneers.

When he was about ten years old, the family moved to a farm in Murray, where Orin enjoyed life to the fullest. He even had his own horse! He says that he would probably be a farmer today if the family hadn't moved back to the city when he was in high school.

Orin attended various schools in Salt Lake City and in the Granite School District, and was graduated from the Granite High School in 1927. He attended Henager's Business College, the L. D. S. Business College, and the University of Utah. After his marriage he studied barbering, by which profession he now earns his livelihood.

Orin has always given freely of his time to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, having served in various capacities. Beginning when he was a young man, about seventeen years old, he served as secretary of the Burton Ward Sunday School for three years. He filled a mission (1931-33), laboring the first year in the Eastern States and the second year in the Southern States. (He was transferred to the warmer climate because of his health.) It was through his efforts that the Church was granted regular broadcasting time on radio station WJTL in Atlanta, Georgia. For some time he was choir leader in Burton Ward. In 1944, he was appointed to the presidency of the Seventies Quorum in Whittier Ward. In October 1956, he was released as Second Counselor in the Bishopric of Browning Ward, Wells Stake, in which position he had served for nearly eleven years. It was his privilege to work for nearly a year as music director for Wells Stake, after which he was appointed to the Wells Stake High Council, being set apart on September 11, 1957, by Elder George Q. Morris.

MR. & MRS. ORIN F. SALISBURY

Orin F. Salisbury was baptized at Salt Lake City on March 24, 1917, by Jesse M. Drury, and confirmed a member of the Church of Latter-day Saints in the Fifth Ward by Joshua E. Salisbury. He was ordained a teacher, December 2, 1923, by Joshua E. Salisbury; a priest, January 24, 1926, by Paul I. Paulsen; an elder, September 6, 1931, by Victor Johnson; a seventy, February 5, 1940, by Richard L. Evans; and a high priest, February 18, 1946, by Spencer W. Kimball.

Music has played an important role in Orin's life. In fact, it was through music that he met the girl who was to become his wife. Early in his youth he had had a little instruction on the violin, but it was not until he was about eighteen years of age when he heard a recital played by eleven-year old Lucile Kimball, that he began to study music in earnest. A short time later, at his mother's suggestion, he asked Lucile to play a duet with him on a program at Granite High School, which she did, and they have been making music together ever since. Lucile's mother, Zella Taylor Kimball, accompanied their first duet, as well as many subsequent ones. Orin and Lucile, together with Orin's sister, Ida, appeared as a trio on many programs, and for a number of years played on KSL Radio in Salt Lake City, where they were known as the "Fire-side Entertainers", sponsored by the Blue Blaze Coal Company. During their lives, Orin and Lucile have given literally thousands of public performances as soloists, as a team, as members of other groups and orchestras, and most recently with their fine children (including their daughter-in-law). They have furnished music for Sacrament meetings, funerals, missionary farewells, weddings, teas, dinners, Church entertainments of various kinds, in recitals, on radio and television, on stage, in concert, and for dancing.

While Orin was away on his mission for the Church, Lucile waited for him, and upon his return they were married in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, on March 16, 1935. They have three sons, Don Ray, Dale Kimball, and Lynn Orin, and a daughter, Jane. Their oldest son, Don, married Joan Young, and has two sons, Don Ray, Jr., and Kevin, and two daughters, Tracilyn and Suzanne.

Orin has been a wonderful father and companion to his children. He has guided them with a firm, but kind hand. Through his perseverance, the children all have learned to play musical instruments, and one by one have joined the family orchestra. Although his evenings and week-ends have been taken up by musical and Church activities, he has made holidays into occasions to be long remembered, and vacations have been planned to include the entire family.

Orin is of a very friendly nature, and people enjoy his quick wit and ready smile. He was ordained a Bishop by Alma Sonne on January 18, 1961, and set apart to preside over the Browning Ward, Wells Stake, after having been sustained to this position by the ward membership on Sunday, January 15, 1961.

On February 14, 1961, Orin accompanied his wife, who was a member of the "Singing Mothers", on a trip to Europe. They enjoyed seeing and visiting England, Ireland, Scotland, and Wales.

By Pearl R. Matthews

Meet your neighbors—

Music by the Salisbury's has been a familiar theme these last seven years as Mr. and Mrs. Orin F. Salisbury and their family of three sons, a daughter and a daughter-in-law provide music for your dancing pleasure. Often are they engaged for weddings and parties at Memory Grove and various Ward and Stake Dances. Mr. Salisbury plays the drums, the violin and the accordion; his eldest son, Don 22, plays the sax and clarinet; Dale 20, plays the piano and trombone; Lynn 17, the fish horn, tenor sax, the violin and is really stupendous on the drums; the daughter, Jane, who is 12 and joining the group 3 years ago, plays the violin, sax and piano; Mrs. Don, or Joan, 21, plays the bass fiddle; while the mother, Lucile, does much of the arrangement work and plays the sax and violin.

Mr. Salisbury is really one of the old timer business men in the area having been in the same barber shop at 905 West 7th South for more than twenty one years. Don is now associated with his father at the same location. He and Barbara purchased a new home in the Grove a year and a half ago at 1300 West 9th South

THE SALISBURY FAMILY ORCHESTRA Popular Salt Lake City Ensemble

When, a little over twenty years ago, a young high school violinist in Salt Lake City invited a girl in the lower grades to play a duet with him at an assembly program, he certainly could not have guessed that today he and his partner and their four children would be one of the city's most popular entertainment units.

The violinist was Orin Salisbury, and his partner in the duet "that little Lucile Kimball girl" he had observed some time before as she played one of her first violin recitals. In fact, it was his chagrin at hearing an eleven-year-old girl play better than he that started him toward a more industrious approach to his own music.

"That little Lucile Kimball girl" has been Mrs. Orin Salisbury for seventeen years and she says, "Our first duet was the beginning of a wonderful lifetime of playing music together. We now have four children, and thanks to Orin's diligence in working with them, have our own family orchestra which is coming along fine."

The Salisbury Family Orchestra has appeared over station KDYL-TV and in many musical programs sponsored by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, of which they are members. Also, the parents and oldest children often play week-end engagements for weddings and dances in their community. On Sundays Mrs. Salisbury plays the Hammond organ in Browning Ward Chapel, where she has served as organist for some time. Her son Dale, 13, is one of the Sunday School organists, and also plays piano, violin and drums; he is accompanist of the Lincoln Junior High School Boys' Glee Club.

Sixteen-year-old Don plays the violin and solo clarinet, and the youngest boy, Lynn, 11, the violin and drums. All three boys are members of the Junior Optimists Club Band, their individual school orchestras and the McCune School of Music and Art Orchestral Class, directed by Dr. Frank W. Asper, renowned Mormon Tabernacle organist.

Add to this their father's fine ability as violinist and their mother's versatility in violin and organ and you have the makings of a fine family orchestra with many possible combinations of instruments. Four years ago the Salisburys acquired a Hammond organ which the boys, as well as the mother, are studying.

Little Jane, the only daughter, is about six and not advanced enough to take an active part in the family group. However, so insistent is she on "getting into the act," her proud father has treated her violin bow with "hokum powder" so that the child can appear, even if inaudibly. (If little Jane cannot read this too well yet—although with such family precociousness, we doubt it—please don't give away the family secret. A desire to play music in one so young should not be discouraged!)

Lucile Salisbury exhibited the same enthusiasm for music when she was six. Her mother was a public school music teacher, and her father a musician in his own dance orchestra. Hearing so much music in her home, Louise begged to begin her music lessons. Serious application to music made her a concert master in the high school and University of Utah orchestras. Her perseverance and ability earned her three "firsts" in city, state and interstate music contests. Her first duet with Orin led to many others at church events and over station KSL. Their duets, put aside only while Orin served the customary LDS two-year mission, have been going on ever since.

SALISBURY, RaNae Emma, (now Mrs. Kay 'S' Labrum) was born Sunday, April 11, 1937, in Murray, Salt Lake County, Utah, the daughter of Wilford Gibbs Salisbury and LaVon Emma Toone. She was baptized in the font at the Tabernacle on Temple Square, Salt Lake City, Utah, April 26, 1945, by her father and on May 6, 1945, she was confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints by Clements Fredrick Toone, her maternal grandfather.

RA NA E EMMA SALISBURY

She graduated from the Granite High School on May 27, 1955, after receiving her elementary schooling at the Lincoln School. She also graduated from the Granite High LDS Seminary.

On June 5, 1959, she graduated from Brigham Young University with a Bachelor of Science degree, and then taught school in Vernal, Utah.

Always active in her Church, RaNae has received the various awards of the M. I. A., and served in different capacities in the Valley Center Ward, Cottonwood Stake, Mill Creek Stake; and BYU Tenth Ward. Her hobbies are music, art and sports.

She was made a Golden Gleaner in April 1959, and prior to that, she had received her Silver Gleaner Award, June 26, 1955; Honor Bee Award, May 18, 1951; and Bee Hive Award, May 18, 1951 in the Valley Center Ward.

She has held responsible positions in the auxiliaries, including a counselor in the presidency of the BYU Stake MIA (1958-59) and president of BYU Fifth Ward, MIA.

RaNae was married to Kay 'S' Labrum, July 1, 1959 in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, with Elder Harold B. Lee of the Council of the Twelve, officiating. Her husband has filled an LDS mission to the Eastern States (1956-58). They now live in Vernal, Utah, and have one son, Chad 'S' Labrum. (See family group record.) Both Kay and Ranae are active in their LDS Ward in Vernal.

Winning many contests and awards in the Salt Lake area she was elected "Dream Girl" of Delta Phi at the Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, in 1958.

Granite Park Picks Queen

Special to The Tribune
GRANITE PARK — RaNae Salisbury, a 16-year-old blue-eyed blonde, was named "Miss Granite Park" Saturday night in the annual contest sponsored by the Granite Park Lions Club. Selection of the queen climaxed the Granite Park Days celebration sponsored by the Lions at Harmony Park, 3700 S. Main.

Winning beauty contests comes naturally to the 5-foot-5 junior at Granite High School. She was named sophomore queen at school last fall.

Miss Salisbury is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Salisbury, 4126 S. 300 West.

She will be entered in the Salt Lake County Fair queen contest, said Pete Harmon, chairman of the event.

SALISBURY, Richard Odin, son of Joseph Gibbs Salisbury and Ivy Vivian Petersen, was born, March 28, 1926, in Salt Lake City, Utah.

He was baptized March 31, 1934 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, shortly thereafter. Richard graduated from West High School, Salt Lake City, in 1943.

He served in the Armed Forces during World War II, with honor and was honorably discharged, 1946. He held the rank of technical sergeant.

On January 18, 1947, he married Jean Audrey Taylor. Four fine sons have blessed this union. (See family group record.)

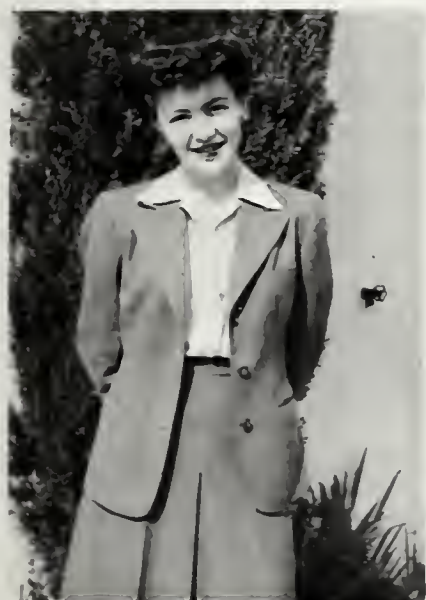

Pursuing his education, he graduated from the University of Utah in 1950 with a B. S. degree in Electrical Engineering.

He has rendered professional services for the following: RCA Service Co: U.S. Government, at Dugway, Utah; Boeing Airplane Company in Seattle, Washington; Sperry Engineering Laboratory in Salt Lake City, and Hill Air Force Base, Utah.

RICHARD ODIN SALISBURY

SALISBURY, Mrs. Shirley Patricia Brown, daughter of Clarence Harrison Brown and Doris Rowena Fitch, was born April 15, 1921 at Drumheller, Alberta, Canada, and lived there until she was four years of age, at which time the family moved to Price, Utah, where her father was a salesman for Goodman Manufacturing Company, manufacturer of electrical mining machinery. At the age of sixteen, she moved to Salt Lake City and next door to John Duggan Salisbury, who, six years later became her husband.

SHIRLEY

During the time "Jack" was serving the Navy in World War II, she divided her time between Chicago, Illinois (where her parents were then living), and Salt Lake City. When her husband was released from the service and returned to Salt Lake to finish his college education, Shirley went to work to supplement the family income. In 1951 she approved the move to California, and has been very happy in Livermore, California.

Shirley's family background includes a Captain Josiah Brown who fired the last shot at Bunker Hill on the advancing British in the Revolutionary War. It also includes a great, great, great-grandfather who was a brother to Oliver Goldsmith the famous poet.

In recent years, Shirley was privileged to work as secretary to Walter E. Lammerts, internationally famous as a rose hybridizer. Some of his famous originations include: "Queen Elizabeth" - "Charlotte Armstrong" and "Chrysler Imperial."

Shirley is the mother of one son, David Alan Salisbury. At the present time she is enjoying her role as homemaker.

SALISBURY, Mrs. Thella Langford Cook, wife of Lincoln Joseph Salisbury, was born March 14, 1923 in American Fork, Utah, daughter of John Albert Cook and Rose Ella Langford. When she was eight years of age, she was baptized and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

THELLA

Ever since she was three years of age, at which time she sang a solo in the road show of the Fourteenth LDS Ward, in Salt Lake City, she has been actively engaged in music, drama, and speech. She has had many years of dancing, (tap, acrobatic and ballet.)

At twelve years of age she could play the cello and while at Horace Mann School, Salt Lake City, she was the concert mistress of that school's orchestra. While in high school she played the piano for a professional 'Teen' orchestra. At the West High School, Salt Lake City, she had the lead in a professional Oriental Opera, sang with the Salt Lake Oratorical Society for their presentation of the Messiah and appeared several times with the Salt Lake Tabernacle Choir.

She graduated from high school in 1940 and married Lincoln Joseph Salisbury in 1942. While traveling with her army husband, she did photographic and live modeling, and later appeared with the Salt Lake Theater group in "Parlor Maid."

Thella had her own television show on KSL-TV., "Just For You", and in this position interviewed celebrities and movie stars.

She has been the assistant sales manager and personal director the a chain of Dunford Bakeries and at the present time is the State Campaign Director for the Utah Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Always active in her Church, she has been director of Music, Speech and Drama in the Mutual Improvement Association in her ward and also on the Stake MIA Board as drama director.

In 1958 and 1959, she assisted the General Board of MIA with their special conferences. She is very talented in composing and especially enjoys composing children's songs. Thella and Lincoln have been blessed with two sons. (See family group record.)

SALISBURY, Wilbur Stoddard, inventor, logging superintendent and World War I soldier, son of Ellis Davies Salisbury and Alice Sophia Stoddard, was born June 12, 1894 at Baker, Union County, Oregon. He was baptized and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, when about eight years of age. He lived with his parents through his school years, residing at Baker, Alicel, Enterprise, Union and La Grande, Oregon.

After leaving school he was in the retail milk business and at about the age of twenty-one, went to work for his uncle, George Stoddard, in the logging operations of the Grande Ronde Lumber Company, later becoming logging superintendent for that company.

"Bill" as he was known, was married to Ethel Darr of Elgin, Oregon, on April 29, 1918. In about June of 1918, he enlisted in the U. S. Army and served during the remainder of World War I, in France.

After his return from his war service, he was employed as logging superintendent for the Oregon Lumber Company at Bates, Oregon, and later in the same capacity for the Craig Mountain Lumber Company at Winchester, Idaho.

He is the father of two children. (See Family group record.) His daughter, Alice Salisbury Meek, lives at Lewiston, Idaho, with her husband and two children, and his son Wilbur, or "Billy" as he was known, was killed in action in the battle of the Belgian "Bulge" on December 29, 1944, during World War II.

The Craig Mountain Lumber Company was sold about 1950 and Bill then moved to Susanville, California, where he was superintendent for his company. Later he moved to Leggett, California, where he was killed in a logging accident on August 7, 1953.

He was a most successful as a logging superintendent, having the honor of logging at one of the very lowest costs per thousand, of anyone in the northwest. He also contributed greatly to the industry by inventing what he known as the "Salisbury Loading Hook" which is used widely in the United States and Canada.

Bill was highly thought of by all of his associates and was always willing to help those less fortunate than himself. He was greatly assisted by his wife, Ethel, who is living with their daughter and son-in-law in Lewiston, Idaho.

I follow a famous father and him I must keep in mind.
Though his form is gone I must carry on
The name that he left behind.
It was mine the day that he gave it, it shown as a monarchs crown
And as fair to see as it came to me
It must be when I lay it down.

MR. & MRS. WILFORD G. SALISBURY

SALISBURY, Wilford Gibbs, retired farmer and churchman, the fourth son of Joseph Hoskin Salisbury and Matilda Jane Gibbs, was born in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah, February 8, 1898. He started attending elementary school in Imbler, Oregon, where the family had moved to and later, the Woodruff School in Logan, Utah. He also attended Brigham Young High School, Logan, Utah, graduating in June 1918. After graduating he attended the Utah State Agricultural College the same year.

Wilford was baptized in a pond of water in Imbler, Oregon, by his father, April 4, 1906 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints the next day in Fast Meeting.

He received the Aaronic Priesthood and was ordained a Deacon at the age of twelve; a teacher, when he became fourteen; subsequently a priest and then an Elder in September 1919 by Joseph Shepherd. He fulfilled an honorable two year mission to the Western States Mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, departing for his field of labor in the fall of 1919. His labors were temporarily broken in two, when he was required to return home for a few months to help harvest the crops on the family farm. He became an expert farmer while working on his father's farm and ranch in Cache County, Utah, and later owned and operated his own farm in Murray, Utah which he purchased from his father in 1928.

On June 13, 1928, he married LaVon Emma Toone, in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, and they became the parents of five children. (See family group record.)

Wilford worked for some time as a bond salesman in Idaho, Detroit, Denver, and Miami and then learned the trade of brick-mason. He received his Bricklayers Union Card while in Miami, Florida, and supplemented the family farm income by doing this seasonal work.

Continuously active in his church responsibilities, he was ordained a Seventy by Joseph Merrill and a High Priest by Henry D. Moyle in 1949.

His church assignments have included: President of an Elders Quorum; member of Valley Center First Ward Bishopric (1952-58); and Highcouncilman in the Cottonwood Stake.

Wilford's wife, LaVon, has magnified her assignments in the auxiliary organizations of Primary, M. I. A., and Relief Society. She has been in the presidency of five Relief Society organizations and has taught Theology and Social Science lessons in two different LDS Ward societies.

In 1959, Wilford and LaVon moved to a new home where they now reside at 5186 South West Moor Road, Salt Lake City.

Wilford's children appear elsewhere in this book, however, the life sketch of Dorothy was received too late to print in its alphabetical sequence so is given herewith:

WILFORD and LAVON

Wilford and LaVon's daughter, Dorothy LaVon Salisbury, (now Mrs. Aaron F. Jolley) was born August 27, 1930 at the family home, Murray, Utah. She was named and blessed by her father in September, 1930, in MillCreek LDS Ward, Cottonwood Stake, and at the age of three years, won a bathing beauty contest in the Murray Park.

MR. & MRS. AARON F. JOLLEY

She received her education at the Lincoln elementary school and graduated from the Granite High School and the Granite LDS Seminary, in 1938. She later worked as a stenographer and bookkeeper.

Always active in her Church she was baptized September 3, 1928 in the Salt Lake Tabernacle font on Temple Square, Salt Lake City, and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints the following Sunday, by her father in the Mill Creek Ward.

She learned to play the piano and the organ while a young girl, starting her lessons at the age of nine and has since rendered much service as organist and chorister in the wards where she has lived. She has accompanied many famous singers and has played for unnumbered church programs, missionary farewells, etc.

Dorothy married Aaron Floyd Jolley in the LDS Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, December 18, 1950, Elder Harold B. Lee officiating.

Aaron had previously fulfilled a mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints to the Northern States, (1948-50). He attended the University of Utah School of Business and also graduated as a mortician from a mortuary school in Los Angeles, California.

Dorothy and Aaron first met at an M. I. A. ward dance when she was sixteen. This couple and their family of five children, now live in

Vernal, Utah, where he operates a furniture store. (See family group record.)

Dorothy is now chorister in the Vernal Third Ward Primary, she was recently released as ward organist. Her husband Aaron, is first counselor in the bishopric of the same ward.

SCOTT, Mrs. Louise Salisbury, daughter of Ellis Davies Salisbury and Alice Sophia Stoddard, was born on December 17, 1906 at Alicel, Union County, Oregon. She was baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on January 3, 1915.

She attended school at Grange Hall near the farm home and graduated from La Grande High School. After graduation, she was employed in the office of the Telephone Company in La Grande, Oregon, and later as secretary in a law office there.

On November 11, 1928, Louise was married to her school days sweetheart, Wayman Harding Scott, and continued living in La Grande until she and "Scotty" as he was known by his friends and associates throughout his life, moved to Portland, Oregon.

Louise was there employed by the C. D. Johnson Lumber Company as a secretary. After living in Seattle, Washington for a few years, she returned to Portland and renewed her association with the Johnson Lumber Company where she is still employed and is a most efficient and trusted employee.

Louise has been devoted to the members of her family and friends, throughout her life and possesses an unusually large circle of friends. She lived with and cared for her mother, Alice Sophia Stoddard Salisbury, throughout the years of illness prior to her death. Louise also cared for her husband through several years of his illness prior to his death from a congenital heart ailment on March 6, 1953. She is currently residing in Portland, Oregon.

LOUISE SALISBURY SCOTT

SCOTT, Mrs. Marlene Maughan Curtis, daughter of Kendall Harry Curtis and Julia Salisbury Maughan, was born in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah, September 8, 1933.

When Marlene was seven years of age, her mother died and Marlene was reared in the homes of various relatives.

She was baptized August 25, 1941 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on August 26, 1941, in Logan, Utah. She attended schools in Providence and Logan, Utah, and graduated from Weed High School at Weed, California. In Evanston, Wyoming on July 1, 1955, Marlene married Calston Scott. They lived for three years in France while Calston served in the Armed Forces of the United States of America. They are the parents of a fine son, Jeffrey Scott. (See family group record.)

SIMMS, Mrs. Ruth Parker, daughter of Fred Cooper Parker and Edna Salisbury Maughan was born March 26, 1919 in Wellsville, Utah. She was baptized July 2, 1927 when eight years of age and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

MRS. RUTH PARKER SIMMS with her baby KAREN.

She grew up on her father's ranch in Hall, Montana and could drive a team of horses, and mow hay all day long, with no trouble at all.

She attended the new Chicago School in Montana and later graduated from the Drummond High School. Ruth had many friends in this Methodist community and played the piano and organ and sang in their groups at their several churches.

In the fall of 1936, Ruth went back to Utah and in the summer of 1940, graduated from the Utah State University, Logan, Ut. After her graduation she taught English in the Roberts High School in eastern Montana for two years, then was employed by the State of Montana in the Capitol Building in Helena.

It was here that she met John Gayton Simms, a young man from Canada who subsequently became her husband.

He was in the Canadian Armed Forces and was taking paratroop training with a combined, United States-Canadian, Special Service Force.

They were married in Helena, Montana, February 12, 1943 and lived for a time in the State of Vermont. When her husband was sent overseas, Ruth returned with her baby daughter, Karen, to her father's ranch in Montana and taught school at the Drummond High School until after World War II ended, and her husband returned.

Ruth's husband continued his medical studies at Wolville, New Brunswick, Canada, and McGill Universities. Upon graduation in 1950 with an M. D., he interned at Ottawa Civic Hospital. He is now practising his profession in Ottawa, Canada. They have one daughter and three sons, (see family group record), a lovely home and many, many, friends.

In 1948, Ruth had polio but through the blessings of the Lord and the administration of the Elders of the Latter-day Saint Church, plus the good care she received from her loved ones, she completely recovered.

JOHN GAYTON SIMMS as a young man in the Canadian Armed Forces during WW II.

SMITH, Mrs. Anna Lou Parker, daughter of Fred Cooper Parker and Edna Salisbury Maughan, was born December 6, 1923 in Logan, Cache County, Utah. She was baptized July 2, 1932 and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, July 3, 1932, both ordinances being performed by her father at Hall, Montana.

She graduated from the Drummond, Montana, High School and while attending Montana Normal School in Dillon, met her husband to be, Donald J. Smith. He was president of their school class and president of his "M Men" class in the LDS Mutual Improvement Association.

LIEUT. & MRS. DONALD J. SMITH

They were married in San Francisco, California on August 6, 1945, while he was serving as a lieutenant in the United States Navy, during World War II. On May 28, 1948 they had their marriage solemnized in the LDS Temple in Logan, Utah. They became the parents of four lovely children. (See family group record.)

Her husband Don, received his law degree from the University of Utah and practiced his profession in Dillon, Montana, where he also served in the bishopric of the LDS Ward and later as a member of the Butte LDS Stake High Council.

DONALD and ANNA LOU

Anna Lou was president of the Primary in Dillon, and Relief Society teacher, at the time she and her husband and their daughter Debbie, were killed in an airplane accident near Spencer, Idaho, on February 26, 1957. They are survived by a son Don, and two daughters, Sherryl and Kathy.

T

TARBET, Mrs. Elizabeth Hale Salisbury, daughter of Joshua Salisbury and Letitia Mary Ann Hale, was born in Wellsville, Cache County, Utah, July 17, 1883. She was baptized and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints soon after reaching the age of eight years.

She grew up in the beautiful Cache Valley situated about ninety miles north of Salt Lake City.

Elizabeth's mother died when she was only five years old which made it necessary for her to live and be reared with relatives while growing to maturity.

On December 2, 1905, she married Eugene Tarbet of Logan, Utah, and to this union have been born ten children. (See family group record.) Mr. Tarbet died in San Francisco, California, September 16, 1950, and Elizabeth has been living in California of late years. She underwent an eye operation in 1960.

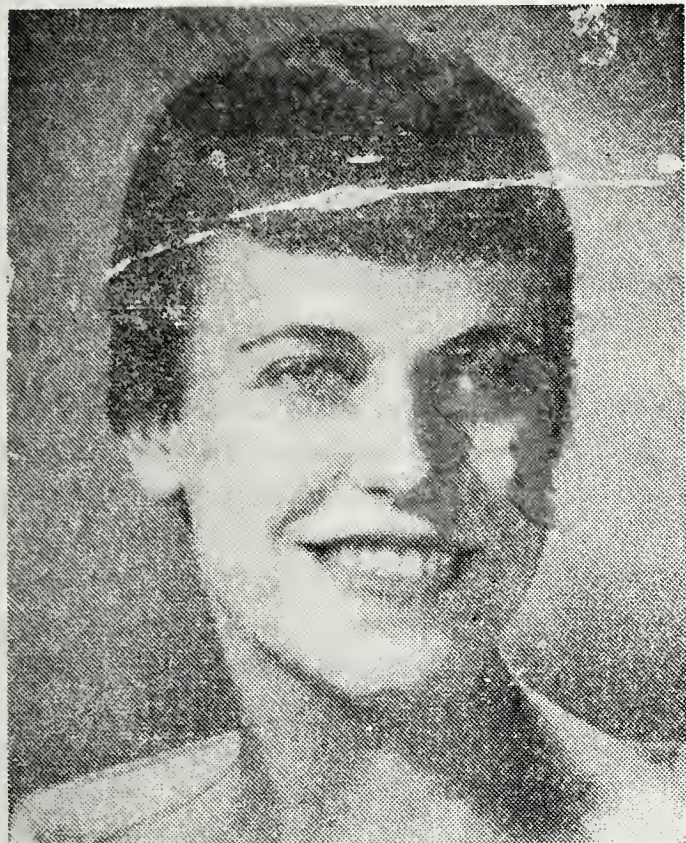

Many years of her life have been spent in and around Salt Lake City where she has kept in close contact with the L. D. S.

ELIZABETH HALE SALISBURY TARBET

Church. She has been a good and faithful mother and has taught her sons and daughters the true principles of life and salvation and has had each one baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints as they became to the age of accountability.

TAYLOR, Mrs. Dorothy Rochelle Hoskins, daughter of William Henry Hoskins, Jr., and Leora Jensen Rock, was born March 4, 1935, in Ogden, Utah.

ROCHELLE HOSKINS TAYLOR

She received her education in the Salt Lake City schools, graduating from South High School in the upper ten percent of her class. She has been active in journalistic activities in high school and received a four-year scholarship to the University of Utah.

At the University she majored in education and journalism and was a member of the staff of the University newspaper, "The Daily Chronicle," serving as reporter, assistant daily editor, and finally daily editor.

During her freshman year at the U of U she was chosen editor-in-chief of the special freshman edition of the "Chronicle," for which she received high praise.

She was a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and was chosen a member of "Spurs" and honorary service organization. During her sophomore year she reigned as Kappa Sigma fraternity's "Southern Belle."

Rochelle left the University at the end of her sophomore year to marry Kenneth Neil Taylor, graduate engineering student, on September 1, 1955 in Salt Lake City, Utah.

The marriage was performed by President N. J. Teerlink of Wells Stake, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. They have two children, Kimberly Hoskins and Shaun Kevin.

Immediately preceding and following her marriage, Rochelle worked as an accountant in the offices of the Commercial Credit Corporation in Salt Lake City.

Following her husband's graduation from the University, they made their home for a time in Albuquerque, New Mexico, later returning to Salt Lake City, where they currently reside.

Her father says of her, "Rochelle has a natural inclination toward music and could succeed in that field. In her present status, she is preoccupied with a career of rearing a fine family and as a housewife, a noble undertaking."

TIMMERMAN, Mrs. Leora Joyce Hoskins, music teacher, daughter of William Henry Hoskins, Jr., and Leora Rock, was born July 29, 1929 at Ogden, Utah. She was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on August 29, 1937, and confirmed a member thereof.

She was educated in the schools in Ogden, Carbon County, Hiawatha, and Salt Lake City, Utah, and spent her college years at the University of Utah and the University of Southern California, graduating from the former school with honors in June, 1950, having majored in music and education.

On August 24, 1949, she married Donald L. Timmerman in the Salt Lake Temple, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, the ceremony being performed by Elder Ezra Taft Benson, member of the Quorum of Twelve Apostles. They are the parents of two daughters and a son. (See family group record.)

At an early age, Joyce demonstrated musical abilities, particularly on the piano. During her four years at South High School, Salt Lake City, she served as accompanist for the A cappella Choir and other school choruses and appeared as piano soloist in many concerts given by these groups. She also participated in school dramatic activities and played a leading role in "Junior Miss" at South High.

At the University of Utah she appeared in recitals, performed with the University symphony, participated in piano ensembles, and served as accompanist for the men's chorus, directed by Professor Thomas Giles, and the ladies chorus, directed by Professor William Peterson.

During her freshman year, she appeared as guest piano soloist with the Los Angeles Symphony and distinguished herself with an outstanding performance of Rachmaninoff's Concerto No. Two, in a program that was carried by radio stations throughout the Intermountain West. At the conclusion of her sophomore year at the university, she received a music scholarship to the University of Southern California, where she studied under a Dr. Kroll.

Joyce was a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and taught piano at the University of Utah. She has been exacting of herself in her training and possesses the ability to perform simple or difficult compositions with equal ability.

She currently teaches piano lessons at home, in addition to serving as stake Relief Society music director, ward organist, accompanist for one of Salt Lake City's leading ladies choruses, the Symphony Singers, with whom she regularly appears as special soloist. She also does a great deal of accompanying for vocal and instrumental soloists, and is noted for her desire to serve her community.

She and her family live at 3950 South 3030 East, Salt Lake City, Utah.

TUJOIS, William Earl, (See page 139.)

Evelyn seems to have a "green thumb" and maintains a beautiful garden of flowers and plants. She and her family live at 2512 Filmore Street, Salt Lake City, Utah.

EVELYN as a young girl with her uncle Louis S. Leatham

WORTHEN, William Glen, the son of Virgil Glen Worthen and Evelyn T. McCarthy, was born in Salt Lake City, Utah on May 24, 1930. He attended the Salt Lake City schools until fifteen years of age when he contracted rheumatic fever and was in bed for several months. Upon recovery, he went to work in a service station as he was very interested in automobiles and engineering. Later he was employed by his father to learn the technical phase of dentistry.

He was drafted into the armed forces and received his basic training at Camp Roberts, California. He also spent six weeks in Texas training in the artillery. He came home on leave for two weeks before being sent overseas for twenty-one months, to see his little sister Julie, who was only twelve weeks old.

"Billie" as he is known by his family and friends is now at home and hopes to work with his father and become a dental technician.

WILLIAM GLEN WORTHEN, as a small boy.

COME, COME YE SAINTS

Come, come, ye Saints, no toil nor labor fear,
 But with joy wend your way;
 Tho' hard to you this journey may appear,
 Grace shall be as your day.
 'Tis better far for us to strive
 Our useless cares from us to drive;
 Do this, and joy your hearts will swell—
 All is well! All is well!

Why should we mourn, or think our lot is hard?
 'Tis not so; All is right;
 Why should we think to earn a great reward,
 If we now shun the fight?
 Gird up your loins, fresh courage take,
 Our God will never us forsake;
 And soon we'll have this tale to tell—
 All is well! All is well!

We'll find the place which God for us prepared,
 Far away, in the West;
 Where none shall come to hurt or make afraid;
 There the Saints will be blessed,
 We'll make the air with music ring—
 Shout praises to our God and King;
 Above the rest each tongue will tell
 All is well! All is well!

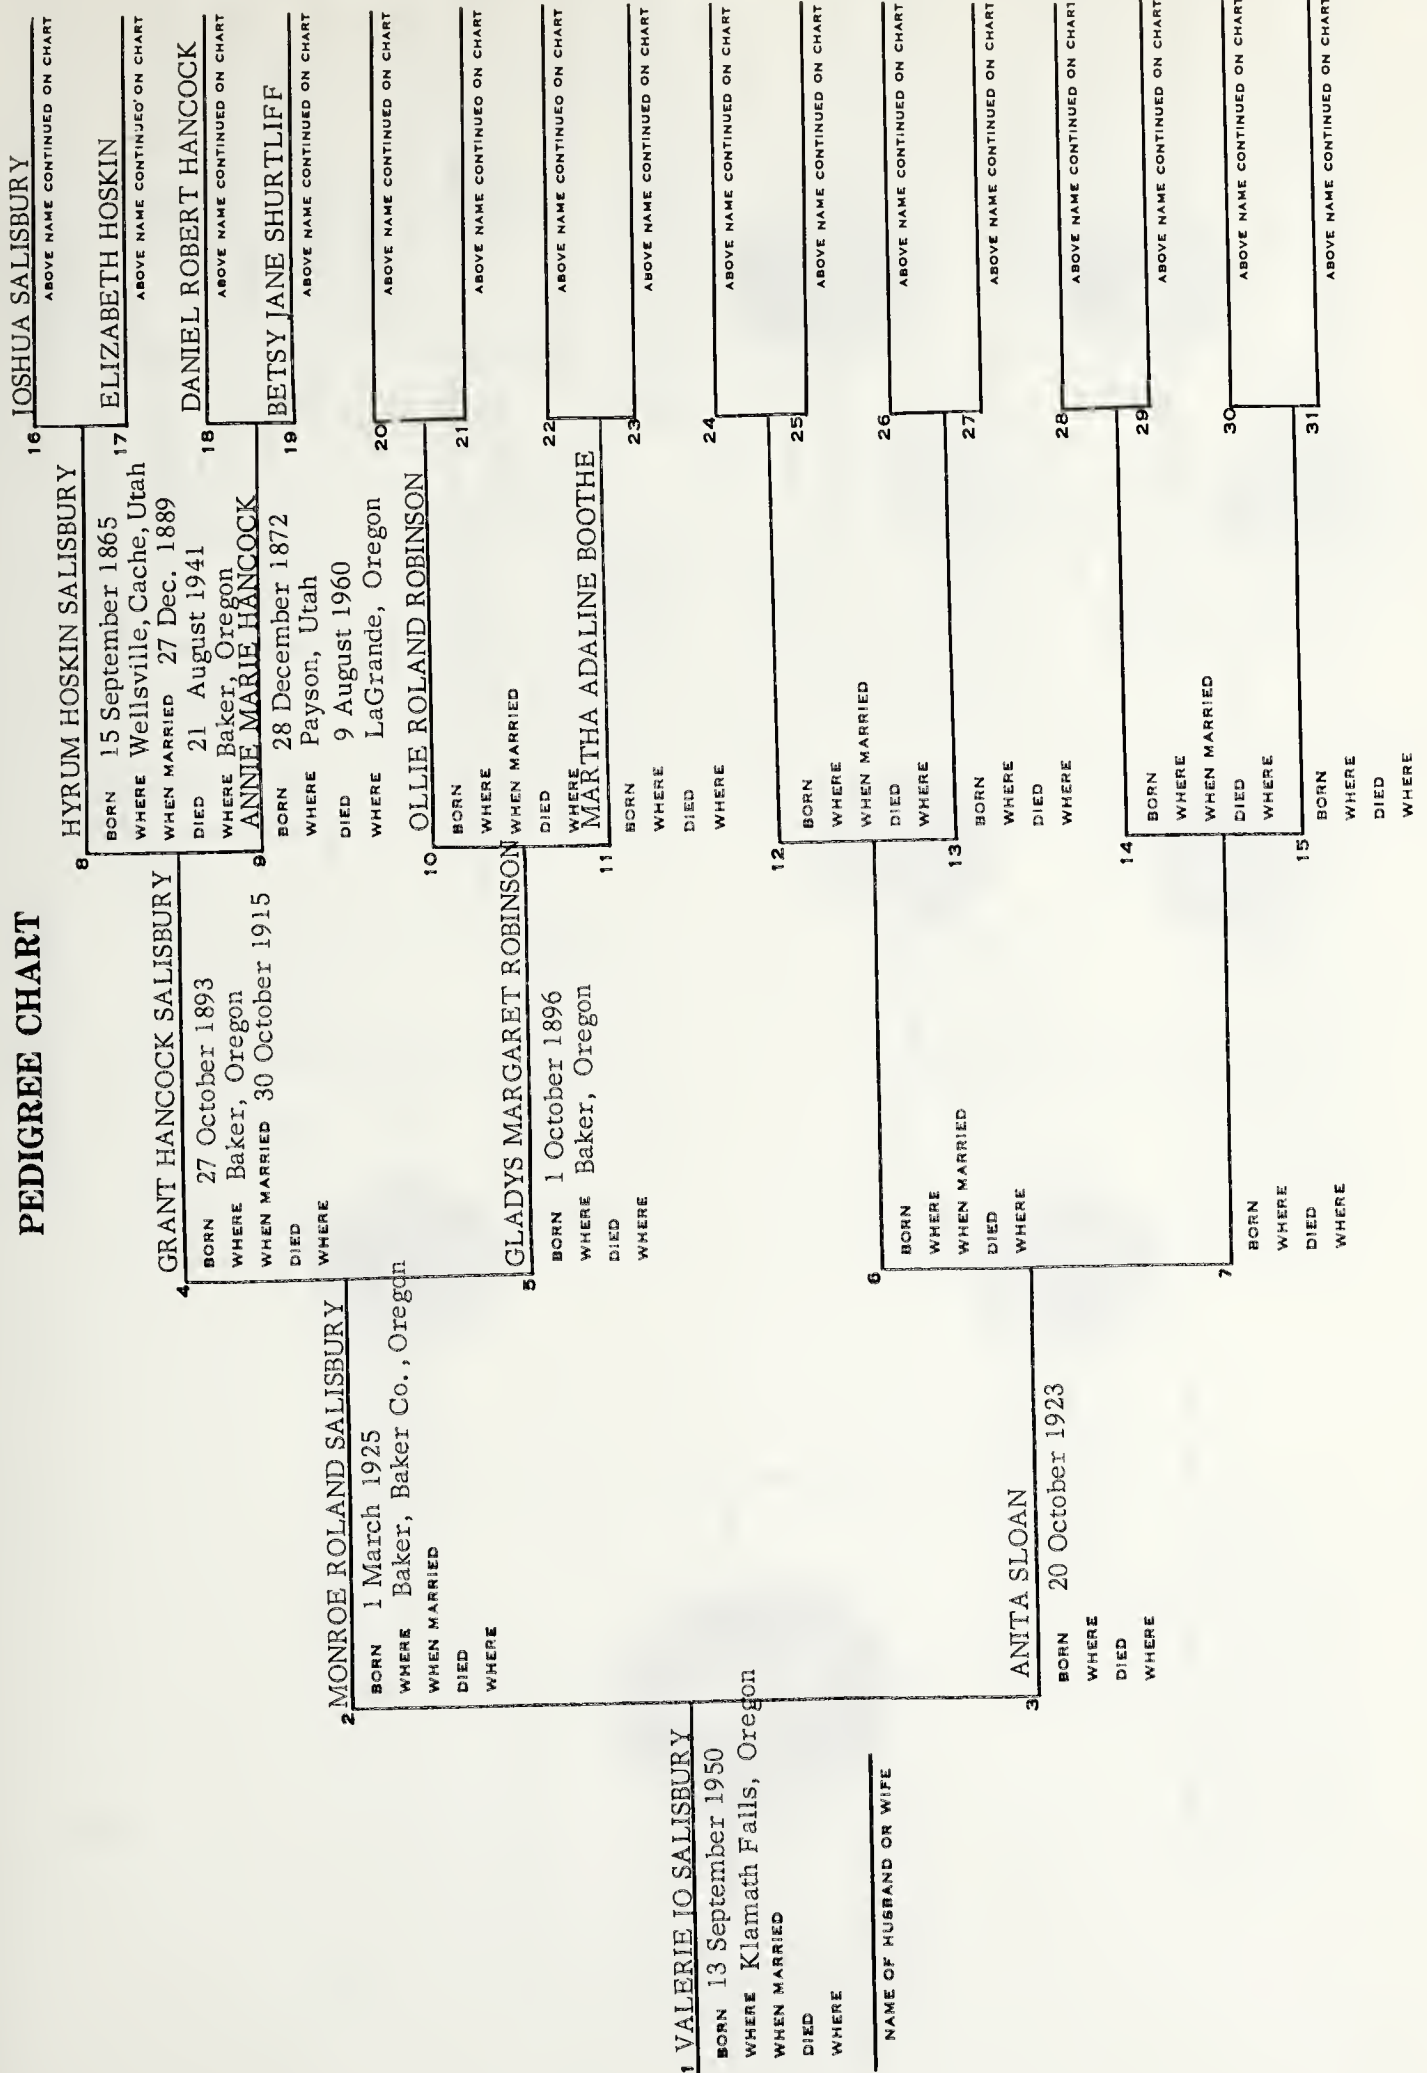

And should we die before our journey's thru,
 Happy day! All is well!
 We then are free from toil and sorrow too;
 With the just we shall dwell!
 But if our lives are spared again
 To see the Saints, their rest obtain;
 O how we'll make this chorus swell—
 All is well! All is well!

MRS. FLORENCE SALISBURY JOHNSON

THE ARROW AND THE SONG

I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For, so swiftly it flew, the sight
Could not follow it in its flight.

I breathed a song into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For who has sight so keen and strong,
That it can follow the flight of song?

Long, long afterward, in an oak
I found the arrow, still unbroke,
And the song, from beginning to end,
I found again in the heart of a friend.

--Henry W. Longfellow

The NORMAN D. SALISBURY Family - L to R- Mr. Norman D. Salisbury, Kathryn Jean Salisbury, Mrs. Eliza Hubbard Salisbury, and Norman Junior Salisbury.

THE SALISBURYS

The Darwin L. Salisbury family needs little introduction to most ward members. Although they have lived in our boundaries only a short time their friendly, outgoing personalities have acquainted them very quickly. They have opened their home for ward activities and accepted responsible church positions, Lonna serving as YWCA president and Darwin as Senior Aaronic Priesthood secretary.

Both have held a wide variety of positions in the past. Lonna is a Golden Gleaner and has much MSA experience behind her. Darwin, in addition to other jobs, has been a member of two bishoprics.

Both Lonna and Darwin come from active church families. Darwin's father, a successful dry farmer and dairymen, was a bishop for many years. Lonna's mother, Violet Hall Grix, was Speech Committee chairman of the YWCA General Board at the time of her death in 1959. Their grandfathers were missionary companions in England. The men have remained close friends, and through them the grandchildren met when Darwin was 15 and Lonna 11. After spending an afternoon together, they didn't meet again until nine years later at the Cambridge Branch in Massachusetts. Neither realized they had met before until Darwin happened to see a picture of Lonna's grandfather one night and recognized him.

Darwin spent two years in the Navy, spending part of that time at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and about four months on Guam.

They were married December 20, 1946 in the Logan Temple. Both received degrees at Utah State Agricultural College in June of 1947, Darwin in Electronics and Lonna in Home Economics Education. For the past five years Darwin has been a member of the technical staff at Space Technology Laboratories, where he recently worked on an atomic clock.

Their daughters are Susan, 12; Darla, 5; and Nancy, 4.

The DARWIN LEROY SALISBURY Family - L to R- Nancy Salisbury, Mr. Darwin LeRoy Salisbury, Susan Salisbury, Mrs. Lorna Grix Salisbury, and Darla Salisbury.

The accompanying article is taken from the Palos Verdes Ward paper of February, 1961.

CONCLUSIONS

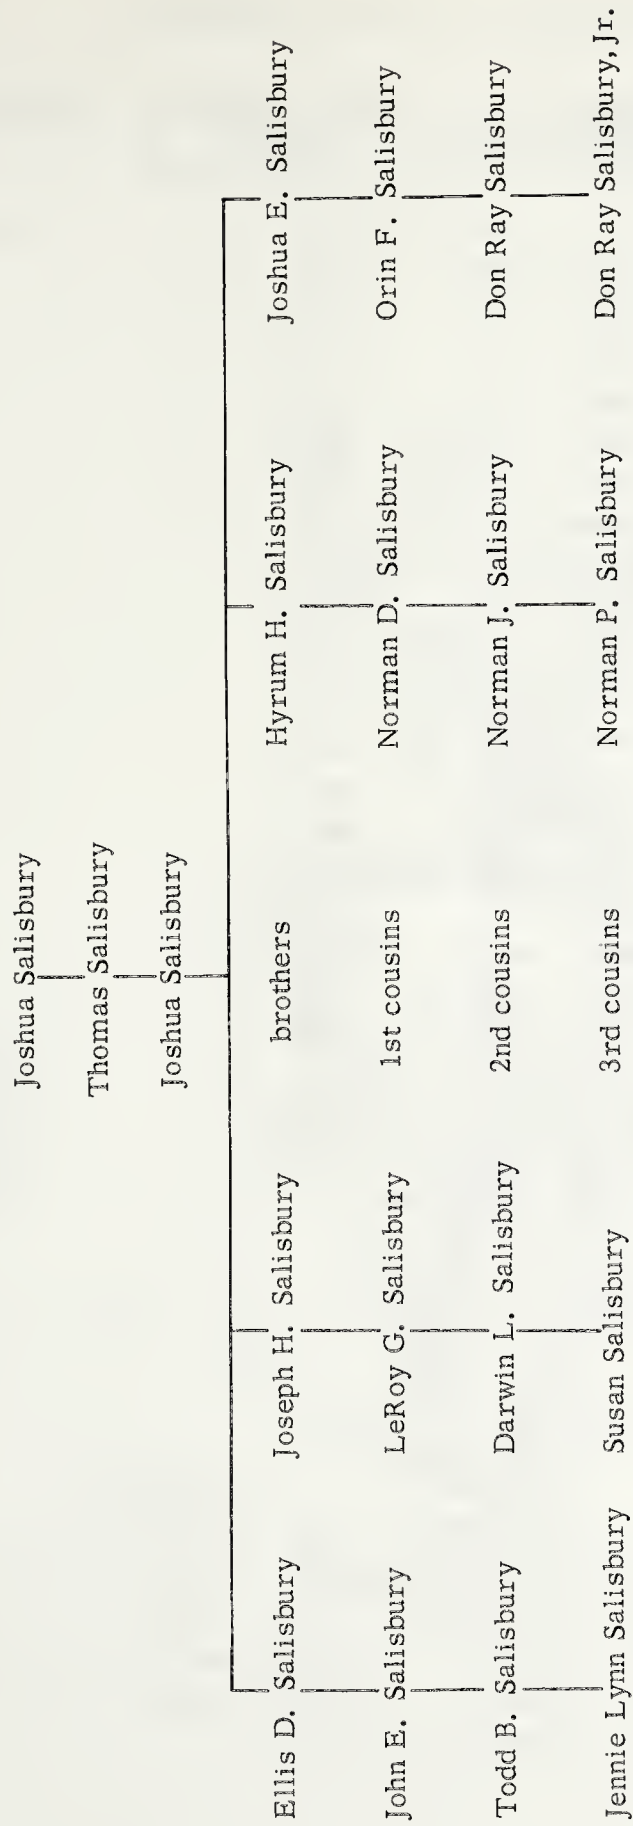

As this book began with the name Joshua Salisbury, so does it end, and in a sense, the presentation has run the perimeter of a full circle. The basic attributes of faith, industry, honesty, and courage, dominates the stalwart character of the Salisbury-Hoskin and allied families. They are a home-loving people with a foremost desire to live and help others live; to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience while allowing all others to do the same; and to render service to mankind. They have shouldered their varied civic, home and church responsibilities with dignity, and satisfaction to all.

The duties and responsibilities we owe to those of our lineage are clear. To further emulate the many virtues of our forefathers and to move forward with contagious zeal, fortified with the "Family Shield of Faith," is our goal. We can only be what we think and do. Each of the many descendants of Joshua Salisbury and allied lines has his own importance in the circle; each eloquently speaks to the rising generation by his daily actions.

The moving finger writes: And having writ, moves on:
Nor all your Piety nor wit
Shall lure it back to cancel half a Line
Nor all your tears wash out a word of it. . .

It was through Emigration Canyon that the pioneers of 1847 first entered Salt Lake Valley, and from the entrance one may look over the valley which greeted the venturesome pioneers a century ago. A commemorative "This is the Place" monument was dedicated July 24, 1947, the centennial of the pioneers' arrival in Salt Lake City, Utah. Joshua Salisbury and his family arrived here in 1860.

"EVERYONE A MISSIONARY". A REPRESENTATIVE GROUP OF THE DESCENDENTS OF JOSHUA SALISBURY WHO HAVE SERVED AS FULL-TIME MISSIONARIES FOR THE CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER-DAY SAINTS. THERE ARE MANY OTHERS NOT SHOWN HERE WHO HAVE ALSO SERVED IN THIS CAPACITY.

THE PIONEER MEMORIAL MUSEUM, a replica of the Old Salt Lake Theater, is located west of the State Capitol at the head of Main Street overlooking Salt Lake Valley, Salt Lake City, Utah. Erected by the State of Utah and the Daughters of Utah Pioneers in 1950 to house a library, manuscripts, pictures and relics. (Photo courtesy Salt Lake City Chamber of Commerce)

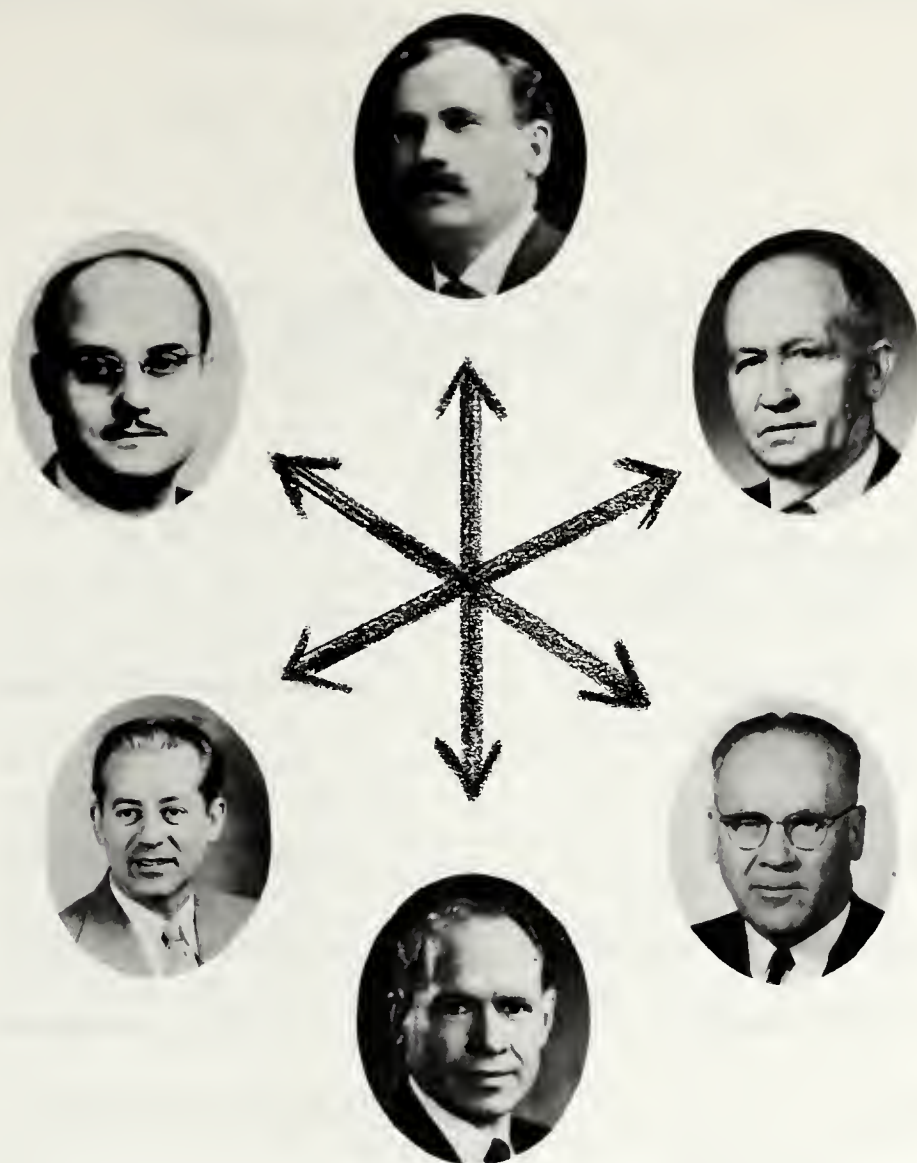

JOSHUA SALISBURY'S FAMILY ARE PATRIOTIC! The above is a representative group of his descendants who have served their country in the Armed Forces of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA during the various wars. Many others have also served in this capacity who are not shown here.

SIX SALISBURY'S----SIX 'MORMON' BISHOPS

Six descendents of JOSHUA SALISBURY who became bishops in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. Commencing from top and then clockwise: Ellis D. CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS of the Joshua Salisbury Family Organization
organized April 4, 1959

ARTICLE I

Name

The name of this organization shall be the Joshua Salisbury Family Organization.

Object

The object of this organization shall be to perpetuate the memory and genealogy of the descendants and forefathers of Joshua Salisbury by cementing ties of fellowship and kinship between living members of his family, and to maintain family unity, by frequent association in a social way; by compiling acceptable family records of his descendants and ancestors; by unifying all genealogical, historical and biographical research attendant to the compiling of an acceptable family record; by having all of the necessary temple ordinances performed in behalf of all his dead relatives; and by pooling the resources and efforts of the members of his family so that the history and genealogy of his ancestors may be passed on to all his descendants.

ARTICLE III

Membership

This organization shall be composed of descendants of Joshua Salisbury and the husband or wife of each one of these descendants. Persons under sixteen shall be registered as Junior Members. Junior Members are not permitted to vote nor hold office, and they are exempt from the payment of any dues.

Any person who is eligible may become a member of this Organization by complying with the following rules:

1. By presenting a request for membership with the Secretary of the Organization, which request is to be accompanied by the following items:
 - a. A pedigree chart showing his lineage from Joshua Salisbury.
 - b. A family group sheet of the applicant's own immediate family properly compiled.
 - c. A brief historical sketch of his immediate family.
2. Payment of the annual dues, which shall be made on or before the day of the annual meeting or reunion.

ARTICLE IV

Meetings

The meetings of this Organization shall consist of an annual meeting, and such other meetings or reunions as may be called by the executive committee. The purpose of the annual meeting will be to elect officers for the ensuing year; however, failure to hold the annual meeting or the election shall not disorganize this association. The annual meeting shall be held at a time and place determined by the vote of a majority of the members of the Organization present at the preceding annual meeting. The annual meeting may be supplemented by such other business and general activities as may be desired by the executive committee which will assist in the furtherance of the objectives of the Organization.

ARTICLE V

Officers

The officers of this Organization shall consist of a President, two or more Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, a Treasurer, a Genealogist, a Historian and a Family Representative. The offices of Secretary and of Treasurer may be combined and vested in one person, at any given election, if desired by the majority of the members of the family present at the meeting. Likewise the offices of the Family Representative and Genealogist may also be combined and vested in one person upon proper authorization and sustaining vote of the family. The officers shall be elected at the annual meeting of the Organization and their term of office shall begin at the close of the business session at which they are elected. The term of office shall be one year or the period between the annual meetings. All officers shall be eligible for re-election. It is not recommended, however, that the Historian, Genealogist, and Family Representative be changed frequently, unless there are compelling reasons for the family to take such action.

The President, Vice-Presidents, Secretary and Treasurer shall constitute the Executive Committee, and it shall be their duty as a committee to represent the Organization during the interval and between annual meetings, to carry out its resolutions, to recommend the time and place of the annual meeting to determine the order of business and the program for the annual meeting, to fill official vacancies until the next annual meeting, and to perform such other work as may be delegated to them by the Organization.

ARTICLE VI

Committees

The members of this Organization shall elect all standing committees, which shall include a Committee on Socials and a Committee on Temple Appointments. These committees shall serve for a period of one year. All committee members are eligible for re-election. The duties of these committees will be as provided in the By-laws.

ARTICLE VII

Amendments

The Articles and subsequent Amendments of the Constitution of this Organization may be amended by a majority vote of the members voting at the annual meeting, provided at least three-fourths of the members of the Family Organization eligible to vote are present at the annual meeting at the time of the voting.

BY-LAWS

SECTION I: All matters brought before the Executive Committee as authorized in the Constitution of this Organization shall be determined by a majority vote of the members of the Executive Committee, and in the case of a tie vote, the presiding officer shall have the casting vote.

SECTION II: It shall be the duty of the President to preside at all meetings of this Organization and of the Executive Committee and exercise a general supervision over this Organization. It shall be his duty to call special meetings of the Executive Committee for the purpose of carrying on the work of this Organization during the period between Annual Meetings. He shall submit to the Organization, at its annual meeting, a report of all the official acts of the Executive Committee, together with such other information and recommendations as he may deem of importance. He shall appoint all temporary committees, and he shall be ex-officio a member of all committees.

SECTION III. It shall be the duty of the Vice-Presidents to assist and counsel the President in all matters pertaining to the activities of the Organization. It shall be their duty to act in his stead in the order of precedence if the President is for any reason unable or unwilling to preside. If the President should die or resign, the First or Senior Vice-President shall call a meeting of the Executive Committee for the purpose of filling the vacancy until the next annual meeting.

SECTION IV: It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep accurate minutes of the proceedings of all the meetings of the Organization and of the Executive Committee. He shall keep a complete register of the members of this Organization, together with their places of residence. The Secretary shall send out notices in advance of all annual meetings, and shall perform such other secretarial duties as the Organization or Executive Committee may direct.

SECTION V: It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to receive and keep an accurate account of all dues, contributions and other monies received by and in behalf of the Organization. All expenditures and disbursements for and in behalf of the Organization shall be through the Treasurer and only on a written order from the President.

SECTION VI: It is the duty of the Genealogist to supervise and direct the compilation of complete and accurate genealogical records of all ancestors and descendants of Joshua Salisbury, and to prepare and make ready names of deceased relatives and ancestors of the family for temple work. The Genealogist and Family Representative may be one person.

If the responsibility of the Genealogist is too great for one person to fulfil alone, the Executive Committee may provide assistant genealogists for the work, which assistants are to function with the Genealogist as a committee, the Genealogist being the chairman thereof. The Executive Committee may also engage the services of professional researchers or genealogists, who are not members of the Organization, or authorize and direct the Family Genealogist to make such arrangements.

SECTION VII: It shall be the duty of the Historian to compile the biographical record, family history and personal record sheets representing all the family units in the Joshua Salisbury Family. An effort should be made to prepare life sketches of the progenitors of Joshua Salisbury, also. If assistance is needed, the Executive Committee may provide assistant historians for the work, which assistants will then function with the Historian as a committee, the Historian being the chairman thereof.

SECTION VIII: It is the assigned duty of the person chosen to be the Family Representative in the performance of temple work, if he is also the Family Genealogist, to supervise the genealogical research conducted in behalf of the family, and to send in names to the Records Office on family lines to be cleared for temple work, and to submit names for permanent filing in the Church Records Archives. If someone other than the Family Representative has been designated and functions as the Genealogist for the family, the representative will then have no official duties to perform in his capacity of Family Representative. His or her name, however, will be used on all family group forms submitted for examination and clearance at the Records Office, in order that the relationship of the Representative to the deceased can be established.

SECTION IX: It shall be the duty of the Chairman and Committee on Temple Appointments to encourage, stimulate and promote attendance by members of this Organization at the temples.

SECTION X: It shall be the duty of the Chairman and Committee on Socials to arrange programs for all family organization socials and entertainments, and to work out all details for such gatherings. This committee shall act as the reception committee at the annual meeting, and all other meetings and reunions being held for the entire membership of this Organization.

SECTION XI: It shall be the duty of the Genealogist, Historian and the Chairmen of all standing committees to prepare annually a report of all the activities of their respective committees, which report is to be submitted at the annual meeting.

SECTION XII: The annual dues per member of this Organization shall be $1.00. Additional contributions may be made according to the need of the Organization for research and temple work. The amounts of these contributions shall be in accordance with the contributor's own volition and ability to assist financially. Dues are payable on or before the annual meeting each year.

SECTION XIII: The By-laws of the Joshua Salisbury Family Organization may be amended, altered or added to by a majority vote of the members voting at the annual meeting.

YOU TELL ME I AM GETTING OLD. . . .

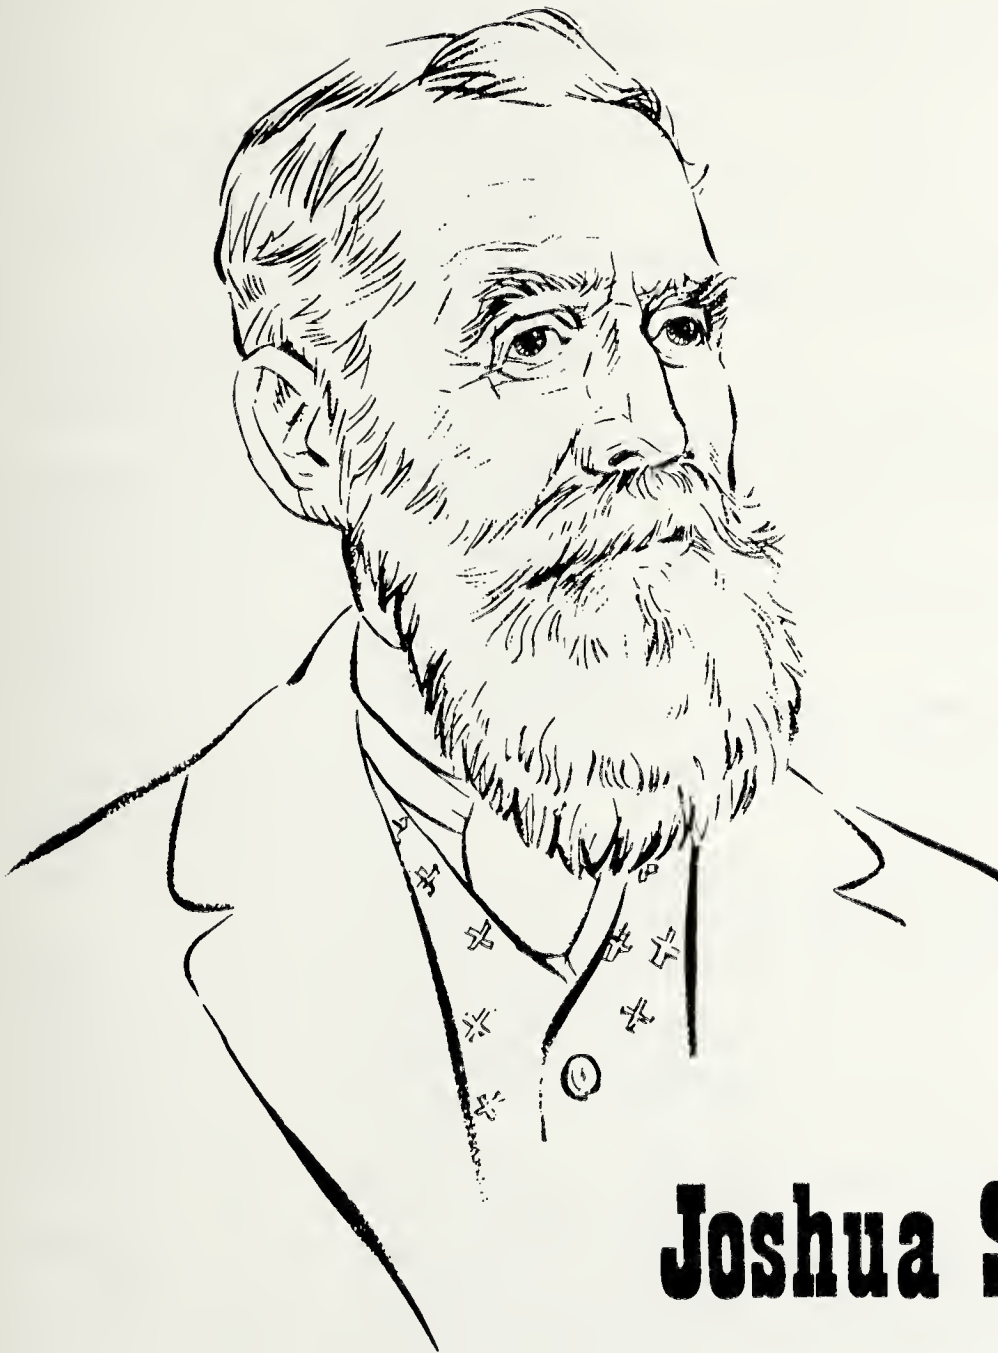

You tell me I am getting old.
I tell you that's not so!
The "house" I live in is worn out, and that, of course, I know.
It's been in use a long, long while; it's weathered many a gale;
I'm really not surprised you think it's getting somewhat frail.

The color changing on the roof, the windows getting dim,
The walls a bit transparent and looking rather thin,
The foundation not so steady as once it used to be ----
My "house" is getting shaky, but my "house" isn't ME!

My few short years can't make me old. I feel I'm in my youth.
Eternity lies just ahead, a life of joy and truth.
I'm going to live forever, there; life will go on--it's grand!
You tell me I am getting old? You just don't understand.

The dweller in my little "house" is young and bright and gay;
Just starting on a life to last throughout eternal day.
You only see the outside, which is all that most folks see.
You tell me I am getting old?
You've mixed my "house" with ME!
